Georgia Income Taxes Show Increase of $326,618.11

U.S. TAX COLLECTOR REPORTS POINTERS TO NEW PROSPERITY

Figures Given Out for 1925 Expected To Be Exceeded by Those for 1926.

POSTAL RECEIPTS TRIPLE IN 15 YEARS

Statistics Showing Amazing Growth of Business Are Announced by Postmaster E. K. Large.

Georgia's income tax payment for the second quarter of 1926 shows an increase of $326,618.11 over the same period in 1925.

This was the announcement Wednesday of Josiah T. Rose, collector of internal revenue, who telegraphed the information to the internal revenue department in Washington.

The sensational increase is a striking illustration of the state's basic foundation for progress and prosperity, indicating a condition of financial well-being and profitable investment generally.

The increase shows the rise in the state's actual income in 1925 over that of 1924 as income taxes are paid the year following that in which they are earned. Though no definite estimate of the 1926 income of Georgia can be made, every indication points to new records in all lines.

State Forges Ahead.

Serving to emphasize the increase reported Wednesday by Mr. Rose is the fact that income tax rates have been lowered and exemptions increased broadly during the past year. Despite the fact that drastic reductions in returns have resulted, the state forged ahead of its old record based on higher tax rates and lower exemption levels.

No estimate of what effect the reduction in surtax has made in Georgia was given by Mr. Rose, but he declared that it would likely amount to nearly 25 per cent. This result, coupled with the fact that thousands were made exempt from income taxes by the increase in exemption levels, points to a sweeping state of prosperity in Georgia.

Pointer to Prosperity.

"The great increase in income taxes," Mr. Rose declared, "has nothing to do with the actual wealth of the state, but means its income was increased. It is in reality a pointer to the general upward trend of business conditions and without doubt the present year will show even greater increases."

Although business conditions throughout the northern part of the state were not regarded as profitable by business men in 1925, due to the drouth, bigger and better crops were made throughout the southern part of the state. These two factors acted as a balance, Mr. Rose said.

Little rush was reported in the office of the internal revenue depart-

UPSHAW INDORSES TILSON AS JUDGE IN NEW DISTRICT

Several Georgia Congressmen To Appear Before Senate Body in Answer to Third Invitation

Washington, June 16.—(Special.)—Several members of the Georgia delegation in the house have decided to answer a third invitation from the senate judiciary committee and will appear before it Thursday to give their views on the nomination of W. J. Tilson, Atlanta lawyer, as judge of the new middle judicial district.

Representative Bell, dean of the delegation, is authority for this information, saying that several members would respond to the third request made Wednesday, a more formal invitation than any yet issued, since it came by vote of the committee after the republican floor leader of the house, John Q. Tilson, brother of the nominee had made a personal appeal Wednesday morning to the committee to extend a request. It is believed that a few of the members will not respond.

Committee Meets.

When the committee met Wednesday, only one member of the Georgia delegation was present in ansker to the second invitation. Representative Upshaw, of Atlanta, who indorsed Tilson and praised him "as one of the noblest men I have ever known."

Representative Cox, of Camilla, representing the second district, appeared Monday in answer to an invitation that day extended on suggestion of Senator Gillett, Massachusetts, republican, who said he had heard that eight members of the Georgia house delegation were favorable to the appointment of the Atlanta lawyer. 225 Graduate From Georgia In '26 Class

Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover Gives Baccalaureate Address.

Athens, Ga., June 16.—(AP)—The educational system of the United States has today more than ever become the guardian of the traditions of the republic and of national ideals against those forces which would undermine them, Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, said today in delivering the baccalaureate address at the 125th annual graduating exercises of the University of Georgia.

A class of 225 young men and women graduated and honorary degrees were awarded to nine others, among them several prominent Georgians.

Those awarded honorary degrees were Dean William Sikes, of Georgia Tech, Atlanta, Sc. D.; Rev. George Harrison, Pensacola, Fla., and Rev. Howard Melish, of New York city, D. D.; Dr. Frank K. Boland, Atlanta, Sc. D.; James J. Connor, Cartersville, LL. D.; Arthur Heyman, Atlanta, LL. D.; Andrew J. Ritchie, Rabun Gap, D. Ped; Mrs. John K. Ottley, Atlanta, and Professor George P. Butler, of Augusta, LL. D.

5,000 Present.

The graduation exercises were held in Woodruff hall, and approximately 5,000 people attended, placing it among the most brilliant commencement events ever held at the university. Mr. Hoover arrived in Athens early this morning and was met at the train by a delegation of leading citizens. He was honor guest at a breakfast in the home of Chancellor C. M. Snelling to which were invited members of the university community and other citizens. At noon he was honor guest at the State College of Agriculture cafeteria.

The program in Woodruff hall was opened by prayer delivered by Dr. John D. Mell, president of the Georgia Baptist convention and alumnus of the university.

Mr. Hoover's speech was along the lines of education and its relation to the preservation of the country in all lines of progress, politically, agriculturally, scientifically, industrially and otherwise. He pictured the educational system as a giant machine in control of the mind of the childhood and

COMMITTEE CALLS WAYNE B. WHEELER IN PRIMARY PROBE

Head of Anti-Saloon League Summoned To Testify in Probe of Slush Funds in Pennsylvania.

Washington, June 16.—(AP)—Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, is to be summoned before the senate campaign fund committee.

In directing that a subpoena be issued for Mr. Wheeler, Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, said he probably would be placed on the stand tomorrow.

Since the senate investigation of the Pennsylvania republican primary began Mr. Wheeler has made formal charges of the expenditures of large sums for the Vare-Biedelman ticket by the "brewery and liquor interests" in the Keystone state. He will be questioned on the basis of this statement and also with reference to expenditures if any by the Anti-Saloon league in that campaign.

Senator Reed will now have the opportunity, denied him at the recent prohibition hearings, to examine Mr. Wheeler with respect to the expenditures of the Anti-Saloon league to influence senatorial elections.

Dithrich Called.

The committee, turning again to the Pepper-Fisher campaign, called W. Heber Dithrich, chairman of the committee in Allegheny county. He said he took that place at the behest of W. L. Mellon, and that his committee had made up a budget of $160,620 which had been approvd by Mellon and others.

"I think we exceeded that budget by about $40,000," Dithrich said, "due largely to a decision to advertise in the newspapers after other candidates had begun such advertising."

With bills yet to be received from two newspapers this account now exceeds $35,000. Besides those two ac-

Policewoman Fired By Police Board In Clean-Up Move

Holcombe Named Acting Chief, Fain Acting Assistant, Pending Chief Connally's Recovery.

Miss Martha Dupree, member of the woman's bureau of the Atlanta police department, was summarily dropped from the service by the police committee of council Wednesday night as the first step of what was regarded unofficially as a general "house cleaning" of the bureau.

This was followed immediately by an order to combine the woman's bureau with the matron's ward, and headquarters will be established for the combined departments in the matron's ward on the third floor of police station.

No specific charge was made against Miss Dupree, but it was rumored that she had criticized police department heads in addresses to civic organizations over the city.

Alderman William B. Hartsfield, chairman of the police board, was the only member of the committee to voice objection to the discharge of Miss Dupree, and the motion to oust her was passed over his protest.

In the future all employees of the consolidated "force" will receive instructions from the chief of police. Matrons are Mrs. George C. Bullard, Mrs. Nannie Shellnut and Mrs. Mamie Heard.

Holcombe Acting Chief.

Senior Captain A. J. Holcombe was elevated to the post of acting chief of police and given the right to name his assistant. He named Captain Grover C. Fain, next in line of seniority as acting assistant chief of police. This order will remain in effect until Acting Chief of Police C. P. Connally is able to resume his duties, following injuries received Wednesday in an automobile crash.

The committee voted to ask the finance committee of city council to provide funds for employment of four

JONES AND GUNN LEAD TWO FIELDS IN TEST FOR OPEN

Bobby Ahead of Golfers at Sunningdale, While Watts Ties With Hagen for Lead at St. Anne's.

London, June 16.—(AP)—Bobby Jones, with a record-smashing 66 for the unusually difficult Sunningdale course, today finished far in front of the Americans—and everybody else—in the first of two qualifying rounds of the British open golf championship.

Jones led the field of southern district qualifiers at Sunningdale, while his fellow Atlantan, young Watts Gunn, with a sterling 72, tied Walter Hagen for first place honors in the central section at St. Anne's. No Americans competed in the northern section at Western Gails, Scotland.

Jones' achievement overshadowed the brilliant earlier scores at Sunningdale and St. Anne's. At the former, Archie Compston and Fred Robson broke the course record with 69.

Joe Kirkwood also had his share of attention with 71. At the tenth hole he employed one of his famous trick shots. His ball was close to the roots of an old tree and finding it impossible to play except left-handed, Kirkwood turned over his right-handed niblick and struck with the toe of the club and got safely on the green.

Mehlhorn Breaks Club.

Bill Mehlhorn broke a brassie over his knee after cutting a shot with it. He had a tantalizing time on the greens, after repeatedly getting the ball on perfectly he simply could not run it down.

Other amateurs and professionals in the United States trailed along within a reasonable distance of the leaders. None of them was hopelessly out of the running, although the prevailing cards of 80 which looked good enough

A. H. Thompson of LaGrange Urged To Run for Governor

LaGrange, June 16.—(Special.)—Arthur H. Thompson, prominent attorney here, admitted today that he had received a deluge of letters, telegrams, telephone calls and other requests from friends urging him to enter the race for the governorship of Georgia. During the past week, it became known today, Mr. Thompson has received encouragement from all parts of the fourth district and many letters from other parts of the state urging him to make the race.

As a member of the present state senate Mr. Thompson has opposed the highway bond bill solely on the ground that what Georgia needed more than a bond issue for highways at this time was a reorganization of the state highway department so as to assure a more economical administration of the affairs of the department. He held that hundreds of thousands of dollars could be saved for the state by a more efficient administration of the affairs of this department, and only a few weeks ago mailed to all parts of the state a pamphlet treating the subject from this standpoint.

Mr. Thompson is impressed with the idea that with the reorganization of the state highway department along these lines the state can proceed to complete its highway system without a bond issue, but that unless the department is reorganized on this basis it will be impossible to obtain a complete system of highways for many years.

That Mr. Thompson has under consideration the matter of submitting the use of his name for the gubernatorial nomination there is no doubt, and a definite statement from him, one way or another, may be expected within the next few days.

Upon being asked about the matter by a representative of The Constitution he declined to discuss it further than to admit that he had received many petitions and letters urging him to enter the race.

CHIEF IS HURLED UNDERNEATH AUTO WHEN CAR IS HIT

Milk Truck Plunges Into Officer's Automobile at Corner of Trinity and Central.

RECOVERY SEEN BY PHYSICIANS

Ten Others Are Victims in Series of Crashes in City During Wednesday.

A pall was cast over the entire Atlanta police department Wednesday when Acting Chief C. P. Connally was injured seriously as the result of an automobile crash at Central and Trinity avenues while he was leading a police campaign to check speeding and traffic accidents.

He was rushed to Grady hospital by a passing motorist and ushered into the X-ray room, where physicians worked hastily to determine the exact extent of his injuries.

Following a careful examination it was learned that Chief Connally had suffered a bruise over the left eye, a laceration on the back of the head, two probably fractured ribs and a strain in the small of the back. He regained consciousness shortly after his arrival at the hospital and attending physicians stated that unless unforeseen complications set in the chief would recover.

Chief Connally was hurtled violently to the pavement from the automobile in which he was riding, driven by his son, Alan, 17, who was accompanied by another son, Ben, 10 years old. The automobile collided with a heavy milk truck operated, police stated, by Charlie Dodson, 15-year-old negro. In the truck with Dodson at the time of the accident was Fred Mitchell, another youth, of 28 Dewey street. Both were arrested, Mitchell being detained at police station and Dodson being sent to the juvenile home. Both are being held without bond pending the outcome of Chief Connally's condition. The two Connally boys were uninjured.

The automobile in which Chief Connally and his two sons were riding was going east on Trinity avenue. They approached Central avenue at a moderate rate of speed, Alan Connally said, when he discovered the onrushing motor truck, which, the chief's son said, was traveling at a high rate of speed.

"I turned our automobile in an effort to get out of the truck's path, but the speed was too great—it was upon us too quickly," Alan Connally said.

In addition to Chief Connally, one of the leading factors in the drive to halt accidents in Atlanta, accide

Your copy of The Constitution arrives in the morning with all the worth-while news of the world and all of the worth-while offerings of the merchants of Atlanta for the day.

During the cool hours of the morning, before the distractions, entertainment and amusement of the afternoon, is the time when most people read the news and study the advertisements.

Few people of the present day take time to read in the afternoon or evening, and that is one reason why The Constitution goes into more homes in Atlanta and suburbs than any other Atlanta newspaper.

4 WORKMEN FALL 3 STORIES BELOW

Falling a distance of 3 stories when the scaffolding on which they were working gave way Wednesday morning, three workmen on the new R. H. Macey building, on Peachtree street, were rushed to the Georgia Baptist hospital in a serious condition.

A fourth, whose name was given as Robert Thomas, was able to leave the hospital after treatment. His injuries consisted of bad bruises and cuts.

The three seriously hurt are: R. B. Robertson, J. N. Ashley and J. L. Bell. They were carried to the hospital in the private ambulances of Awtry & Lowndes and Greenberg & Bond.

Details as to what caused the accident were not learned. It was reported that entanglement with fixtures of the second floor broke the fall of the men and probably prevented instant death for the quartet.

Arkansan Urges Strong Coalition To Defeat Tariff

Washington, June 16.—(AP)—Senate debate on the McNary farm bill developed today into diagnosis of the farmers' troubles, which were laid to the tariff, so-called "education" and a governmental plundering system.

Discussion centered mostly on the tariff as the chief difficulty and Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the democratic leader, recommended a coalition of the democrats and the wheat growing west against the tariff.

"I am going to suggest to the democrats in good faith," he said, "to join hands with the wheat farmers of the northwest to tear down this tariff wall and stop this plundering system that has disgusted the farmers of the nation."

Pointing a finger at western republicans, Senator Robinson declared:

"You and I can agree upon a tariff that could save the farmers and other consumers of this country billions of dollars annually that now goes to the trusts and monopolies, such as the Aluminum Company of America. If you want to form a coalition, stop threatening and let us act."

He charged supporters of the McNary bill with "trying to fool the farmers and attempting to lead them into the camp of the plunderers and leaving them there."

Secretary Mellon was assailed particularly by the democratic leader for his opposition to the McNary bill. The secretary's letter to house members on the measure was a "damning illustration of the selfishness of those who believe in laws for one class to which he belongs and oppose another because it does not include himself."

Scores Mellon.

"He undoubtedly speaks for the administration," Senator Robinson continued. "He is recognized as the most powerful factor in the councils of the republican party, but he is not content to submit his advice to cabinet meetings, but has voluntarily given an expression of his views to congress. The time has come when you ought to repudiate Secretary Mellon and all he stands for in economic and political life."

Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, said he had had serious doubts about the economic phase of the bill, but thought the Mellon letter made the best argument for its soundness he had heard, that is, in the protective tariff is sound.

"If he is correct in his argument," added the senator, "we are simply applying the tariff to the farmer."

Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, expressed the view that while something should be done to compensate the farmer the equalization fee as embraced in the McNary bill unquestionably was unconstitutional. The logical and sensible way, he added, is to scale down the tariff.

Senator Heflin, democrat, Alabama, said the tariff was "sucking the blood out of the farmers," and Senator Dill democrat, Washington, declared the farmers of his state practically were unanimously for the bill and he favored it because it would permit them to try out a plan which he believed was economically sound.

FIGHTING EDITOR FREED BY JUDGE

East Las Vegas, N. M., June 16.—(AP)—Carl C. Magee, Albuquerque editor, was freed of a charge of manslaughter by a directed verdict of the court tonight.

District Judge Luis E. Armijo granted the motion for a directed verdict a short time after the opening of the night session of court.

Magee shot and killed John B. Lasseter, a state highway employe, last August during a fight with former District Judge David J. Leahy, a political enemy.

The granting of the motion came at the end of a two-day trial during which the prosecution introduced the testimony of eight witnesses, including Leahy.

"It was the only thing the court could do," declared District Attorney Chester H. Hunker, the prosecutor.

Andrews Favors Using of Guns By Coast Guard

Washington, June 16.—(AP)—Defending the use of guns by guard officers in rum patrol work, Assistant Secretary Andrews, in charge of prohibition enforcement, gave assurance today that firing on water craft would be resorted to only in emergencies and when there was no apparent danger to the lives of those aboard.

Mr. Andrews said he had no official information about the shots fired on the yacht Aloha, off Watch Hill, yesterday.

He pointed out that standing orders were issued sometime ago directing coast guard officers to be most careful in the use of their armament.

"Our men are charged with the protection of shipping and the enforcement of the law," the secretary said today, "and their problem is difficult, to say the least. They have the unpleasant task of stopping perhaps as many as 1,000 vessels a week. If an apparent rum runner ignores their commands, they must shoot, so long as life is not endangered."

General Andrews expressed little fear of coast guard officers shooting promiscously in the midst of surrounding pleasure craft.

Students Given Term at Joliet In Girl Attack

Sycamore, Ill., June 16.—(AP)—Leonard Rich, Stanley Hurt, and Emerson Wilson, former students of Northern Illinois State Teachers college at Dekalb, who pleaded guilty to a criminal attack on a co-ed, tonight were sentenced to serve 13 years each in the Pontiac reformatory by Judge William J. Fulton.

The youths, sons of well-to-do farmers, testified in a hearing in hope of offering circumstances in mitigation of their punishment.

Their stories of an automobile ride last April 11 during which the attack occurred coincided with the testimony of the girl as to details of the trip itself, but disputed her statements regarding the attacks.

Rich said the three boys invited the co-ed and a companion to go for a ride. He said none of the party had anything to drink.

The boys were taken to jail tonight, and will probably start for the reformatory tomorrow.

Americans Begin Race To Set New Globe-Circling Record

:: EVANS AND WELLS HEADING FOR FRANCE ::

(Copyright, 1926, By North American Newspaper Alliance.)

New York, June 16.—Edward S. Evans, Detroit millionaire, and Linton Wells, newspaperman, racing to establish a new record time for circling the globe, were well out on the Atlantic today, heading for Cherbourg on the Aquitania. They climbed aboard the big Cunarder at 2:30, eastern standard time, this morning, from coast guard patrol boat No. 164, which whisked them across the bay to Ambrose lightship, after their official start at 12:30 o'clock before the Pulitzer building.

The transfer from the little cutter to the great hulk which loomed mountainously above it was made in a nasty sea. Risking a bath in the chilly Atlantic, Evans seized a rope which was thrown down and swung to the ladder along the ship's side. He was followed by Wells, who dangled out from the ship's side to wave a last greeting to the representatives of The Constitution and the North American Newspaper Alliance and the newspapermen aboard the cutter.

A moment later the great hive of lights began to move slowly and evenly through the lashing seas. By their race from the Battery, cutting across the course of the Cunarder, which left its dock at midnight, the two racers had saved 30 minutes on their schedule.

In order to break the world record of John Henry Mears—35 days, 21 hours, 35 minutes and 4-5 of a second—for circling the globe the two must return to the curb before the World building before July 21, at 10:06 o'clock in the afternoon, eastern standard time.

They will attempt to do from five to eight days better than this. This morning's dash by automobile and cutter was preliminary to a series of almost uninterrupted dashes by airplane, boat and train, continuing for from 27 to 35 days, of which little more than one day altogether, will be spent in transfers and pauses between transports.

Mayor Walter A. Sims Wednesday paid the entrance fee of $50 required by the democratic executive committee of Fulton county for qualification as a candidate for congress, subject to the primary of September 8.

He will be opposed in the race by Congressman W. D. Upshaw and L. J. Steele, of Decatur. Mr. Steele qualified Tuesday and Congressman Upshaw is expected to send in his entrance fee within the next few days. Entry books close at noon, June 23.

Mayor Sims, who is serving his fourth consecutive year as mayor of Atlanta, plans to conduct an intensive campaign beginning at an early date.

Frank A. Hooper, Jr., prominent Atlanta attorney and member of the state legislature, Wednesday qualified for reelection by paying an entrance fee of $100. To date he has no opposition.

BRITISH EXTEND TIME FOR VETERANS TO FILE CLAIMS

Washington, June 16.—(AP)—Americans who served in the British army during the world war have until August 31, 1928, to file pension or disability claims with the British government.

This information was conveyed to the veterans bureau today by the British ministry of pensions, along with notice that a suboffice had been opened in Ottawa, Canada, to handle pension ratings and authorize medical treatment.

CONSCRIPTION LOOMS BEFORE PEACE BODY

Geneva, June 16.—(AP)—The problem of conscription and the possibility of France and other nations with big armies contributing to the cause of disarmament by restricting conscription loomed up as a big factor at the disarmament meeting today. France, which submitted a memorandum to the conference of experts, insisted that the question involved is essentially political, and therefore must be handled by the full commission or an eventual conference, but did not declare herself opposed to its consideration.

Interest has been created by the fact that France at least deems the limitation of trained reserves as a theoretical possibility. France declared that the limitation of trained reserves may affect their number and quality and the rapidity with which they can be employed, but pointed out that limitation means in the case of conscription that a country is prohibited from training all its able-bodied men.

This, said the French memorandum, raises the question of either abolishing compulsory military service altogether or of calling into service a restricted number of men liable to conscription.

The problem has created particular interest because of the German demand that trained reserves be limited, even if not deemed peace-time armaments. Germany, whose army is restricted by the Versailles treaty, wants her neighbors' forces brought down to a level with hers.

RADIO ANNOUNCER SUED FOR DIVORCE DUE TO LATE HOURS

Cincinnati, Ohio, June 16.—(AP)—How late a radio announcer who works at night may stay out will be decided in the court of domestic relations when the suit of Edith Michaux Greene, soprano, formerly prominent in Houston, Texas, society, against Paule Greene, director and announcer of station WSAI, is heard before Judge Charles L. Hoffman. In her suit, which became public today, Mrs. Greene charges her husband stayed out late at night, beyond the requirements of his work, and that when questioned about his absence, "he either made no reply or answered sarcastically."

Mrs. Greene is the daughter of P. W. Michaux, prominent cotton broker of Houston. Mr. Greene also formerly resided in Houston.

BELGIAN QUEEN'S LOCKS UNSHORN, COUNT DECLARES

Brussels, June 16.—(AP)—Queen Elizabeth's hair is not shingled, bobbed or cropped. Count P. De Lan-oy, grand master of the house of the queen of the Belgians, has issued an official denial of the insistent rumors that Belgium's charming queen has had her hair cut off, to conform with the prevailing fashions.

"If her majesty looks as though her hair were shingled," says the master of the royal house, "that is because of the skill of her hairdresser, who is able to make the queen's hair appear as if it were cut. But no scissors have touched her hair."

When Queen Elizabeth recently visited Copenhagen, the report was circulated that Queen Alexandrine admired the Belgian sovereign's short hair, so much so that she, too, had her hair cut.

EASTERN TIME URGED FOR CITY BY CHAMBER BODY

The Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, through its board of directors, went on record Wednesday afternoon as favoring the adoption of eastern standard time for Atlanta.

In a resolution adopted by the board the chamber offered co-operation to the Atlanta Federation of Trades and other bodies in the movement to have city council declare eastern time the standard for Atlanta.

NORTH GEORGIA EPWORTH LEAGUE MEETS FOR WEEK

Oxford, Ga., June 16.—(Special.) Approximately 400 Epworth leaguers of the North Georgia conference have assembled for a week's session on the historic grounds of Emory academy at Oxford, Ga.

This is the sixth annual assembly and about the twenty-fifth or thirtieth annual gathering. The theme of the conference for this year is "Youth for Christ and the Church." Around this general topic the various classes and platform addresses of the assembly will center.

The platform addresses will be made by Rev. R. Z. Tyler, pastor of Emory university. The speakers and instructors include prominent ministers and teachers and laymen of North Georgia. "The Spiritual Life" will be taught by Rev. W. J. DeBardeleben, pastor of the Grant Park church of Atlanta, and by Rev. E. J. Grimes, of Emory university, a returned missionary from China. "The Gospel of St. Mark" will be taught by Rev. L. M. Twiggs and Rev. L. W. Twiggs, both of Atlanta churches. "The History of Georgia Methodism" will consist of a series of lectures on this subject prepared by Rev. W. T. Watkins, of the Capitol View Methodist church in Atlanta. "Studies in the Life of John Wesley" will be presented by Rev. J. W. Veach of West Point.

NEW VENIRE CALLED IN TRIAL OF DURKIN

Chicago, June 16.—(AP)—The long-drawn-out process of selecting a jury to try Martin J. Durkin for the murder of a government agent was at a standstill today and Judge Harry B. Miller ordered an eighth venire of 100 to report for jury service tomorrow. Four jurors are still needed.

Defense counsel interrupted the examination this morning to inquire of the whereabouts of Silo George, eye-witness to the killing and expected to be a state witness. Prosecutors professed to know nothing of him.

logical seminary at Richmond, Va., will be honor guest at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Lions' club Tuesday at the Ansley hotel. The luncheon will be in the nature of a "farewell' party and a special program is planned.

The program, in which ministers representing practically every denomination in the city will take part, has been prepared in honor of Mr. Lacy. Additional features, including talks by some of Atlanta's most prominent citizens, many of whom are close friends of the Atlanta pastor, are scheduled.

Installation of new oficers elected at the meeting Tuesday, also will take place at this session of the club. Joseph B. Wolfe was elected president; Arthur J. Stitt, first vice president; Walter S. Dillon, second vice president; Victor F. Todd, third vice president; Samuel E. Levy, treasurer; Joseph V. Frietag, "lion tamer" and Paul Blackwell, secretary.

'WOOD FOR GOVERNOR' CLUB AT TOOMSBORO

Toomsboro, Ga., June 16.—(Special.)—Formation here today of a "Wood for Governor' club with Dr. J. T. Mills as president, was the result of an address at Balls Ferry last night in which J. O. Wood, native of Wilkinson county and candidate for governor, attacked his opponent, John Holder, chairman of the highway board. S. B. Winn was named secretary of the organization.

The organization not only will support Wood but will direct its fire on Holder and will be a strong anti-Holder factor in the coming gubernatorial race. Wood continued his assault on Holder which he began at the opening of his whirlwind campaign for the post now held by Governor Clifford Walker.

Woods mother was born here, the family burial ground is located here, and citizens are planning a great home-coming event to honor him as Wilkinson's foremost son. A committee has been appointed to perfect arrangements for the big event.

Hugh Fowler, E. S. Boone and J. G. Jones compose the committee.

Wood will speak Thursday night at Winder, Barrow county, where elaborate arrangements have been made to give him a warm welcome. Reports here indicate that he will receive a large vote from this section of the state, and every effort to assure his election is being made by citizens of this and neighboring counties.

M'LANE RENAMING TO BE CONSIDERED BY SENATE BODY

Washington, June 16.—(AP)—Public hearings in the renomination of A. V. McLane, as United States district attorney at Nashville, Tenn., will be held Saturday by a senate judiciary sub-committee.

This decision was reached late today after the sub-committee had considered telegrams from Nashville objecting to approval of the renomination on the ground that McLane was not fitted for the position.

AUGUSTA AND AIKEN TO BUY POWER LINES

Augusta, Ga., June 16.—(Special.) Stockholders of the Augusta & Aiken Railway and Electric company will meet here tomorrow to vote approval of plans for the purchase of certain power transmission lines from the Georgia Railway and Power company.

The principal line to be acquired is part of that from Toccoa to Augusta, it was stated today by officials of the company. This line is now carrying power to Augusta which is purchased wholesale by the local company from the Georgia Railway and Power company, and, under the new plans, the company will purchase that part of the actual line from Broad river to Augusta. Other power lines, all within the territory of the Augusta & Aiken company, are included in the plans for purchase, it was stated.

The action of the stockholders at tomorrow's meeting will merely consist of the voting of formal approval of the plans already perfected, it is understood.

youth throughout the whole formative period of life.

Basis of Education.

Mr. Hoover said that the universities and colleges are generally regarded as the cap upon the educational system but that they are not, being rather its foundations and the sole places in the land where the methods and standards of education are studied as a science.

"It is from the colleges and universities that methods and standards are implanted into the gigantic system of public schools. The agency which can determine what and how our children are taught can make the ideals of the next generation. It is the colleges, the universities, our colleges of agriculture and our normal school system which in the last analysis make these moulds which our public schools will give to our national character."

School Function.

"Our first ideal is democracy; it is the function of our public school system to keep democracy possible by training its children to its ways and meanings," the secretary said. "They must be taught the privileges and the sacred character of the ballot, the deeper meaning of representative and local government. We have seen many attempts in late years by various nations to set up the forces of democratic governments, but many of them are but the forms of such government; for without literate citizenry, taught and enabled to form sound public opinion and to develop a leadership based on expert knowledge and skill, there is no real democracy."

The speaker said that teachers carry to the students just exactly the same spirit which has been taught to them in their preparation for the school room and that it is an important function of universities to foster recruits for real leadership in the states and nation. He believed that if the various states accept the full duty of their responsibilities they will maintain the centers through which new refreshments in leadership can be evolved. He declared that the only door to equal opportunity is education and that the great administrators, lawyers, and moral leaders cannot be made by birth or money.

Demand for Leaders.

"The times demand a greater number of leaders and they must be trained experts," said Mr. Hoover. "The days of garret inventive geniuses have passed and discovery in the future must be based on scientific knowledge."

An especial function of leadership falls upon the universities of the south because of the benumbing of initiative and the dislocation of life as a result of the war between the states,' said Mr. Hoover. This need is accentuated by the dawning of "what you term the new south." rich in great resources, many of which are yet untouched, he declared.

He referred to states' rights in the connection of equal opportunity and the duty of the state to keep the doors of opportunity open, thus providing the proper share of leadership.

Ernest Lee Griggs, Athens, delivered the valedictory address.

Four Persons Escape Injuries in Crash Of Sedans in Which One Is Overturned

The bigger they are the harder they fall—

After a careful study of the above photograph, the reader undoubtedly will notice that the larger of the two sedans is standing on its head, or top, a one may prefer. In the upper left hand corner, the smaller of the sedans is standing on all four wheels.

The little one put the big one in the most embarrassing and uncomfortable position in which you see it—and not a man, woman or child was injured.

Which proves—you never can tell!

It happened Wednesday morning and something after this fashion:

Chauncey Middlebrooks, of 214 Myrtle street, was driving the big sedan east on Eighth street. Mrs. H. M Paschall, of 72 Peachtree place, was driving the smaller closed car south on Jackson street.

The two machines reached the corner at the same time.

The result was that the left fender and bumper of Mrs. Paschall's machine struck Mr. Middlebrooks' car a blow on the side that bowled it over on its top as pretty as you please and just as you see it in The Constitution's photograph.

Riding with Mr. Middlebrooks was his young nephew. Neither of them was injured. Mrs. Paschall's young child was riding with her, and they were uninjured. No charges were made by police.

CHOCOLATE SOLDIER REHEARSED IN FULL

Costumes for "The Chocolate Soldier," first production of Atlanta's comic opera season, will arrive this morning from New York, a dozen big trunks full, direct from Tams, the biggest theatrical house in the world.

Principals and chorus will have opportunity today to wear for the first time the national costumes of Bulgaria and Servia. The girls will look more than ever attractive in the brilliant poster colors of the Balkans, while most of the men will be splendorous in the uniforms of the Bulgarian army.

Straight through "The Chocolate Soldier" from overture to finale went the big company of 75 at last night's rehearsal, and while nobody was wholly satisfied, of course, both the musical director and stage director declared the company ready for the opening on Monday night.

The sale of seats is going on steadily at the Atlanta theater box office, with Monday night and the "bargain day" matinee on Wednesday well in the lead for popularity. The management is confident that every performance will be sold out by the time the curtain rises.

"We are especially gratified by the demand for seats by the general public as distinguished from the 'regulars' who always attend grand opera, concerts and other purely musical attractions," said Charles Howard Candler, president of the association. "That was the patronage we lacked last year, and it indicates that Atlanta as a whole is learning that a series of big 'shows,' interesting, filled with comedy, and altogether suitable for hot weather, is about to start."

U. S. AID TO STATES IS CALLED VICIOUS

Springfield, Ill., June 16.—(AP)—Federal aid in state affairs was described as a "vicious 50-50 system," and federal prohibition enforcement was declared expensive and impractical, by Justice Floyd E. Thompson, of the Illinois supreme court, in an address here.

His address was punctuated by charges that the federal government is overstepping its bounds by taking local affairs out of the hands of the several states. He deprecated efforts of federal prohibition enforcement officers, saying that most of the effective enforcement work had been done by state and local officers.

"In the last decade there has been creeping upon us the vicious 50-50 system of federal aid. Government aid is a tempting bait and many time-proven fundamental rights have been bartered for a partly helping hand from the government pork barrel. Our people do not seem to realize that all government 'gifts' must come from their pockets."

YSER SURVIVORS PLAN MONUMENT TO FRENCH DEAD

Paris, June 16.—(AP)—Survivors of the first gas attack by Germany on the Yser Front, April 22, 1915, have taken steps that a monument be erected to those who were killed by the stifling fumes. The Duchess of Vendome heads a committee which has started the collection of funds for the monument. The monument, probably will be placed approximately where the first gas attack developed at the junction of the French and Belgian fronts, which the Germans, until then, had been unable to pierce.

GEORGIA INCOME TAXES INCREASE

ment during the past few days for payment of taxes, Mr. Rose stated. Practically all taxes were paid by mail and complete check on the amount paid was greatly facilitated.

A set of statistics showing the remarkable growth of Atlanta was made public Wednesday by Postmaster E. K. Large. He showed that Atlanta postoffice receipts are now three times as great as they were in 1911, about 15 years ago.

In 1911 the postal receipts aggregated $1,156,809 and in 1925 the receipts amounted to $3,628,823. In 1911 there were 40,000,000 cancellations as compated to more than 100,000,000 in 1925. There were 330 employees in the postoffice in 1911 and in 1925 there were 749.

UPSHAW INDORSES TILSON FOR JUDGE

informed the committee that on a recent visit to the state every one with whom he had talked in the new district had opposed the appointment on the ground that Tilson did not live in the district, but made no personal objections. After the meeting Monday the committee extended an invitation to Georgia house members to appear Wednesday, to which Upshaw alone responded.

At its meeting Wednesday, an executive session, the committee, heard from Judge J. Render Terrell, of Greensboro, who urged a favorable report on Tilson, in addition to Upshaw and John Q. Tilson.

Flare-up Results.

There was a flare-up in the committee over appointment Tuesday of a sub-committee to consider the nomination, Senator Caraway, of Arkansas, charging that this was done to delay the matter, and that the republicans wanted to hold off action so that Tilson could be given a recess appointment.

Thereupon, the committee voted to dispense with the sub-committee and proceed in the full committee, as had been first decided. The possibility of delay thus presenting itself led to belief that a recess appointment might be taken as the way out by republican senators, but Senator Harris said he was assured by democrats on the committee that the matter would be pressed. He said he expected action by the committee at its meeting Thursday.

Harris is Opposed.

Senator Harris said that he expected an unfavorable report and is confident that the nomination will be rejected by the committee.

Tilson, the nominee was at the capitol Wednesday, conferring with republican leaders. Much activity was apparent about the office of his brother, the republican floor leader.

Judge Terrell, in urging a favorable report on the Tilson nomination, said that the Atlanta lawyer had been indorsed by the republican organization in the state and he paid high tribute to the nominee as well qualified for the position.

Upshaw's statement to the committee Wednesday follows:

"Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the committee:

"While I honor the fidelity of our Georgia senators in standing by their concept of duty to their constituents who protest this confirmation, I am frank to say to you that I greatly appreciate the opportunity afforded by your invitation to pay personal tribute to my long time neighbor and friend as one of the noblest men I have ever known.

"I am a democrat, without apology, and I told Mr. Tilson what I told the attorney general—that if it were possible to secure another democratic federal judge for Georgia I would be for the democrat but remembering that Georgia already has two democratic judges—one of them generously furnished by a republican administration under President Harding—I have naturally supposed that this judge of the new federal district in Georgia would be a republican.

No Complaint.

"Still more frankly, I want to be square enough and fair enough to say that I think we democrats should find no place to complain, if we have two out of the three federal judges in the state; and I say without hesitation or equivocation that William Joseph Tilson has every qualification for this high judicial position. A graduate of Yale, an accomplished scholar, a clear headed lawyer, and a golden hearted Christian gentleman, I declare, not merely as Mr. Tilson's neighbor and congressman, but as the friend in larger measure of high class jurisprudence for the state of Georgia, I hope for Tilson's confirmation.

Upholds South.

"As I live and treasure the truth, I declare to you that he has not one single personal characteristic that would make him obnoxious to the south, as some federal judges have been. I measure my words, Mr. Chairman, when I tell you that the worst thing that I know about Joe Tilson is the fact that he has preserved his republican identity for 28 years amid marvelous plenitude of democratic virtues in that fair land of rock-ribbed democracy. And whatever may be said of his questionable political judgment, I am free to say to you that any man who has such qualities of individualism and personal stamina, shows fundamental worthiness to wear the judicial ermine.

"I cannot feel that his not now living in the district to be served (although he would move there if appointed) should be held against him, unless there should be a legal inhibition against the frequent practice of holding court for each other, as so many judges do. Indeed, in some states the rotation of judges is not only the custom, but the law. Knowing W. J. Tilson's solid worth as a man I would be ashamed to claim manhood for myself if I were to allow any sort of political fear to keep me from paying him this honest tribute.

"Mr. Tilson is not inimical to southern ideals. Born beneath the ambient blue of the south's arching skies, rocked in the cradle of her beauty and her glory, and devoted to her cherished traditions, my friend is even the son of a Confederate soldier, and looks upon that sacred memorial on the side of Stone mountain (in whose inspiring shadow he has lived so long) not only as 'history's supreme monument,' but as a positive mecca of inspiration for his children and our own.

"So, gentlemen of the committee, I am asking that if you have actually made up your mind that the judge of the new federal district in Georgia is going to be a republican, for the Lord's sake, for our children's sake—for Georgia's sake—give us a noble, knightly, God-fearing man like William Joseph Tilson."

CHAMBER FAVORS TILSON FOR JUDGE.

Approval of the appointment of W. J Tilson, of Atlanta, to the federal judgeship of the new middle federal district of Georgia, was voted yesterday afternoon by the board of directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

The following telegram was sent to Senators Harris and George, who have declined to give their approval to the president's appointment of Mr. Tilson on the ground that he does not reside in the district where his duties will take him.

Following is the telegram sent the two Georgia senators:

"Atlanta, Ga., June 16, 1926.

"Referring to approval of the president's appointment, at a meeting of the board of directors of the Atlanta chamber of commerce today, I was authorized to wire you as follows:

"It was the sense of the directors that Mr. Tilson has the highest possible standing in Atlanta and Georgia. He possesses strong personality—is a man of attainment and is highly educated in the legal profession. We learn from good authority that he was admitted to the bar at Forsyth, Ga., which is in the middle district. It is the opinion of the directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce that President Coolidge under no circumstances would appoint a democrat to the position and the appointment of Mr. Tilson is far preferable than to have a man far less qualified to fill the position based on the fact that he resides in the middle district. While we appreciate your opinion expressed in your wire of the 15th, we disagree with you that Mr. Tilson's residence is any good ground for rejecting him, and we run a tremendous risk in having the president choose someone not so well qualified and possibly distasteful to the whole state of Georgia.

(Signed) "W. D. HOFFMAN, Pres.,
"Atlanta Chamber of Commerce."

HURT IN TRAFFIC

CHIEF C. P. CONNALLY.

CHIEF CONNALLY INJURED BY AUTO

claimed ten other victims Wednesday afternoon.

George Phillips, a former policeman, of 438 Pulliam street, was struck down and slightly injured in front of the station house within an hour of the time Chief Connally was hurt. The car which struck him was driven by R. H. Betts, employed at the Retail Credit company.

The accident was investigated by Motorcycle Officer P. H. Jones, who reported the accident unavoidable and no case was made. Phillips was taken to Grady hospital and doctors reported that he sustained several bad lacerations and bruises.

Five persons were injured in two street car accidents during Wednesday, according to police and hospital records. Those hurt are: Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Lanford, of 338 South Boulevard; Miss Bernice Cox, of a Garnett street address; Mrs. R. E. Holley, of 33 Cresthill avenue, and C. A. Sheffield, of Eagan Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Lanford were injured when an inbound East Lake street car jumped the tracks at King street and crashed into their automobile, police records show. The car then ran more than 50 feet, the officers said, and tore down part of a fence. Miss Cox and Mrs. Holley were passengers on the street car, it was said, and were badly shaken up and bruised by the impact. Both Mrs. Lanford and Mrs. Holley were dismissed from the hospital after their injuries were treated.

According to information given to hospital attaches, Mr. Sheffield's wagon was completely demolished and he was seriously injured about the back, head and limbs when struck by an inbound street car at Cleveland avenue crossing in East Point.

Mr. Sheffield was given first-aid treatment in the undertaking establishment of Howard Carmichael in East Point and later rushed to Grady hospital in the private ambulance of J. Austin Dillon company.

Knocked From Bicycle.

Charlies Brooks, 14, of a Mill street address, was struck from his bicycle at Williams and Harris streets Wednesday afternoon. According to police reports, the automobile which struck the boy was driven by Charles L. Wilson, an employee of the Nunnally Candy company.

Wilson stopped his machine and took the boy to the hospital and later reported the accident to Acting Captain W. P. Reed. He said the boy rode directly in front of his machine. No case was made.

J. B. Hammond, of 504 Chestnut street, was knocked to the pavement early Wednesday afternoon by a taxicab as he crossed Luckie street at Forsyth street. According to the report made by Patrolman W. J. Forster, who investigated, Hammond was crossing the street against a red light.

The taxicab was going west on Luckie street and was operated by W. S. Jackson, Patrolman Forster reported. He said the accident was unavoidable on the part of the driver and no case was made. Hammond was not seriously injured.

Two Negroes Hurt.

Two negroes, Will Gist, of 242 West Mitchell street, and Elsie Sheats, of the rear of 102 Peachtree circle, were shaken up and bruised Wednesday night when an automobile in which they were riding collided with a street car at West Harris street and Techwood drive, according to police.

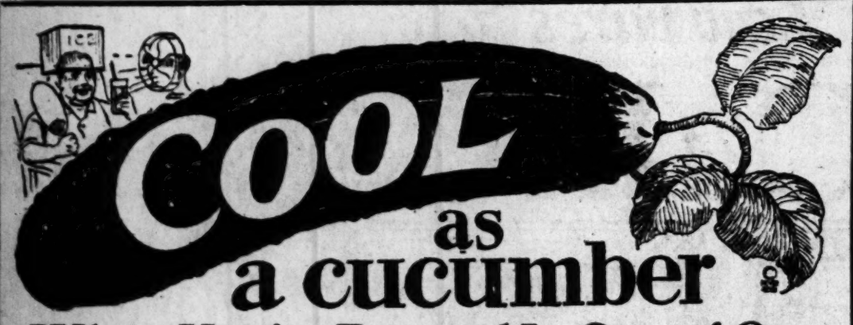

Patrolmen C. P. Whaley and W. D. Wallace were told that the automobile driven by the negro was going west on West Harris street and collided with the street car going north on Techwood drive at the intersection of the two streets. The street car was operated by Motorman A. B. McNorton, and cases of reckless driving were made against Motorman McNorton and Gist.

BUFORD HIGHWAY FUNDS ARE URGED

Citizens living on the Atlanta-Norcross-Buford highway appeared before the state highway commission Wednesday and asked that body to allot some of the additional state aid road funds for improvement of this road. It was pointed out to the commission that this link is an important one and that the condition of the road has become so bad that traffic is diverted to other highways between Atlanta and Gainesville.

Other delegations appeared before the commission Wednesday to ask for aid for the highways from Lavonia to Hartwell to Elberton; from Hawkinsville to Ashburn; from Avondale by way of Indian Creek church to Stone mountain; from Toccoa to Carnesville; from Fairburn to Carrollton; from Monticello to the Morgan county line by Shadey Dale and Machen; from the Campbell county line to the Spalding county line and from the Stephens county line to White county line ;from Ellabelle to Clyde; from Decatur south through east Atlanta and Panthersville; from the Highland avenue extension to Rucker.

Thursday the commission will hear recommendations for improvement of roads between Jackson and Covington; Covington and McDonough; between Sociay Circle and Mansfield; between Loganville and Stockbridge; between Gainesville and Tate and between Tate and Dawsonville.

Woman Kills Self.

Savannah, Ga., June 16.—(AP)—Mrs. W. L. Black, who, while despondent yesterday, took poison and struck herself in the temple with a hammer, died this morning. She had not been in good health recently.

STATE CANDIDATES FACE NEW TIME LIMIT

All candidates for state offices must qualify with the secretary of the state democratic executive committee by noon of Wednesday, June 23, as the time limit for entering expires at that hour and not at midnight, according to announcement Wednesday by Mrs. Bessie Anderson, secretary of the committee.

Heretofore the entry hour has been fixed at midnight in several of the primaries, but this year the rules specifically provide that entries must be filed by noon, central time.

No candidate for governor has yet qualified with the committee, although Jackson county friends of John N. Holder, chairman of the state highway commission, gave $250 in cash to Mrs. Anderson to pay his entrance fee.

PLANS ARE LAID TO ENTERTAIN RESTAURANT MEN

Arrangements for entertaining visitors to Atlanta during the convention of the National Restaurant Men's association during the week of October 4, have been completed, according to Frank T. Reynolds, of the Ansley hotel. Practically every hotel room in the city will be in demand and special accommodations may be asked.

The convention is expected to be one of the largest in the history of the association and in connection with the convention an exhibition of restaurant and kitchen equipment will be held at the city auditorium. The exhibition will be one of the largest ever held here, it is said.

HARRINGTON CITES HAZARDS OF FIRE IN ADDRESS HERE

Eugene C. Harrington, chairman of a committee on fire insurance agents which has under discussion the problem of local fire hazards, addressed directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce Wednesday on the necessity of improved fire protection in the city and the importance of greater care in guarding against fires.

The enormous increase in fire losses in proportion to the population within the last few years was pointed out. Directors authorized President W. D. Hoffman to appoint two members to serve with a general committee on the matter of fire prevention.

V. H. KRIEGSHABER ILL AT HOME HERE

Victor H. Kriegshaber, prominent Atlanta business man who first presented the Atlanta municipal opera company idea to a group of Atlantans more than a year ago, is ill at his home and will not be able to attend the first opera, "The Chocolate Soldier," which will open the eight weeks engagement at the Atlanta theater next Monday night.

Mr. Kriegshaber has been confined to his home for the past several weeks and physicians stated that his condition will not permit him to witness the opening opera. He is vice president of the Municipal Light Opera association.

Charles Howard Candler, president of the association, said Mr. Kriegshaber's illness "is a great loss to the association and officers join his many friends throughout the south in expressing hope for a speedy recovery."

Election of Officers Is Closing Feature Of Annual Meeting of Georgia Red Men

Sachems, sagamores, prophets and chiefs attended the 47th session of the Great Council of Georgia Red Men Wednesday at the Red Men's wigwam on Central avenue, the election of officers ending the session. Above are some of the principal figures in the convention. Back row, left to right are: Joe Wilson, C. E. O'Kelly, J. C. Cook and Jesse B. Lee. Front row, left to right are: A. C. Moore, Milton Daniels, E. H. Godfree, R. C. McCall Jr., new great sachem; L. A. Davis and J. G. Poole.

R. C. McCall, Jr., well known Atlantan, who has been connected with Sheriff J. I. Lowry's office for several years, was elected great sachem at the close of the forty-seventh annual great council of the Improved Order of Red Men Wednesday at the wigwam on Central avenue.

Other officers elected are: L. A. Davis, Atco, Ga., great senior sagamore; John Cook, great junior sagamore; Jesse B. Lee, great prophet; Charles C. Gillett, great keeper of records, and E. H. Griffin, of Griffin, great keeper of wampum. Jesse B. Lee and E. H. Griffin were named great representatives.

Cannon Blease, of Newberry, S. C., brother of Senator Cole Blease, of South Carolina, and great minewa of the National Improved Order of Red Men, and Herbert F. Stetzer, of Philadelphia, great chief of records of the national order, were principal speakers at Wednesday's session.

Both Mr. Blease and Mr. Stetzer, who have been in the work for many years, spoke on the history of the order and its development in recent years. It was pointed out in the morning session that there are more than 20,000 Red Men in the state of Georgia and two of the councils are located in Atlanta.

One of the features of Wednesday's meeting was the presence of Charles C. Gillett, great keeper of records of Georgia, who has been representing the Improved Order of Red Men in the great council of the United States for more than 20 years. He is well known in local fraternal circles and is one of the best known secret order men in the south.

Judge Thomas H. Jeffries, Fulton county ordinary, past great sachem, installed officers during the afternoon session with an impressive and interesting ceremony.

Visiting delegates were entertained by local councils with auto rides through principal parts of the city Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Lucy Cagle, retiring great Pocahontas of the Georgia ladies' auxiliary of the Red Men, which closed its 14th annual session Tuesday, was presented with a handsome handbag in appreciation of her services during the past year.

MAYOR SIMS, DOBBS RETURN FROM TRIP

Mayor Walter A. Sims and Alderman W. Guy Dobbs were back in Atlanta Wednesday, after an extended trip to Washington, New York and Philadelphia. They praised those cities for the warm receptions they were given.

Both were disappointed witnesses of the Stribling-Berlenbach match in New York, where they were guests of Mayor James (Jimmy) Walker. In Philadelphia, they attended the sesquicentennial and witnessed the elaborate parade in observance of Flag day.

COMMITTEES NAMED FOR BIG EXPOSITION

Committees to take charge of details of the Atlanta industrial exposition, to be held at the auditorium August 2-7, were appointed Wednesday afternoon by H. Y. McCord, Jr., president of the association, and it is expected they will start work at once.

The Atlanta Chamber of Commerce which has joined with the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association and the Georgia Manufacturers' association in presenting the big "Made-in-Atlanta" show, sent out this week 1,000 letters to manufacturers, large and small, within a 60-mile radius of Atlanta, from which territory it is expected to draw exhibits. Numerous requests for exhibit space have been received in response, including one from Elberton.

Committees in charge of the exposition are: General: H. Y. McCord, president; S. T. Mattingly, secretary; Milton W. Bell, treasurer; finance: James D. Robinson, chairman; Alfred Fox, C. Arthur Kitchings and W. D. Hoffman; tickets: Ernest L. Rhodes, chairman; Meyer Regenstein, R. V. Bergen, John W. Yopp, Henderson Hallman and Otto Schwab; entertainment: Julian V. Boehm, chairman; Walter Candler and Fred Houser; publicity: B. S. Barker, chairman; Roy LeCraw, J. P. McGrath and George Ripley, Jr.

Appetite Gone?

Attempting, delicious looking meal—all the choicest morsels from a well stocked pantry. The fragrant aroma of all these good things failing to put a keen edge on your appetite—failing to arouse, in any degree, a hardy relish for the food so attractively placed before you. Why?

Scores of men and women are faced with the same misfortune. After a day of toil—when they are tired—when good things to eat should be ravishly sought to recharge their vitality and fit them for play time—their stomachs turn. They are worn down, played out. Food has no appeal. To them it is sickening. The aroma of appetising things nauseates them.

Red blood cells are missing. Red blood which should be coursing through your veins strengthening your vitality—adding to your strength—keeping you healthy and fit—is not to be found.

S. S. S. is what is needed. Your blood is purifying. What use is an automobile without a battery? What advantage is a dynamo without electricity? Your body is a human dynamo. Your blood cells supply the energy which keeps your body well and fit. Weakened blood cells make you like the storage battery with dry cells—power is lacking—energy gone—productive qualities at the lowest ebb. S. S. S. supplies the red blood cells—the spark that recharges your system.

Mr. James Chaloupka, Sherman School, Chillicothe, Ohio, writes:

"I feel like a new man after taking S. S. S. It gave me a better appetite and cleared my skin of pimples and blackheads."

Carefully selected, scientifically proportioned and prepared herbs and barks make up S. S. S.—the great blood purifier. Give nature a helping hand. Get back the lost appetite—the missing vitality—the keen, sparkling eyes—that look of determination. The best way to start back over the road to well being is with S. S. S. Nerves will become stronger. S. S .S. will give you more energy, vitality and vigor, and a more "up and going" appearance.

S. S. S. is sold at all leading drug stores. Try a bottle and see for yourself. The large size bottle is more economical. Get one today.

as easy as changing a record

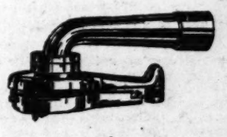

ANOTHER achievement of Thomas A. Edison. The creator of the phonograph has given it a new sphere of pleasure and usefulness. In the New Edison he Re-Created the actual, living tones of the artists. Now, to that perfection of tone he adds the full volume .... living, pulsing, brilliant, without a hint of distortion. Bass and treble are clear-cut—nothing is smothered, nothing is diminished, not an instrument of the orchestra is out of balance. Only the actual presence of the artists is lacking: in all other respects, the Re-Creation is the original. Everyone knows that the New Edison is the only phonograph which dares the test of direct comparison with the living artist.

Mr. Edison might have made his new achievement the basis of a new phonograph. In his characteristic way, however, he preferred to give all present owners of the New Edison these new pleasures at a mere fraction of their original investment. The change in volume is made as easily as changing a record. Unobtrusive mellowness for the quiet, listening mood, and when young feet are all impatient for the dance, there is the swaying, captivating rhythm of the snappiest of dance orchestras.

Called "the Dance Attachment" because the most obvious need of volume is for dancing. The shuffling of many feet drowns out ordinary phonograph volume but the Edison Dance Attachment amplifies the recorded music to the deep, brass-throated volume of the full orchestra.

Don't buy any phonograph until you have first heard the NEW EDISON with the Dance Attachment. Write for descriptive folder.

REAL REFORM NEEDED.

According to Arthur Sears Henning, one of the most reliable political commentators in Washington, the republican senatorial primary held several weeks ago in Illinois will run a close second to that in Pennsylvania in the amount of slush funds used, and will again far exceed the amounts that created a sensation in Michigan a few years ago and resulted in the excommunication of Truman Newberry.

In the light of recent events, indeed, the Newberry campaign seems to have been a rather tame affair, and as measured by the system of today might be classed as a "piker." At the time it aroused a tremendous row, as it should have done, but evidently the unseating of Newberry did not have a restraining effect, as penalties for wrong doing are supposed to have.

Says Mr. Henning in his Washington dispatches of Wednesday:

"Senator McKinley expended between $300,000 and $400,000, according to reliable information, while in behalf of Colonel Smith, the expenditures are said to aggregate between $700,000 and $800,000.

"The sources of the funds used to put Smith over are to be the subject of special scrutiny by the investigating committee in consequence of rumors that large contributions to the Smith war chest were made by persons connected with public service corporations over which the Illinois commerce commission, of which Colonel Smith is chairman, has jurisdiction and exercises vast powers of regulation."

It will be recalled that Senator McKinley was defeated, which on the face of the slush fund totals, would seem to indicate that the great office of United States senator was sold to the highest bidder.

These exposures are bringing the primary into serious disrepute, and will force either a repeal of the system, or a program of universal state statutes with teeth and spine enough to deal with a lamentable situation.

In the meantime the democrats can capitalize the situation to marked advantage in the approaching congressional elections if they will handle the subject with sound, constructive thought, and not run away with wildcat ideas as to a federalization of the state primaries, and a smelling, nauseating crusade of a purely punitive nature. We must either keep primaries clean or abolish them, and there is no reason why we can't do the former if we adhere strictly to the Jeffersonian principles of government, and demand and secure honesty in elections, instead of corruption. It is a situation now that must be handled with the utmost sincerity as to real reform, and not as a political expediency. It will serve the democrats better to handle it in that nature.

EDUCATION AND BUSINESS.

Secretary Hoover, in a masterful baccalaureate address at the University Wednesday, stressed the relation of education to the cultural, political, social, economic and industrial development of a state and section, and urged a coordination of schools from the bottom to the top, with emphasis on the importance of the finishing schools as the factors in technical and vocational training that are essential and necessary in the proper development of community resources. His address was directly in line with the position so often stated by The Constitution, and which the state of Georgia must come to in the interest of its own material wealth and greater usefulness. Secretary Hoover said:

"Universities and colleges should be regarded as the foundations of educational systems, and not as their 'caps.' It is the colleges, the universities, our colleges of agriculture and our normal schools, which in the last analysis make the moulds which our public schools will give to our national character. It is their job to preserve the democracy and its ideals. It is their duty to expose the fallacies that would undermine it, to teach the dynamics of history, to furnish [illegible] team of teachers inspired to conduct these flocks of children into the ideals of our republic."

There can be no mistaking the soundness of this view. It ought to ring in every Georgian's heart from the mountains to the sea. It ought especially find lodgment in the heart and conscience of every member of the Georgia legislature, and every candidate who is offering for office. In order to develop our own resources properly we must develop the brain and train the hands of the growing generation to that end. Georgia not only owes it to her youth, but to all her people, in securing for them the greatest benefits from the resources that nature has so richly bestowed upon the state.

THE GEORGIA ALUMNI.

The election of Judge William H. Barrett, of Augusta, to the presidency of the University of Georgia Alumni association will be pleasing to all alumni and friends of the institution. He has been a warm and active friend of his alma mater since his graduation in 1885. In all of the many alumni campaigns to meet the shortcomings of the legislature in order that it might be able to carry on in keeping with its great work and usefulness Judge Barrett has taken earnest and resourceful interest. He is extremely popular with the alumni, and as a great, outstanding Georgian will carry marked influence to University activities.

Judge Barrett succeeds General Walter A. Harris, whose administration as president of the alumni has been phenomenally successful, General Harris being a leader for educational expansion and coordination.

PARKS AND THE PUBLIC.

Councilman John A. White, of the city park committee, has an interview in today's Constitution that will be generally approved, for he gives assurance that every possible precautionary measure will be taken by his committee to protect the swimmers in the Atlanta pools.

It is but just to say that the city parks have never been better managed than under the direction of Chairman White. The two drownings of the past week are of course deeply regretted by the members of the committee, and the chairman assures the public that nothing will be left undone to throw every possible safeguard around the children who cannot swim.

The earnest effort of the committee toward improving the condition of the parks, and the good showing made during the past year is sufficient guarantee that every detail will be carefully watched to give the public adequate protection. No better selection for the chairmanship of this committee could have been made than in the choice of Mr. White who is conscientiously endeavoring to render such a service as will meet universal approval.

DECATUR SCORES BIG.

The citizens of Decatur are to be congratulated on going over the top with a substantial margin in the campaign to raise $200,000 subscriptions for the erection of a modern tourist hotel in that city.

It was the same spirit manifested there that prevails in Atlanta proper when any great civic activity is undertaken.

The hotel will be a marked addition to that thriving section of greater Atlanta, for though separated as to municipal governments Decatur is Atlanta in the fullest sense of the word. It breathes the same atmosphere, and is inspired by the same high and ennobling purposes of educational, cultural and economic progress.

Decatur citizens are Atlanta citizens, and Atlanta rejoices with Decatur on its local pride and achievements.

Says The Houston Post: "Jack Warwick says the wets need a leader who doesn't drink, but unless he is suspected of having some on his hip, they won't follow him."

Time has certainly changed Charlie Ross, and they can't say he doesn't look a day older than when he was first "discovered."

Harry Thaw is writing a book; and of course it will be flashed on the screen, and he'll make a lecture tour to explain it.

Automobiles are now taking high dives in lakes and rivers, and may soon have to be equipped with auto-life preservers.

Probably you are going to Europe this time to discover what is the matter with that French debt?

If anything, the sweet girl graduate is sweeter than ever, and as beautiful as the dream of her.

Don't get discouraged; remember that there are spots on the sun, but still it manages to shine for all.

Just From Georgia

BY FRANK L. STANTON

To Light the Way for You.

I
If I were a fairy
I know what I'd do;
I'd sprinkle star-dust in your path
To light the way for you.

II
We'd take a ride on moon beams
Through all the shining ways;
We'd stop in June town for a while,
Come back on rainbow rays.

III
I'd build a flower castle
For you on tree-top street;
We'd sleep in golden butter-cups
And feast on honey-sweet.

IV
If I were a fairy
I'd change the false to true
I'd make of earth a fairy land
And live always with you.
—MARY VENABLE WOMBLE.
Atlanta, Ga.

In a Billville Experience Meeting.

One drink of Georgia moonshine, and you feel like you'd lost your last friend; two drinks, and you're lifted up and own the earth; three good swigs and the burden of your song is "To h—l with the earth and the fulness thereof!"

Her Lovers

This charming "Folk Song," by Dorothy Parker, which we clip from the Kansas City Star, might easily be mistaken for one of Sara Teasdale's lyrics—

Robin, he is strong and sure,
Gallant, wise and gay.
Gavin's heart is calm and pure
As the new-born day.
Steady shine young Alan's eyes,
Deep with honesty.
Jack, he tells me naught but lies—
He's the lad for me.

"Richard vows no other maid
Did he love before.
Will, his beating heart he laid
At my cottage door.
Peter tells me, 'None but you
Am I thinking of.'
Jack, he's wondrously untrue—
He's my own dear love.

"Casper's hair is golden brown;
Hal is straight and slim.
Martin's richest in the town—
Who'd say 'no' to him?
Rafe's a fine young gentleman;
Tom's with virtue blest.
Jack, he broke my heart and ran—
I love him the best.

The Shifting Lights.

"Lots of folks," says the Albany Herald, "are fighting to get into the circumference of the evershifting spotlight, but those who crowd in must fight to keep their places." And nine times in ten, the game isn't worth the candle and even the winners may decide with the poet-philosopher who wrote—

"The happiest heart that ever beat
Was in some humble breast
That found the common daylight sweet

A Picture From the Past.

Writing in the Atchison (Kans.) Mail, Mary Paxton Keeley claims to have discovered the original "Little old log cabin in the lane," celebrated in song and story. She says—

"There it stands under virgin walnut trees with the horn to call the dogs hanging by the door, and the log barn and corncrib in the background. King Johnson built this homestead. Mrs. Johnson says she does not like to live in anything but a log house and has never done so. Her mother and father still live in the log house where she was born. With the six hound dogs hanging about, this cabin is a replica of the first homes that were built in this country. A visit to the cabin would be a real lesson in country history. And the hounds hunt wolves, foxes and skunks just as the early settlers' dogs did."

The Summer Situation.

This steaming time no mirth promotes,
Nor any cheerful words;
We're even getting melting notes
From all the mockingbirds.

And now the fishermen complain that pouring confiscated booze in the Georgia streams makes the fish too blind to see the bait.

Piling Up State Obligations by Millions

Editor Constitution: For the benefit of those who, for conscientious or political reasons, object to the state going into debt, I wish to call attention to a debt of $12,000,000 which Georgia has contracted in the past four or five years by law.

You will recall that the general assembly enacted into law and put on our statute books the obligation to pay back every county which should spend any part of its funds on its mileage of the state system of roads under the direction and supervision of our highway department.

Prior to this year about seventy counties issued bonds on an advalorem tax basis, taxing the property of their citizens from 4 to 5 per cent, and complied with the law, hence Georgia now owes those counties $12,000,000 to be paid upon completion of our state system. That figure I got from the very highest authority.

Since the first of this year 32 more counties have voted $9,250,000 worth of bonds on an ad valorem basis and when they sell their bonds and complete their mileage, as the other counties have done, it will add close to three million dollars more to the state debt and then when you add that sum together with the $5,000,000 we inherited from the Bulloch and other regimes in Georgia you will find that the state has piled up about a twenty-million-dollar debt.

LEAPS TO DEATH AFTER DREAMING HOTEL IS AFIRE

Greenville, S. C., June 16.—(AP)—A dream that the hotel was on fire so frightened an unidentified white man, whose name is believed to be Jack Extine, that he leaped to his death this morning from the second story window of the Alexandria hotel.

He awoke suddenly and dived through a screened window tearing out the screen as he passed through. He landed on the roof of the front porch, ran to the edge and jumped to the pavement below. The jump was made at 1 o'clock. Death followed at 8.45 o'clock. He told ambulance drivers that he had heard some one yelling "fire" and upon awakening he jumped out of the window.

Looking and Listening

BY SAM W. SMALL.

There are only two states in the union that have less per capita wealth than Georgia.

We have $1,306 for every man, woman and child, while Mississippi has only $1,216 and Alabama only $1,244. All the other 11 southern states outrank us, West Virginia leading the south with $3,040 per capita. Florida is second with $2,358 and Virginia fourth with $2,050.

In Georgia our ratio of assessed values to market values is 37.9, in West Virginia it is 40, in Florida 20, and in Virginia 40.7. Who can give the answer?

Figured on the basis of taxpayers, the real owners of the property of the state, our per capita would run over $2,000. Eliminating the large number of non-propertied whites and negroes, our per capita would reach respectable rank with many other states where those classes are negligible in their population.

There is a popular notion that New York, of course, must be the richest per capita of all the American states. But it isn't. Nevada, with the smallest population, 77,500, has $6,998 per capita, while New York, with the largest state population, has only $3,436 per capita. In fact there are 14 states that have each a larger per capita wealth than New York.

Something was said in this column a few days ago about the esteem generally accorded the southern soldier. It was followed by the eloquent tribute paid to him by General Johnson Hagood in his address to the Citadel cadets in Charleston. And now comes the honor man of the class of 1926 of the United States Military Academy at West Point in the person of Cadet Lieutenant William C. Baker, Jr., of Clinton, Tennessee. He is 22 years of age and was appointed to the academy by Congressman Taylor, of the second Tennessee district. Three gold star honor men in the lower classes are Luke W. Finlay, of Tennessee; James L. Green, of Alabama, and Frank L. Blue, Jr., of North Carolina.

Speaking of honors, when John McEntee Bowman, of the Biltmore hotels, comes again to Atlanta he will be sporting in his left lapel the red rosette of the French Legion of Honor. Some 300 American hotel men have been touring Europe recently and President Doumergue, of France, holds that such men have done much to stimulate and preserve Franco-American friendship. To testify the gratitude of his people for such valuable service, he selected six leading American bonifaces to wear the historic Napoleonic decoration and our friend Bowman was number two in the favored half-dozen to be knighted.

* * * *

While looking around in Georgia I was made curious about some features of life in the old commonwealth that will bear study and explanation.

Why do we maintain in Atlanta for example, an average of 42 homicides per year?

And why do we also have the same average of 42 suicides?

Why, also, are Virginia, Kentucky and Texas the only southern states that have more crazy persons in public institutions than we have in Georgia?

Yet the average of life in this state is as long as in any of the states of the south—56 years, plus, for males and nearly 59 years for females.

I cannot believe we Georgians are just naturally prone to kill, commit hari-kari, of go batty in order to be different. The killings cannot be wholly charged to bootleg booze, but rather to the failure to make pistol-toting more certain of punishment than is murder. The suicides are, perhaps, not within human control. They follow spasms of disappointment and despair that do not advertise until the fatal end appears. "Going crazy" is not an art, but a calamity that often baffles the research of the most expert alienist or psychologist, but why any one should go crazy in good old Georgia is a genuine mystery to me.

BODY OF MRS. BROWN TAKEN TO OLD HOME

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Lee Brown, wife of the late W. D. Brown, of Jewett City, Conn., former pastor of the Congregational church, will be held this morning at 10 o'clock from the home of her step-son, H. W. Brown, 20 Cottage Grove avenue, East Lake.

Mrs. Brown died Tuesday night after a brief illness at the home of her step-son. Following the funeral services the body will be taken to Ware, Mass., for interment.

A native of Jewett City, Conn., Mrs. Brown came to Atlanta many years ago with her husband, who was pastor of the Congregational church. She was a devoted member of the church and took an active part in all its activities.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WM. BRADY, M. D.

NO DIPHTHERIA IN OUR FAMILY.

Whenever I hear a man say, "there is no insanity" or "no cancer" or no tuberculosis in our family," I know he is either a fool or a liar, because no family escapes these diseases through many generations. But today if I heard a man say "there is no diphtheria in our family" I should think he were a reasonable man, and if he says "there isn't going to be any diphtheria in our family" I should know he were a man of practical good sense, for it is up to every parent now to decide for himself whether his children shall be immune to that menace.

Infants in arms are not often infected with diphtheria, but children from two years of age upwards are most susceptible because at that age they begin to play with other children and are therefore more likely to be exposed to diphtheria. Practically the only way anyone may contract diphtheria is through close personal association with a person who is ill of, about to come down with, or convalescing from the disease, or a person who has had it some months ago and still carries diphtheria bacilli which are virulent, or capable of producing the disease in others. The mode of infection is generally the same as of all the other respiratory infections, namely, spray—fine, perhaps invisible droplets contain the germs and carry about four feet from the face of the speaker, or as far as 10 feet from the face if the individual coughs or sneezes with nose and mouth uncovered. Children naturally cough, sneeze and talk with nose and mouth uncovered, even when they have whooping cough, coryza, measles, diphtheria, chicken pox, or other respiratory infection. Only a few adults are sufficiently well educated in hygiene to take the trouble to cover nose and mouth when coughing or sneezing, and not one in a thousand has enough sanitary conscience to live the golden rule of hygiene and isolate himself—keep beyond the five foot range—when he has what he or the trick health authorities designate as "just a cold."

It is highly important to protect children from two to six years of age, before they enter school. The only way this may be done is by testing each child for susceptibility to diphtheria by means of the Schick test. Most young children show the "positive reaction" to the test—develop a reddened wheal like a simple hive at the point of injection, in from 24 to 28 hours, and this little reddened area disappears after a week. This positive reaction shows that the child is susceptible to diphtheria. It is painless and absolutely without any risk. It produces no illness. No parent can conscientiously trump up any such objection to this test. Every child who reacts positively to the Shick test should be immunized against diphtheria. If the child shows no reaction—the test is "negative"—that child is naturally immune and requires no other protection. It is a comforting thing to know that one's child is immune.

The immunization treatment consists of a series of three sacutaneous (hypodermic) injections of toxin antitoxin at intervals of a week. The immunity develops in about five weeks, and lasts for a few years at least, long enough to protect the child through the years when diphtheria is most dangerous. Every family doctor can administer this. Every health department provides the materials used for the test and the immunization.

Every bimbo should have this boon.

Chamber Joins Move To Bring Out Voters In Various Elections

The chamber of commerce will send out today 10,000 circular letters addressed to men and women of voting age, urging them to register and vote in all city, county and state elections, and explaining just how they can qualify.

This action is in line with that of the inter-civic council, of which B. S. Barker, executive vice president of the chamber of commerce, is chairman. Civic organizations estimate that there are 80,000 potential votes in Atlanta while the recent bond registration ran only about 15,000.

"We have no desire to tell any man or woman how to vote," announced the committee. "But we do believe it is a civic duty to vote in every election, according to one's own personal convictions.

"Every citizen is a stockholder in the great corporation of Atlanta. With only 12,000 citizens voting, a very small percentage of stockholders is in control."

DONALDSONVILLE BANK IS SUED FOR $99,837

Suit for $99,837.25 was filed Wednesday in Fulton superior court by T. R. Bennett, state superintendent of banks, against directors of the Bank of Donaldsonville. The suit was brought in the interest of depositors of the defunct bank, which failed in November, 1924. It charges negligence on the part of the directors in management of bank funds.

BRIAND ATTEMPTS 'UNION' CABINET

BY RALPH HEINZEN.

Paris, June 16.—Aristide Briand is once more the man of the hour in France.

Although determined Tuesday, when he resigned, that he was finished with cabinet building, the man who has nine times been premier of France yielded to repeated requests from President Domergue and Wednesday night accepted the task of forming his tenth ministry.

As he left the Elysee palace following his promise to the president, Briand said, "The president did me the honor to ask me to form a new cabinet. Under the present circumstances the task will not be an easy one, and it was because of these difficulties that I felt it my duty not to refuse. I shall try to form a cabinet composed of leaders from all political groups, and shall ask them to forget their quarrels and place themselves at the service of the nation. I shall ask them to aid me in the necessary effort to solve our financial crisis."

Briand began at once a series of conferences with political leaders who must be consulted in forming a cabinet which is to include every shade of political thought. He hopes to give President Doumergue a definite statement on his progress Thursday. Edouard Herriot, former premier, is pointed to as the first man to whom Briand will offer a post in the new cabinet. Politicians maintain that Herriot will listen to the advice of his radical friends and refuse. His friends hope Briand will fail and that then Herriot himself will receive an invitation to form the cabinet.

Raymond Poincare, wartime president of France, is regarded as the sure choice of Briand for the all important position of minister of finance. If Poincare does follow Peret in the position around which the present financial storm centers it will be his first return to power since the fall of 1924.

JUDGE BLAIR FUNERAL TODAY

dren were at his bedside. The death of Judge Blair removes one of Marietta's and the state's most outstanding citizens.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon from the First Methodist church, South, at Marietta, at 4:30 o'clock, Dr. R. C. Cleckler, Rev. B. F. Fraser and Rev. J. H. Patton officiating.

Interment will be in the Marietta city cemetery. The remains will be carried to the First Methodist church at 3 o'clock to rest in state until 4:30 o'clock.

Pallbearers and Escort.

Pallbearers will be John S. Wood, J. R. Brumby, M. L. McNeel, John Fowler, Judge Samuel H. Sibley, and Ralph W. Northcutt.

Members of the Marietta bar, officers of Cobb superior court, officers of the courts of Cherokee, Pickens, Gilmer, Fannin, Milton and Forsyth counties, and members of the bar of all counties in the Blue Ridge circuit, will act as honorary escort, assembling at the courthouse at 4 o'clock.

Judge Blair was one of the best known men in the state of Georgia and had long been prominen in public life. He was an upright, Christian man, and many of his best years of life were spent actively in church and educational work.

Graduate of Emory.

He was a graduate of Emory university of the class of 1880. Among prominent citizens of Georgia who were his classmates, were Judge John S. Candler, of Atlanta, and Congressman Gordon Lee, of the 7th congressional district. Daniel Webster Blair was born December 31, 1859, in Campbell, now Douglas county, the son of Columbus and Sarah M. (Kidd) Blair. Reared on a farm, his early educational opportunities were the three-month public schools of that period. Later these were supplemented by community schools for longer period. He never attended any but country schools until he entered Emory in the fall of 1878.

After graduation, Judge Blair taught one year in northeast Cherokee county, and in the fall of 1882 entered the law office of A. S. Clay, in Marietta, to read law. He was admitted to the bar at Canton on August 14, 1883, under Judge James R. Brown. Following his admission, he practiced law with Mr. Clay, under the firm name of Clay and Blair, until the former became United States senator, in the late nineties.

Following the dissolution of this partnership, Judge Blair practiced law alone until he became judge of the superior courts of the Blue Ridge circuit on February 1, 1920, under appointment of Governor Hugh Dorsey. He has since been twice elected judge of the circuit, once without opposition, and once over two opponents.

Judge Blair was married on December 3, 1885, to Miss Irene L. McKenzie, formerly of Montezuma. This union was blessed with six sons and two daughters. The surviving are Dr. Leslie L. Blair, graduate of Emory university, and captain in the Emory base hospital unit in the World war; Mrs. W. E. Roberts; Leon M. Blair, who attended Emory college, and from Lebanon Law school went to the war, and is now practicing law; Wiley Quillian, who also attended Emory and went to the war, and is now superintendent for American Telegraph and Telephone company at Charlotte, N. C.; Hugh E., who went to the war and is now with the Southern Cotton States Insurance company, in Atlanta; Mrs. C. B. Wright. All are married and reside in Marietta, except Wiley.

He lost two fo his sons after reaching the estate of young manhood: George Earnest, his first, and Daniel W., Jr.

Has Served City.

Judge Blair has served in his home city in the capacity of councilman and mayor. He was one of the organizers of its system of public schools and served upon its board of education for some 20 years for a large portion of which time he was president of the board. He has served as superintendent of the Sunday school and has taught in its for 30 or more years. He was a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity and Phi Ganna literary society. He was a large contributor to the Decatur orphans' home, Wesley Memorial hospital, Emory university, Wesleyan, Remhardt, and Young Harris colleges.

Besides his widow, sons and daughters, he is survived by five sisters; Mrs. John Matchett, of Douglasville; Mrs. Belle Williams, of Seabreeze, Fla.; Miss Dovie and Miss Ruth Blair, of Atlanta; and three brothers, Joseph and Hiram, of Atlanta, and Thomas, of Douglasville.

A. R. MUNN, ATLANTAN, OPENS DRUG MEETING

Macon, Ga., June 16.—(AP)—President A. R. Munn, Atlanta, called to order the 1926 convention of the Georgia Pharmaceutical association here this morning, which will continue for the next three days. Several hundred druggists from various sections of Georgia are attending.

The opening session was given over largely to preliminary matters, registration of delegates and the enrollment of new persons for membership. A stag luncheon was enjoyed today at noon.

Peach 'Drop' Losses Heavy, Say Growers

Macon, Ga., June 16.—(AP)—The executive committee of the Georgia Peach Growers' exchange, in session here today, announced that there had been a heavy loss to the peach crop during the last ten days, because of the drop of fruit, due to cold weather damage in March.

The exchange announced that the drop appears to be general throughout the belt and is continuing, with greatest loss being to the Hileys, Georgia Belles and Elbertas.

One grower reported that he counted 165 fallen peaches in a space four feet square under one tree this morning. Other growers said that they counted as many as 100.

Early varieties also have been cut short by the "drop," all of them falling behind the estimate that had been made by the peach growers' exchange.

One grower cut three cars from his estimate of Hileys, because of the abnormal drop of that variety, it was announced.

"It becomes more evident every day that we are going to have a short crop of Hileys from the state as a whole and that the crop of Hileys, Georgia Belles and Elbertas from the section south of Macon will be considerably short as compared with last season," W. C. Bewley, general manager of the exchange, stated.

All varieties are correspondingly late, it was stated.

Resignation of John H. Baird as director and first vice president of the exchange, was accepted today.

James R. Atwater, of Thomaston, was chosen first vice president, and P. J. A. Berckmans, Jr., of Mayfield, second vice president of the exchange.

COMMITTEE CALLS WAYNE B. WHEELER

counts, Dithrich said, there was an unpaid bill of approximately $3,000 for "the Motor Square Garden mass meeting." This was the rally at which Secretary Mellon delivered his first and only political speech, speaking for the Pepper-Fisher ticket.

"He aroused the plaudits of the populace?" asked Reed.

"Well, he saved the day in western Pennsylvania," Dithrich said.

"You heard of Mayor Kline's 'bread and butter' speech?"

"Yes."

"Did it create unfavorable comment?"

"Well, the opposition made the most they could of it."

Dithrich expressed doubt that Kline made the speech as the Pittsburgh Press reported it.

Illicit Breweries.

Replying to Senator King, Dithrich said some illicit breweries were operating in Allegheny county and that the Pepper-Fisher ticket had a hard fight in the districts where they operated.

"The Vare forces had the popular side in the fight," he added, "for Allegheny county is wet."

John M. Flynn, a democratic member of the Pennsylvania house of delegates, who said he met in conference here with W. L. Mellon and Joseph R. Grundy to discuss the fitness of John S. Fisher for the governorship, was asked by Senator Reed if he "ever heard of a fund of $200,000 being raised in Pennsylvania by the W. C. T. U. to get some reform in the election laws?"

"Yes, it was reported following the legislative session of 1923. At that time Governor Pinchot had complained that the legislature had failed to appropriate sufficient funds to enforce the prohibition law and it was reported the women undertook to raise the fund."

Flynn did not know how much was raised, but said that in the recent campaign "the charge was made that such a sum was raised, the charge having been made by Mrs. Maude Seymour that the money was not used for that purpose."

"About all this I am telling you I have is only rumor," Flynn added, "there was no doubt about the money being raised."

"To whom was the money donated?" asked Senator Goff.

"It was paid to the treasurer of the W. C. T. U., as I heard it."

"We are not putting this in as evidence," Senator Reed said, "but merely as hearsay, so as to get at the thing."

Flynn said that "just as matter of rumor," he had heard that the W. C. T. U. did not reach its $200,000 goal.

Flynn said "the women got to rowing among themselves and the controversy about the money followed."

"Oh, we had a wonderful campaign," he added, amid laughter.

The witness denied that he had agreed to act with Grundy in raising funds for the Pepper-Fisher combination from the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' association. He added that he did not collect any funds.

COERCION IS LAID TO PEPPER AND VARE.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

Washington, June 16.—Reports that city employees in Pittsburgh were coerced into supporting the Pepper-Vare ticket in the recent Pennsylvania primary were investigated in the senate campaign fund inquiry Wednesday.

Mayor Kline, of Pittsburgh, was put on the stand and was severely questioned by senators regarding his alleged "bread and butter" speech to city employees before the primary in which, it had been reported, the mayor warned them they would be discharged in face of the civil service law unless they voted for Senator George Wharton Pepper and John S. Fisher, the Mellon candidate for governor.

Just before Kline took the stand, William A. White, city editor of The Pittsburgh Press, a Scripps-Howard newspaper, testified that he had sent a shorthand reporter to take down a speech made by Mayor Kline to city employees, street cleaners, clerks, charwomen and others at a political meeting in a school house.

White testified to an account turned in by his reporter as part of Mayor Kline's speech which was alleged to have been a demand that his workers support the Mellon ticket in order to seize control of the state from the Vare crowd in Philadelphia, and a warning against any of the city employees "cheating" by voting for Vare.

According to the newspaper account, the mayor said:

"It doesn't require any intelligence to cheat. But the only unfortunate part of it will be that it will take me only to May 19 (the day following the primary) to find out who did cheat, and if then I find out a man has cheated, notwithstanding we have civil service in Pittsburgh, I would not keep him five minutes after I had discovered it.

"Would you rather have four years of bread and honey and butter here, or go down there to Vare and live on a bone? If you like Vare better than the mayor, who is head of the payroll, go to Vare and get your bread and butter. We have as dandy bread and butter in Pittsburgh as they have in Philadelphia. But I don't want to hold any one to the city of Pittsburgh who doesn't like the leadership here."

"Did you make that speech?" demanded Senator Reed, of Missouri, chairman.

"I did not make that speech, only some parts of it," the mayor replied.

FOUR NEW PLANTS FOR SOUTHERN CO.

Approval of plans for erection of four large plants in commercial centers of Florida, declaration of a quarterly dividend of $2 a share on preferred stock payable July 1, and a report by Harry D. Tipton, president and chairman of the board, featured a quarterly meeting Tuesday of the Southern Baking company at the Biltmore hotel.

Plants to be located in Tampa, Miami, Daytona and West Palm Beach are to be completed and in operation by fall, it was announced. With erection of these plants, the total number of Southern bakeries will be brought to fourteen, of which the Atlanta plan is the typical unit. Construction of these plants will bring the total invested by the Southern Baking company in four southern states well over $10,000,000, it is stated.

In President Tipton's report a record of the material progress of the company was noted, as well as the large increase in business, growth being 48 per cent over that of the first five months of 1925 for the entire system.

The increase in Atlanta business was almost as large as that recorded by the entire system, local records pointing out that Atlanta had an increase of 42 per cent over the five-months period.

Among prominent officials of the company attending the meeting were George A. Zabriskie, of New York, president of the United States sugar equalization board; J. S. Schomaker, secretary and treasurer of the Southern Baking company; H. O. Miller, vice president of the company; George P. Wadsworth, a leading business man of Charlotte, N. C., and directors of the company.

Rich Du Pont Heiress Plans To Wed Clerk

Wilmington, Del., June 16.—(AP)—The engagement of Elizabeth Frances DuPont, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip F. DuPont, of Fairmont, Pa., to Richard D. Morgan, a clerk in the offices of the Bell Telephone company in Philadelphia, was announced here today. Mr. Morgan is 21 years old and his fiancee 20.

The wedding, the culmination of a childhood friendship, will mark the third union of DuPont heiresses and comparatively poor men. The former Alicia DuPont, daughter of Alfred I. DuPont, recently entered suit for divorce in Reno, from her husband, Harold Glendenning, a Rhodes scholar, from Dartmouth college, and son of a Norwalk, Conn., mail carrier. Recently Miss Margarette L. DuPont, daughter of Irene E. DuPont, former president of E. I. DuPont de Nemours & Co., married Crawford Hallock Greenwalt, of Philadelphia, who is employed as a chemical engineer at the company's plant here.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Mystery Woman In Jones Murder Seeks Own Life

Birmingham, Ala., June 16.—(AP)—Mrs. Clarence Pearson, declared by the state to be the "mystery" woman in the slaying of John D. Jones, state law enforcement officer, near Birmingham on the night of May 26, was in a hospital here tonight with her throat slashed as the result of attempted suicide after she had been informed that her arrest in the case had been ordered.

The woman was reported resting well tonight and hospital attaches said that her chances of recovery are good.

State counsel today reported that Mrs. Pearson is the woman they believe was in the automobile with Byron Shirley, who is now on trial for the murder of Jones, and Dewey Barrett, held for trial on a similar charge. The woman, who had given a statement to Solicitor James Davis and Horace Wilkinson, who is aiding the prosecution, had been under surveillance for several days.

Should Mrs. Pearson recover, she will be placed under arrest as the result of an order issued today by Judge John P. McCoy after the attempted suicide was reported.

additional policewomen to patrol the streets and work in hotels in a further effort to suppress vice.

In opposing the ousting of Miss Dupree, Alderman Hartsfield contended that, although she and other members of the woman's bureau are not under civil service, and therefore could be summarily dismissed, she should be given a hearing before such "drastic actions were taken," and that specific charges should be made.

L. W. Whitley, dismissed from the force several weeks ago on a minor charge, was reinstated. J. W. Massey was elected as a supernumerary.

F. L. Tippin and T. J. Harrison were transfered from the night watch to day duty and A. E. Davis from morning duty to evening duty.

CLAUDE N. BENNETT BURIED IN THOMSON

Thomson, Ga., June 16.—(Special.) The funeral of Claude N. Bennett, who died in Washington recently, took place this morning from the residence of his sister, Mrs. C. H. Ellington. Interment was in Thomson cemetery. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful.

"What part didn't you make?" Reed inquired.

"That about intimidation of the payroll."

"Did you say anything about bread and butter?"

"Yes," answered the mayor. "We had a $20,000,000 bond issue up and that was my issue. I called on every individual and said that I was eating my bread and butter at the expense of the city of Pittsburgh, and I called on every other man to give his support."

"Why were you talking about Philadelphia?" Senator King, Utah, asked.

"I wanted the leadership taken away from Philadelphia and brought to Pittsburgh," Mayor Kline replied.

"Did you say anything about cheaters in that speech?" Senator King asked.

"No," replied Kline after answering evasively several times.

"Did you say anything about cheaters in other speeches?"

"I can't remember," the witness answered.

During severe questioning by Reed and King, Kline admitted mentioning civil service but not in the way reported in the newspaper account. Asked about other sections of his speech, he repeatedly said he could not remember. His replies irritated the two senators.

FOSTER DELAYS SALE OF A., B. & A.

Albert Foster, special master for the federal court for the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad, announced Wednesday that sale of that road under foreclosure proceedings scheduled for Wednesday, had been postponed until Tuesday, June 22. This action was taken at request of attorneys representing one of the banking firms which will submit a bid for the properties.

The Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic will be sold under a federal court order to carry out a reorganization plan which calls for operation of the line by a company which will be controlled by the Atlantic Coast Line railroad.

The Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic has been operated under a receivership for several years. The new deal will give the line important railway affiliations, including the Atlantic Coast Line, the Louisville and Nashville and the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroads.

Postponement of the sale was granted so that one of the bidding banking firms will have time to prepare its bid.

SEARS, ROEBUCK MANAGER ARRIVES

The man who brought the Sears, Roebuck company branch to Atlanta celebrated his 13th anniversary with the great concern Wednesday.

J. H. Beall is the man, and he will manage the huge plant when it opens on Ponce de Leon avenue early in August.

It was Mr. Beall who selected Atlanta over half a dozen other southern cities as the site for the store, which is rapidly nearing completion and will soon be ready for occupancy. He expects to occupy his office at the Ponce de Leon branch in July.

Mr. Beall came to Atlanta several days ago. That is, he came to stay at that time. He has made frequent visits to the city in the last year, coming here to study conditions which resulted in his recommendation that Sears, Roebuck build the branch here.

Wednesday, 13 years ago, Mr. Beall left the schoolteaching profession to go to work for Sears, Roebuck company in Chicago. His first position was as a "correspondent," which involved the business of answering all varieties of complaints of customers.

His Rise With Company.

He later became manager of the collection and claim department in Chicago, a division employing more than 500 workers. From that position he went to the superintendent's branch as "house man," the duties of which post were to carry "ideas," as he expressed it, from one of the Sears, Roebuck houses to another. It was while he was occupying this position that he was selected to look over the south and find the most desirable spot for another great branch of the company. He selected the site for the Kansas City store, which opened recently.

An interesting feature of the Sears, Roebuck plant was revealed Wednesday by Mr. Beall in an interview with a Constitution reporter. He said that a "steel viaduct" was being built into the building in order that carload shipments of goods might be brought in by train. This viaduct is nearing completion and probably will be the only thing of its kind in any building in Atlanta.

Huge Mail Volume.

Postmaster E. K. Large anonunced Wednesday that 15 additional employees would be assigned here for the handling of the company's huge quantity of mail.

Incoming mail will be called for by special trucks of the mail order firm, the largest in the whole world, it was pointed out, and these same trucks will convey outbound mail to the postoffice. No official announcement regarding the establishment of a sub-postoffice station at the Sears, Roebuck Ponce de Leon plant was made, although it is believed such provision will be necessary after the Atlanta business gets in full swing.

Mr. Beall is residing in Atlanta with his wife at the Georgian Terrace hotel.

He says he is "sold on Atlanta."

J. W. CALLAHAN DIES IN BAINBRIDGE HOME

Bainbridge, Ga., June 16.—(Special) J. W. Callahan, aged 68, leading citizen of Bainbridge died in his home on Evans street Wednesday afternoon following an illness of a few days.

Mr. Callahan, councilman and representative at various times for Decatur county, had served this city in an official capacity approximately 25 years.

Coming to Bainbridge 30 years ago, Mr. Callahan was identified with every important business of the town. He owned the hotels Callahan and Pon Air; a city block comprising the offices of the G. F. & A. railway, Southern Bell Telephone company, and large stores; the Bainbridge state bank building, of which institution he was a director; the Citizens bank building and numerous stores and real estate throughout the town. He owned and operated, at one time, the steamboats on the Flint river that ran between Bainbridge and Apalachicola, Fla. He was a generous contributor to all the churches and schools and to the boys and girls wanting an education and needing financial aid he was a liberal benefactor. At one time, Mr. Callahan was said to be the largest naval stores man in this country.

He was a trustee of the First Methodist church and funeral services will be held there Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock and interment in Oak City cemetery.

Surviving are his widow, two daughters, Mrs. H. J. Maddox and Mrs. R. V. Howell, and one son, Wesley Callahan.

REV. MARVIN PHARR BEGINS PASTORATE AT STONE MOUNTAIN

The Rev. Marvin Pharr, known throughout Georgia as an evangelist and singer, and the former leader of an orchestra, has accepted the pastorate of the Stone Mountain Baptist church, where for the past six months he has been supplying the pulpit, making the trip each week from Mercer university, where he is studying. He will graduate from that institution this month.

Mr. Pharr is well known in Atlanta, having directed some five years ago Turner's Novelty orchestra, which later became Warner's Seven Aces. He left the ochestra to study for the ministry at Mercer. He was ordained by the Atlanta ministerial conference and took up active work at the Stone Mountain church.

STEWART, RAGSDALE MOORE SPEAKERS AT CLUB SESSION

County Commissioners Virlyn B. Moore, Walter A. Stewart and former Commissioner I. N. Ragsdale, were speakers at a meeting of the West Fulton Improvement club at the Free Methodist church on Hollywood road Tuesday. They dealt with good roads, school and civic topics.

The West Fulton Improvement club was organized approximately two months ago and the membership of about 125 includes citizens of the section included between the city limits to the Chattahoochee river and from Hollywood road to Gordon road. The club meets every Tuesday night.

Following addresses, refreshments were served by members of the entertainment committee, which is headed by Mrs. K. W. Keadle. Other members of the committee assisting were Mrs. M. L. Williams, Mrs. B. Z. Livingston, Mrs. G. E. Rogers, Mrs. L. R. Smith, Mrs. Lucile Lavigne, Mrs. Fannie Atkinson, Mrs. A. A. Ransom and Mrs. Mason Denton.

Officers of the club are K. W. Keadle, president; L. R. Smith, chairman; M. L. Williams, secretary; Mrs. B. Z. Livingston, assistant secretary, and Mrs. Fannie Atkinson, treasurer.

Beauty Shops and Nature Vie In Womens Complexions Here

Atlanta always has been noted for its many beautiful women. Climatic conditions and water supply make this big growing city a leader as the home of beautiful girls and women.

While credit must be given to Atlanta's climate, it also has been said that there is some particular element in the drinking water of Atlanta that is the chief cause of so much pulchitrude in this Gate City of the south. With all the many advantages this city has been endowed with by Dame Nature, Atlanta is also favored in having extraordinarily good beauty and hair-dressing parlors.

The Gallaher Beauty parlor, 91 1-2 Peachtree street, is regarded by women of Atlanta as one of the best establishments of its kind in this section of the country and it is a popular place each week.

Several experts who specialize in nestle lanoil permanent waving and the circuline wave are located here. Careful scalp treatment, medical face packs, scientific facial, steam wave, hair dyeing and bleaching are done by ladies of long experience.

The marcel waving and fine hair cutting done by the Gallaher experts are sure to please the most particular customers and the management extends an invitation to all ladies considering having any personal beauty work done to call them at their central location. They also extend a special invitation to all lady strangers and visitors to Atlanta to call and see them and for the best of service at very moderate prices.

Clothes Once 'Lawn-Dried' Today Are Just 'Laundried'

History credits no one person with being the first to wash skins or clothes, nor does a careful look into the dim and misty past show any particular period when washing clothes by some one or another method was other than an old established custom.

"If Mother Eve is being credited with discovering that milk from cows and goats was good to drink," says Earl Knight, manager of the Guthman laundry, "is it not just as fair to assume that she was the first to know the difference between a clean and an unclean article?"

"While it is agreed that the washing of clothes has been going on in some form or method in all countries for countless ages, probably it would be interesting to know where and whence we first got the name of 'laundry' in connection with washing clothes," continued Mr. Knight Wednesday.

"The term 'laundry,' so we are told, originated on the estate of an English nobleman who lived on the headwaters of the Thames river in the 17th century, and whose servants got the best results from the clothes they washed by the way they dried them.

"It seems that on the river bank was a beautiful streteh of land where the grass had been closely cropped by the pet animals of the family and was called the 'lawn.' Servants soon found that the white clothes and linens, spread on the lawn to dry, bleached out more evenly than did those hung on the bushes and fences, and in boasting of their superior spotless clothes referred to them as 'lawn-dried.'

"The washing of clothes is now of more importance than at any time in the world's history. And in one household 'wash-day' is an outstanding day of the week as it means a day of hard work usually for the women folks and inconvenience for the rest of the family. In another family, probably next door, the wash-day is reduced to receiving the fresh returned laundry packages and putting away the clothes.

"The whole secret of why the laundry business takes the drudgery out of most of the American homes today," further stated Mr. Knight, "is the difference in the methods of washing the same clothes.

"When Hamilton Smith first introduced his power-washing machine to do the washing for the old Saint Charles and Monongahela house in Pittsburgh in 1863 he revolutionized the washing of clothes. Smith's first machine was to cause the backward and forward, agitated motion of water in an enclosed space and by putting in soap and heating the water several times more clothes could be washed in a given time. While there have been many improvements since on Smith's little machine, the basic principle is the same and the laundry business of today has been raised to the dignity of all other great American industries and we see today more than 7,200 in this country and thousands more in Canada, Europe, Africa and Australia, giving only a faint idea of the magnitude of the business today."

The Guthman Laundry company itself has been a progressive factor in the high rank the laundry business has attained here in Atlanta and vicinity and with the constant improvement in machinery, delivery and other facilities, this firm is able to do all the family wash in the most sanitary manner possible.

When you consider the fact that this big laundry runs your washing through four different kinds of suds using just the right kind of water and soap for each washing and then putting the same clothes through separate rinses, the cleaning and sterilizing of your clothes is far beyond what you or your family washwomen can do with the same clothes.

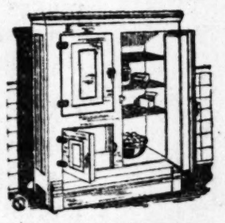

When you remember that back of this big laundry is that kind of organized responsibility that insured you that your clothes will receive the best of care at all times and be returned to you in the least possible time consistent with good work you then have at your convenience their phone number, Walnut 8661, which enables you to get at once the greatest service to be obtained in the washing of your clothes.

MYSTERY OF IRON MAN HERE IS NOW SOLVED

More or less mysterious slogans prevalent in Atlanta newspapers throughout last week, "Watch for the Iron Man," while likely to have been interpreted in at least two different ways, have turned out to have a very definite and singular meaning.

Rather than being a person of "Dempsey" proportions the "Iron Man" or "Men" are none other than salesmen of the Georgia Railway & Power company, who are in the midst of a most interesting electric iron campaign. They are offering the famed Edison iron, together with a Rid-Jid ironing table, at a most attractive price.

Furthermore, any old iron—electric, gas, sad or flat—is being taken in as part payment of this combination offer. The terms are 50 cents down (the very lowest ever given by the power company), and 60 cents per month on the balance.

WEDDING PRESENTS OF FINE QUALITY OFFERED TO LAST

People are becoming educated in the proper way of buying silver. Sterling silver is sold at such a moderate price today that the public in selecting a piece of silver inquire as to the price and then invariably ask if it is sterling there is such little difference in the price when the buyer is in the right store. Daniel & Dodson, of 24-A South Broad street, offer a fine line of watches, diamonds, jewelry and silverware of every description.

At this up-to-date jewelry store the public does not have to buy a whole chest of silver at a time, they have the opportunity of selecting such popular open stock patterns as Fairfax, Louis XIV, Virginia Carvil, or any well known pattern they desire and buy only a few pieces at a time especially is this a fine way to obtain a set of goblets as they can be bought at the astonishingly low price of seven dollars up and can be added to at different gift occasions such as anniversaries, birthdays, weddings and other occasions.

This firm has an exceptionally fine line of watches, diamonds, brooches, bracelets, vanity cases, Gorham silver—both in flat and hollowware, goblet water pitchers, vases, baskets and candlesticks as well as odd pieces of silverware and all the standard makes of jewelry now in style.

As gifts from this shop will last for a long time, would it not be timely to remember the sweet girl graduate or the dear friends about to be married with a handsome present from this shop? As the years go by would they not, when looking at the thoughtful present, remember with pleasure the event that prompted the gift?

Mattress Business Becoming Big Industry in Atlanta

The mattress business, like all important household necessities, has undergone many various changes during the past fifteen or twenty years, and especially is this so during the past four or five years, when fancy tickings became all the vogue.

Atlanta has several exceptionally good mattress companies and they are rendering the people of this part of the southland good service both in the making and renovating of all kinds of mattresses.

Take the Gate City Mattress company, of 404 Decatur street. This is now in the midst of the summer rush season and busy doing work for old customers and new friends in Atlanta, Georgia and neighboring states.

This firm enjoys the trade of a large number of people and furniture dealers out of town who send them old mattresses to again be made new, and they do a big volume of business yearly with out-of-town people by the splendid service they render.

The president of the Gate City Mattress company, Paul G. Hornbuckle, has made a life study of the needs of the people when it comes to mattresses, and has surrounded himself with expert workmen who take pride in their work, and the work they do always brings repeat orders to their shop.

When it comes to rush work this firm is especially equipped to do this class of work in a hurry, and when a phone call is given them by 8 o'clock in the morning they will call for, completely renovate and put a new tick on for you and return it to you in time for use the same night.

The Gate City keeps a little ahead of the times, and is prepared to furnish any kind of the best grades of ticking and renovate anything in the mattress line, including box springs, special pillows and odd-size ticks for any kind of special mattresses.

How Housewife Can Save

(HELPFUL ECONOMY HINTS)

There is a vast difference between being cleverly poor and stolidly poor. Anyone may be individualistic in buying and in dressing. The slender purse allows no mistakes, one selects with brains in place of mere money—and not having money enough to slather it about the lack develops ingenuity and makes a delightful adventure of shopping, in place of an exhibition lacking in interest and thrill.

Color Schemes.

Did you ever think of having a color scheme for the season's buying? If you haven't, try it out.

A clever woman always decides on a main color scheme for the months ahead. If she chooses navy blue, old ivory and flame color—she sticks to these tints. Then she can wear what she buys alone or together, knowing that everything will harmonize and there will be no clashes. She is always exceptionally well dressed on a minimum outlay and never has a lot of leftovers to distress her later.

Buy Just Enough.

Buying just enough and not too much is the secret of clever and modish costume. The woman who buys too much must either wear out of date garments, go to much expense to remodel them with varying possibilities of satisfaction, or discard good garments utterly because they are no longer in style.

Quite the wisest plan is to study fashion magazines and style hints carefully and regularly; also to observe the leading and even the advance fashions of refinement. Then one can govern oneself accordingly.

A man would not think of buying a declining stock, for he would know that he would be almost certain to lose. A woman should be equally reluctant if she wishes to be well dressed, to think of buying a declining style of clothing or millinery.

Fashion Hints

Georgette Good.

White georgette is used to develop a triple frock with belero at the front extending into a draped girdle at the back. A white velvet flower is worn on the shoulder.

Maize Organdie.

Maize organdie is chosen to make a summer frock bordered in delicate black lace with white lace appliques. The black lace note is repeated in the lower sleeve sections that extend well over the hand. The gold touch that appears in the embroideries is accented again in the metal cloth foundation.

Chiffon Popular.

Flowered chiffon is at its loveliest in a youthful frock with bateau neckline, flowing sleeves and bolero suggestion.

Variety of Colors.

Countesse Slam favors a straight-line coat of dark blue taffeta distinctive with elaborately stitched motif. It is accompanied with a silver fox scarf, openwork sandals and large hat.

$15,000 DAMAGES GIVEN RICHARDSON

A verdict of $15,000 was rendered Wednesday by a jury in Judge John D. Humphries' division of Fulton superior court in favor of Everett D. Richardson, Jr., against Peter B. Bogart, manager of a local heating concern.

The suit was brought by Richardson, a son of Dr. E. D. Richardson, prominent Atlanta physician, through his attorneys, Ed C. Hill and Reuben R. Arnold, for damages alleged to have been received when young Richardson was struck from the motorcycle on which he was riding by an automobile driven by Bogart. The accident occurred at the intersection of Peachtree and East Fifteenth streets in August, 1924.

EDGAR WATKINS, JR., TO JOIN LEGAL FIRM

Edgar Watkins, Jr., who was graduated in law at Harvard university this year, will return to Atlanta today and will become a member of the law firm of Watkins and Asbill, in the Atlanta Trust building, it was announced Wednesday. The new firm name will be Watkins, Asbill and Watkins.

Mr. Watkins, Jr., was graduated at Oglethorpe university in 1922. He then entered Harvard and received his degree this year. Edgar Watkins and Mac Asbill are the other members of the firm.

PARKS REGIME LAUDED BY WHITE

Atlanta parks, playgrounds and swimming pools are better equipped and manned than ever before in the history of the city, according to John A. White, chairman of the parks committee of city council, who declared that The Constitution's appeal Wednesday to parents to assist attaches of the department in keeping children out of danger is the right note and should be stressed further.

"The park system this year is far superior to anything Atlanta has ever offered in the way of recreation," Mr. White said. "We handle between 500,000 and 600,000 persons annually in swimming pools, and this year's record will far surpass any previous year. There have been only two fatalities in the past five years, and these have come within the past week.

"Although every park official believes that locker men were derelict in failing to inspect thoroughly lockers at Grant park and in failing to find the clothing of James Townley, we do not believe this contributed in any way to young Townley's death.

"The incident is regrettable, and we feel it keenly, but doctors are not even sure whether drowning was the direct cause of the death or a stroke was the cause of the drowning. The same is true in the Piedmont park tragedy, where Himan Cohen met death.

"Drastic orders have been issued to prevent recurrences of such catastrophes even though we may not be to blame, and we are appealing to parents to help us keep their children out of danger. Competent life guards are on duty while pools are open. They are the most capable within the whole city and were selected by swimming experts after passing strict life-saving tests.

"Every force and means at the command of the park department has been directed toward making the pools safe for Atlantans, and with the help of parents the danger will be negligible."

Five swimming pools under a corps of experts now are open to the public, Mr. White stated, and the system is under the most efficient management of any in the entire south.

Bell and Jacob Gazes are supreme representatives. On the judiciary committee are L. L. Landers, Charles C. Hall, Dr. W. R. Lowe, on the finance committee are H. M. Raymond, I. M. Wengrow and Sam T. Ray. William G. Sutlive and Newman Laser are on the publicity committee.

TOBIN NAMED AGENT BY MISSOURI-PACIFIC

Garland Tobin, of Atlanta, has been appointed general agent of the passenger department of the Missouri-Pacific lines for the Atlanta agency, it was announced Wednesday. The local agency includes Georgia, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Florida and Cuba. Mr. Tobin took his new post Tuesday.

GARLAND TOBIN.

Other important appointments of various heads of the departments also was announced. John C. Graves was appointed assistant general passenger agent; J. A. Bloodworth, traveling passenger agent, and N. B. Nickerson, city passenger agent.

Effective the same date was the appointment of Mitchell B. Moore, commercial agent at Jacksonville, Fla., to general agent of the freight department. Mr. Moore will be assisted in the Atlanta office by Gene Satzky, traveling freight agent; Henry C. Handken, city soliciting freight agent; O. C. Stapp, chief clerk, and R. W. Kohlman.

The Missouri-Pacific system of roads now has control of nearly 10,000 miles of road, including the Missouri-Pacific railroad, Gulf Coast Lines, the International Great Northern-San Antonio, and the Uvalda & Gulf lines. It also has close working arrangements with the Texas & Pacific, the Denver & Rio Grande, and the Western Pacific, it is said.

TOYS AND CLOTHING ASKED FOR CHILDREN

An appeal for toys and clothes for children has been made by Colonel Horace Burton, head of the American Rescue Workers.

During a recent fire at the Rescue Workers' home at 306 South Pryor street, practically all of the children's toys were burned, he said. Anyone wishing to give toys or clothing may do so by calling Colonel Burton at Walnut 9763, or by going directly to the new headquarters, at 396 Piedmont avenue.

BATCHELOR'S PLEA FOR COMMUTATION DENIED BY BOARD

The state prison commission Wednesday refused to grant commutation of the death sentence imposed on John D. Batchelor, of Gray, who was sentenced to the electric chair for killing Mrs. Fannie Anderson, his mother-in-law, in April, 1925.

Although the prison commission declined to recommend commutation, the governor has authority to change the sentence to life imprisonment, and attorneys for the condemned man are preparing to make a final appeal to Governor Clifford Walker. Unless the governor commutes the sentence, Batchelor will be executed July 2 at Milledgeville.

The prison commission also declined to recommend commutation of death sentence imposed in Muscogee county on Rufus "Mule" Hicks, who was convicted on a charge of killing H. J. Walker, a convict guard. The case now will be presented to Governor Walker, who will be asked to commute the death sentence to life imprisonment.

Hicks was serving a sentence of 20 years for stealing a horse when he attempted to escape, and in the attempt killed the guard. Many persons in Muscogee county felt that the sentence imposed on the negro for the original crime was excessive and sought mercy for the negro.

HOKE SMITH AGAIN DECLINES TO RUN

Former United States Senator Hoke Smith declared Wednesday that he is not disposed to enter the race for governor in the primaries this fall after a request that he make the fight had been made by several close personal friends.

Senator Smith declared that he wanted to devote his time to work as a private citizen to help exploit the advantages of the state of Georgia. The senator left Atlanta Wednesday afternoon for Washington, D. C., to transact some legal business.

Judge C. F. McLaughlin, of Columbus, close friend of W. Cecil Neill, who retired as a candidate for governor Tuesday, was one of the men who called on Senator Smith Wednesday and urged the senator to run for governor.

THIRD DISTRICT TO HOLD PRIMARY ON SEPTEMBER 8

Americus, Ga., June 16.—(Special.) September 8 was fixed as the date for holding a congressional primary by the third district democratic executive committee in session at the Windsor hotel here Tuesday. The committee fixed September 16 as the date for holding the congressional convention in Americus. Besides a large number who were represented by proxy, members of the committee who attended the meeting in Americus were as follows: T. M. Furlow, Sumter, chairman; John Greer, Macon, secretary; E. W. Jowers, Quitman; Dr. J. G. Green, Terrell; L. B. West, Randolph; Samuel Ingram, Turner; E. A. Rogers, Turner; Mrs. R. A. Hicks, Macon Mrs. J. C. King, Schley, and Miss Emily Woodward, Dooly. Judge Charles R. Crisp, who has represented this district in congress during a number of years past, has again announced his candidacy, and it is indicated he will be without opposition for renomination.

PEN DUCK MILL EXTENSION SEEN

Washington, June 16.—(Special) Extension of the duck mill at the Atlanta federal penitentiary is being planned by the department of justice, it was announced here Wednesday.

"It is found that the government will require 9,792,232 yards of various types of textiles, of which the Atlanta duck plant is able to accept 3,653,447 yards," the statement said.

"The department is now giving consideration to plans for extension of the Atlanta duck mill and the installation of new looms and other facilities to enable the plant to accept some portion of the six million yards of textiles which it is now unable to handle. If it is found feasible to enlarge the mill it will be possible to give employment to a large number of prisoners who would otherwise remain in partial idleness, and it would also be possible to furnish government departments with cotton textile of a high grade at a reasonable cost."

FLORIDA M. E. SEEKING HOSPITAL FOR CHURCH

St. Petersburg, Fla., June 16.—(AP) Establishment in Florida of a Southern Methodist hospital was urged today at the annual state conference of the Methodist church, south, being held at the First church here, by C. C. Jarrell, general secretary of the hospital board.

Substantial offers of financial support already have been made, Dr. Jarrell declared. Action probably will be taken at the conference session here, the hospital board convening this afternoon to discuss possibilities of establishing a hospital institution.

Mayor C. M. Blanc this morning welcomed the 600 ministers and their wives to the city in behalf of the city government. He called attention to the growth of the city since its beginning only 35 years ago, and its reputation as one of the greatest church cities in the country.

S. D. Harris, of this city, welcomed the delegates in behalf of the First Methodist church, south, which is entertaining the conference. Growth of the church here was briefly outlined and attention called to the great church plant which has been constructed in the last year.

Responding to the addresses of welcome, Bishop Hoyt M. Dobbs, of Memphis, president of the conference, declared that St. Petersburg's fame as a city of church-loving people was far-spread.

FLY-FLU

Kills 'em all

Kills FLIES Everyone now knows the menace of the loathsome fly. The problem is how to get rid of them faster than they breed. If every home were to use Fly-Flu, flies would be extinct in no time. Fly-Flu gets them by the room-full. Fly-Flu does more than merely stun them temporarily—it smothers them to death.

Kills MOSQUITOES Besides being one of the most troublesome pests known to man, the mosquito is responsible for much unnecessary illness. It is a consistent carrier of malaria. Use Fly-Flu for the wholesale annihilation of mosquitoes. Spray Fly-Flu thoroughly in the bedroom before retiring. Spray Fly-Flu in all places near the home where mosquitoes breed, for it kills the larvae.

Kills ANTS Ants are repulsive and cause the housewife much distress. Several varieties have a painful bite. But there is no longer any reason for tolerating ants in the home, for Fly-Flu, when sprayed on them, and down the cracks and holes where they get in the house, will kill every one within reach of the deadly fumes. Find the nest and give that a good spraying, too.

SCIENTISTS for many years have searched for the perfect insecticide—one that would kill every form of insect life, and yet be harmless to humans or animals, and stainless.

But it remained for a famous Southern Physician to discover such a preparation, which he made from an extract derived from a flower—the Pyrethrum.

This powerful insecticide—called Fly-Flu—is one of the most outstanding contributions to humanity in its fight against the spread of disease. For Fly-Flu spells instant death to every form of crawling or flying insect life, and yet is as harmless to humans as pure air itself.

When used, Fly-Flu is to humans a pleasant smelling mist, but to insects of all kinds it is a death dealing vapour that snuffs out their lives instantly. These filthy germ-laden insects breathe through their bodies and Fly-Flu fills the pores and suffocates them.

Fly-Flu harms nothing but insects.

Fly-Flu will not stain or injure the most delicate fabric and can therefore be used to kill moths and their eggs in clothing, hangings, rugs, or upholstery.

Fly-Flu is a marvelously effective deodorant. Before its purifying breath, unclean odors magically disappear. Use it freely around the garbage-pail, outhouses, stables, and barns.

Insects are far more active in the home during warm weather. Science now attributes the spread of cancer to roaches. Flies and mosquitoes are both laden with disease germs. Make haste to protect your family from the ravages of insects by using Fly-Flu. Send at once to your grocer or druggist for a bottle. Keep it on hand—always.

Kills ROACHES There are several kinds of roaches—some crawl and others fly. They are, of course, all disgusting to the housewife. They live and feed upon unclean things and at night scurry into the kitchen and pantry, contaminating everything they touch. Roaches are now thought to be cancer spreaders. Killing them one at a time does little good. But Fly-Flu, sprayed thoroughly into cracks and crevices, kills them all at once.

Kills FLEAS During a period of hot, dry weather, the housewife is apt to find her home harboring a plague of fleas. In this case, the only sure remedy is Fly-Flu, which can be sprayed into the rugs and hangings without damaging anything but the insects. Domestic pets should have an application every now and then to keep them free from fleas, too.

Kills BEDBUGS In the home unprotected by Fly-Flu, bedbugs have a way of making an unwelcome visit in spite of all precautions. They are often brought in with the clothes from the washwoman, from adjoining premises, etc. Fly-Flu sprayed thoroughly into carpets and rugs, blankets, mattress, springs and bed frame, never fails to exterminate them.

To get the best results, Fly-Flu should be used with the hand sprayer made especially for its use. Remember Fly-Flu kills every form of insect—flies, mosquitoes, fleas, roaches, ants, waterbugs, bedbugs, lice, moths and their eggs, and also various plant insects. Get a large bottle from your grocer or druggist today, and safeguard your family from disease. Large users, such as hotels, hospitals, restaurants, farms, etc., can get bulk prices from their wholesalers, or write direct to the Davis Manufacturing Co.

Total stock sales, 1,080,000 shares.

New York, June 16.—(AP)—Stimuated by easier money rates and reports of further improvement in the steel industry, operations for the rise went ahead at a brisk pace in today's stock market under the leadership of the high-grade industrials. Wire and commission houses reported a substantial increase in public participation, the day's sales again running close to 2,000,000 shares.

U. S. Steel common and General Motors were again the individual favorites, the former touching 139, a new high for the year and just 1-4 a point below the record high for all time, established on November 7 last, while the latter touched 144 3-8, the highest price in its history. Total transactions in these two issues totaled nearly 250,000 shares, or one-eighth of the day's business. Their strength, combined with that of General Electric (old stock), which closed 7 1-4 points higher at 336, and Maryland, which touched a new high for the year at 63, the other so-called "Morgan stocks," had a bullish effect on speculative sentiment.

The recent strength of the market has been attributed, in part, to the heavy investment demand for high-grade dividend paying stocks, due, in part, to the relatively low yield on high-class bonds. The decision of the United States treasury not to do any financing this quarter has made available over $300,000,000 for investment, part of which is believed to have found its way into the stock market. The announcement that the foreign trade balance in May was "favorable" for the first time this year, also has had a temporarily bullish effect.

New York, June 16.—(AP)—An early decline in the cotton market today on reports of continued good weather and crop progress over the greater part of the belt was followed by rallies. After selling off to 16.22, October rallied to 16.37 and closed at 16.33, the general market closing steady at a net advance of 2 to 16 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 3 to 5 points in response to lower Liverpool cables. Active months soon showed net losses of about 4 to 6 points, and there was probably selling in anticipation of a favorable weekly report from the weather bureau and a generally favorable weather map.

July eased off to 17.47 and December to 16.27, but at these figures offerings diminished. There were rallies later in the day on covering by recent sellers, which appeared to be combined with buying for trade or investment account.

The weekly report of the weather bureau read quite as favorably as expected, but evidently had been discounted. The afternoon rally may have been promoted by the relatively steady ruling of July contracts on covering. At the close July was 136 points over October.

New York, June 16.—(AP)—Cotton spot steady; middling 18.20.

PRICES FLUCTUATE ON NEW ORLEANS MART.

New Orleans, La., June 16.—(AP)—The cotton market developed moderate activity today and prices fluctuated rather erratically in the early portion of the session, but firmed up later on, owing to the stronger technical position of the market, due to the large short interest.

Although Liverpool was about as due at the start, prices declined 6 to 10 points on the active months, owing to the unexpected offering of the August position, generally an inactive month, at a big drop compared with the bid of the previous close and at a discount under October. The offerings were taken up by trade interests at 15.93 and 15.95, and near the end of the day that option sold as high as 16.12 and the closing bid was 16.20. Following the early decline, which was helped by good weather and a favorable weekly weather report, the market rallied and eventually showed gains over the lows of 17 to 26 points. The close was steady, showing net gains for the day of 6 to 14 points.

At the start, as cables were comparatively steady, July opened 2 points up, but later positions opened 5 to 8 points down in sympathy with the slump in the August option. July soon traded down to 16.72, October to 15.85 and December at 15.84, or 6 to 10 points below the close of Tuesday. These prices remained the lows of the day.

The weekly weather report claimed that the weather had been generally favorable and that the crop had made good progress except in the dry areas of the Carolinas and north Georgia. Prices remained on the upgrade following the early break and about the middle of the afternoon July traded at 16.98, October at 16.05 and December at 16.01, or 17 to 26 points above the lows of the morning. The close was near the highs.

Exports for the day were liberal, totalling 52,832 bales.

TONE IS STRONGER ON CURB MARKET

New York, June 16.—(AP)—Price movements in today's curb market again lacked uniformity, although a better tone was apparent towards the close, presumably in sympathy with the rally on the "big board." Brokers reported, however, that the public was slow in coming back into the market, with the result that trading continued relatively light in volume.

Stimulated by favorable merger and dividend rumors the price tendency in the oils was made uniformly upward. Standard Oil of Kentucky, Beacon, Gulf & Wilcox were among the few issues to show net gains of a point or more. Pennok dropped over 2 points to a new low at 16 1-2.

Special buying took place in several industrials. Dresdner Bank (American shares) advanced 2 points to a new high at 109, McCall Bank (American shares) advanced 2 points to a new high at 109, McCall Corporation advanced 2 1-2 points to within a half a point of the year's top and Herman Nelson advanced over a point to a new peak at 27 3-4. Bucyrus Company soared 7 points to 217 in anticipation of special dividend action.

EAST POINT CHAMBER ENTERTAINS LEADERS

Prominent citizens and civic leaders of East Point, College Park and Hapeville gathered at an informal banquet Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at the Masonic temple in East Point as guests of the East Point Chamber of Commerce. More than 100 persons were present.

Mayor C. H. Livsey, of East Point, Mayor Hugh Couch, of College Park, Fulton County Commissioners Virlyn B. Moore and Walter B. Stewart, Judge John D. Humphries, Judge G. H. Howard, Professor J. T. McGee, superintendent of East Point schools, Press Huddleston, J. Wayne Moore, of College Park, I. N. Rugsdale and others were among speakers.

J. F. Hute, president of East Point Chamber of Commerce, presided at the meeting and Ed Humphries was master of ceremonies.

Questions pertaining to the development of the south side of Fulton county were principal topics for discussion, speakers pointing out the growing development and predicting other substantial progress in the future.

Blind Senator Scores Enemies In Bitter Speech

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Washington, June 16.—Senator Thomas D. Schall, republican, of Minnesota, blind member of congress, precipitated a stormy scene in the senate today.

Senator Schall, immediately after the senate by an unanimous vote had approved a resolution from the elections committee giving him clear title to his seat and dismissing a contest brought by his defeated opponent in 1924, former Senator Magnus Johnson, obtained permission to have the clerk read a statement which he had prepared.

The statement proved to be a vitriolic attack upon his political enemies and contained language of such character that several senators voiced their protest.

Refusing to withdraw the statement from the record, Senator Schall appealed to the senate to permit his answer to slanders against him to reach the people of his state.

Printed in Record.

The Minnesota senator's statement and accompanying remarks, both containing language not ordinarily regarded as printable, were allowed to go into the record, but the ire of the senate was aroused to such an extent as to cause it to reverse its action in connection with the printing of the record of the testimony taken by the senate elections subcommittee. The senate, in approving the dismissal of the Johnson contest, had refused to order the record printed, owing to the expense involved, although Senator Schall's opponents desired it.

ATLANTANS FILL ALL ELECTRICAL SOCIETY OFFICES

Columbus, Ga., June 16.—(AP)—With George E. Jacquet, of New York, representing the Society of Electrical Development, as the chief speaker, the final day session of the Georgia Electrical association was held here this morning.

The following officers have been elected: H. A. Pendergraph, of Atlanta, president; T. W. Moore, Atlanta, vice president, and W. W. Barr, Atlanta, secretary.

The next convention city will be chosen by the executive committee.

At the conclusion of the Wednesday morning session the delegates were taken to Goat Rock on a tour of inspection of the great dam at that place. They also visited Bartlett's Ferry.

The convention closed tonight with a banquet.

The Day in Finance

By R. L. BARNUM

New York, June 16.—With the mid-month government financing and large interest and dividend payments passed without any disturbance to the money market, call loans renewed at 3 3-4 per cent and quickly dropped to 3 1-2, the lowest rate since May 12, resulting in continued strength in the stock market. The way profit-taking in the stock market has been absorbed during the past few days strengthens the opinion of those in Wall street who believe that the upward turn in stock prices will go higher.

Much attention was paid today by Wall street to widely published views of Colonel Ayers, of the Cleveland Trust company to the effect that the outlook for the rest of this year, and extending into 1927 is for gradual slowing down in general trade. The comment generally heard here was that it is a mistake to publish alarming conclusions regarding the future of general trade without giving reasons. The widely published statement in question gave alarming conclusions without convincing reasons. In a statement published later throughout Wall street, Mr. Ayers is quoted as saying that the action of the stock market between June 5 and 10 convinced him that the downward price movement had been arrested for the present. He says he would not be surprised by a further advance into higher ground than reached in the new high average price for stocks established early in the year, as conditions making for inflation have been right for the past two years. He believes money released from general trade will find employment in the stock market.

Trend Is Upward.

The last statement made by Mr. Ayers predicted a slowing down in general trade. Since then there has been improvement in general trade with the stock market showing a decided upward trend.

The Iron Age is one recognized authority which does not agree with the Cleveland financier quoted above. Today's weekly review says that for the second week developments in the steel trade have been on the side of betterment with new orders and specifications increasing, and with the second week in June the best in new orders since late in March, strengthening the lately-held opinion in the steel trade that midsummer production will be considerably larger than the average for the past two years.

Chairman Harris, of the finance committee of the board of directors of the New York Central, expressed views today in harmony with those in the steel trade. Sailing for Europe on the Aquitania, he says the railroad situation has been improving ever since the end in 1920 of war-time government control. His own road, he said, has enjoyed steady progress, adding: "We are well satisfied with conditions. Our business is running ahead of last year on all lines, and I do not see any signs of a falling off in general trade for the last half of this year. We expect 1926 to be better than 1925."

French francs were better today. International bankers believe that some strong man, having the confidence of the country, like Poincare, will be made minister of finance to succeed Peret, who just resigned, or else parliament will resign and a general election held at which the conservative element will win out. Of course, there is a chance that the country will go red in a general election, but bankers here think such a chance is very small.

Gossip About Marland.

According to recent rumors, Atlantic Refining was to take over Marland on the basis of one share of Atlantic for two shares of Marland. Present gossip has it that Marland shareholders are now insisting on a better trade, thinking their stock is worth more than those named in previous reports.

Motors were strong today on short covering and good buying on rumor that General Motors, Mack Truck and other companies would publish very favorable earnings for the first half of 1926. Professional traders still short of the motor shares, however, continue to insist that the earnings of the motor companies for the last half of 1926 will make a poor showing compared with the first six months. The bears in the stock market are doing their best to circulate stories that the automobile manufacturers are having trouble with a heavy supply of used cars and from being forced to "repossess" new cars sold to people on the partial payment plan who found afterwards that payments could not be maintained.

Crude rubber consumption by tire manufacturers for the first four months of the year footed up 176,000,000 pounds in round numbers against 178,000,000 a year ago. According to rumors, several large rubber manufacturers here have become interested in the development of 650,000 acres of rubber land in southern Sumatra.

Bootleg Booze Ring Informer Hit by Officials

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Washington, June 16.—William C. Davidson, alias William Caine, self-styled reformed bootlegger, who amazed the house alcoholic liquor traffic committee, with a story of a bootleg booze ring involving banks and dry law officials from the Pacific coast to Detroit, was denounced by the prohibition unit tonight as a dope addict and a confessed blackmailer.

Davidson, once a performer, he said, in west coast "honky-tonk" shows, turned bootlegger nearly six years ago and within a few months, had developed from a peddler of single bottles to a 1,000-case-lot merchant, accumulating more than $50,000 in profits before he "reformed about a year ago," and decided to devote his life to exposing the connivance of metropolitan banks in illicit whisky deals.

From Portland, Ore., to Detroit, Mich., he named important banks that act as stake-holders in bootleg deals, holding in escrow the purchase money for the bootlegger until the whisky has been delivered to the customer. Tiring, he said, of futile efforts to secure the cooperation of prohibition officers in trapping these banks and bootleggers, he flivvered across the continent to Washington to tell his story to the alcoholic liquor traffic committee.

Until James J. Britt, general counsel for the prohibition unit, appeared at the evening session of the committee, members of the group were visibly impressed with the story and none appeared more embarrassed by the denouement which followed Britt's statement than Representive LaGuardia, socialist, of New York, who forced them into hearing Caine by threatening to hold a one-man hearing if necessary in order to get the story into the congressional record.

Britt disclosed that as soon as Walton R. Green, chief prohibition investigator, learned of Caine's story from Prohibition Administrator Frith, of the Los Angeles district, two special agents were rushed to Washington to take charge of the investigation and seek evidence on which to prosecute the banks and bank officials named by Caine.

Even as Caine was conferring with the two agents and the Los Angeles federal district attorney on methods to be pursued, it was learned that Caine had visited one of the banks he named and demanded $10,000. Failing to collect from the bank, he visited Los Angeles newspaper offices, offering to expose the west coast bootleg ring, but his offer was not accepted.

All negotiations with Caine were dropped at once, according to Britt, and he was forgotten, until some months later Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews received another series of telegrams from Caine, now making his way east by way of Fort Worth, St. Louis, and Detroit, offering evidence of the alleged nation-wide conspiracy between banks and bootleggers in return for transportation to Washington and expenses.

FIVE ARE KILLED IN TRAIN CRASH ON PENNSYLVANIA

Pittsburgh, June 17.—(AP)—Rescue workers had removed five unidentified bodies and taken out an unknown number of injured early this morning from the wreckage of two Pullman cars of Pennsylvania railroad train No. 40 which were telescoped when the engine of train 50 crashed into them at Gray's Station, near Torrance, Westmoreland county, late last night.

Officials of the railroad here said that the engine of train 50, Pittsburgh to Washington, had been halted because of trouble. It appeared, they said, that the engineer of No. 40 ran past a block signal stop, crashing into the Pullmans on the rear of No. 50. Train 40 from Chicago, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh was enroute to New York.

MISS DUGENT WINS VERDICT BY JURY IN ESTATE FIGHT

Baltimore, Md., June 16.—(AP)—Elsa Dugent today won the first round in her battle to obtain a widow's share of the estate of the late G. Edgar Smith, valued at more than $100,000. After only 45 minutes' deliberation, a jury in city court, which heard testimony for the past eight days, decided that Miss Dugent and Mr. Smith were married in February, 1912.

Attorneys for the estate indicated tonight that they will appeal the verdict.

Smith, who was treasurer of the Whitehurst theater interest, was reputed a bachelor, at the time of his death. During the trial Mrs. Dugent Smith testified that the marriage, performed in Wilmington, Del., was kept secret at the wish of Mr. Smith.

A deposition by a Wilmington clergyman, introduced as evidence, stated that on February 10, 1912, he married "George E. Smith, of Philadelphia, to Elsie G. Dugent, of Baltimore." Mr. Smith's will, made only several weeks before his death, contained no mention of a wife and bequeathed his estate to several sisters.

Sugar.

New York, June 16.—The raw sugar market was quieter today and as no sales were reported, prices were unchanged at 4.18 for spots, duty paid.

Raw futures were irregular, closing at a net advance of one point to a decline of one point. Houses with trade connections were the principal sellers, but there was good outside buying which, with covering of shorts absorbed all offerings, and kept prices within narrow bounds. Approximate sales 53,000 tons.

July closed 2.43; September 2.37; December 2.12; January 2.77; March 2.74.

Refined was less active today, but there were good withdrawals on old contracts. Prices were unchanged at 5.40 to 5.70 for fine granulated.

News, Views And Reviews

Stock Letters.

FENNER & BEANE.

New York, June 16.—Bullish activities were further heightened today and received considerable stimulus from the easement in money rates, which were reduced to 3½ per cent. As a group, the oils continued to show the greatest activity and strength, with Marland reaching a further high record. General Motors was also put into new high ground, which had a sympathetic move in Dupont.

Cotton Letters.

FENNER & BEANE.

New Orleans, June 16.—The cotton market was a fairly good trading affair today, with opportunities on both sides. It developed a good deal of strength owing to trade buying, taking out of hedges in July against sales of spots and profit taking in new crops by recent sellers. It looks like a good many shorts waited for the weekly review to furnish them with an opportunity to cash their profits by inducing fresh selling.

PYNCHON & CO.

New York, June 16.—Our advices from the south have recently been in report of improved conditions in some sections and a more satisfactory outlook. In parts of the Piedmont region, where drouth makes the prospects dubious, showers have fallen, bringing at least temporary relief. However, our wires state heavy rains are still needed. Precipitation, of course, may come at any time, and if it does, and influences in the west become ideal, a crop can undoubtedly be raised exceeding the world's requirements.

H. & B. BEER.

New Orleans, June 15.—Easier cables than due influenced values to a lower level this morning, but the market recovered as a result of insufficient rain in the dry areas of the South Atlantic states and because of large exports from the United States today, which represent mid-month clearances. As was generally expected, the weekly weather and crop government review was generally favorable, except for it having been too dry in parts of northern Georgia and in the interior of the Carolinas.

HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

New York, June 16.—The general idea this morning appeared to be that the market would sell off on the idea of a much better weekly weather report. However, when the report was issued which was favorable, the market had already discounted it and there was no setback on this account. The general feeling still continues bearish yet the trade fully appreciate that cotton is almost 7½c cheaper than this time last year which discounts a great deal.

Grain Letters.

H. & B. BEER.

Chicago, June 15.—Wheat averaged higher on bullish crop estimates, private cables suggesting that the French crop would be 30,000,000 to 60,000,000 bushels less than a year ago. The Spanish crop is about 5,000,000 bushels under a year ago. France has suspended imported duty on flour and bread cereals until July 31. There was buying by strong commission houses early, but the local element became overbought on the July to over $1.42, and selling against offers and profit taking caused a good reaction from the top.

Rubber.

New York, June 16—Closing: Rubber barely steady; July 41.00; September 41.10; December 41.60.

New York, June 16.—(By the Associated Press.)—The bond market today was forced to compete with a large volume of new financing, but prices were well maintained in moderately active trading. Easier credit conditions promoted steady accumulation of investment obligations without any striking change in price movements.

Trading interest in the foreign list was transferred from the European issues to the Japanese, with the government's 6 1-2s and second 4s as well as the Toho Electric Power bonds advancing to the year's highest prices. No explanation was advanced for the revival of interest in these issues, except the natural tendency of buyers to seek out attractive yields. This motive may have accounted also for the buying of Greek 7s which moved up a point to a 1926 top price. With the German steel consolidation loan being prepared for early offering, the Rheinelbe Union 7s continued active at the year's highest level above 102.

Public utility bonds were strengthened by the prompt over-subscription of two large issues of this class—$23,000,000 Nevada-California Electric corporation 5s and $15,000,000 Public Service of New Jersey 5 1-2s. Brooklyn Union Gas 5 1-2s were the strongest feature, moving up 2 3-4 points following a rise in the stock.

Avondale Residents Keep Cool .... On Summer's Hottest Days

FORTUNATE indeed are the residents of Avondale Estates, especially on these days when a hot sun bakes the city's streets.

For right at their very doors, they have this sparkling swimming pool, crystal clear, fed by running water from nearby springs, and set in a shady grove of oaks.

What can be more delightful than this privilege Avondale residents have—an invigorating, cooling plunge, before breakfast, in the late afternoon after a warm day's work, in the evening? The finest private swimming pool in all the South for their exclusive use! Equipped with every known device to add to swimmer's pleasure; life guards and swimming instructors in attendance. Hundreds enjoy it every day.

All of it made doubly attractive and convenient by the commodious modern bath house in quaint Old English architecture, with ample locker space and shower baths for both men and women, everything provided that could possibly be desired.

Really a Summer Paradise

And this is just one of the many exclusive pleasures of Avondale. For the children there is a five-acre playground, the most complete south of Philadelphia, where under the cooling shade of majestic trees the tiniest tots have every aid to wholesome play know to man's ingenuity—slides, see-saws, merry-go-rounds, literally dozens of swings, sand pits and even a wading pool where they may splash safely around to their hearts' content. Acres of wooded parks, large Lake Avondale, the winding bridle paths for a canter on fine gaited mounts from the Avondale Stables, golf on the course at your gates, tennis courts, athletic fields of every description.

In fact, Avondale boasts the distinction of providing more complete provision for wholesome recreation than any residential area in America.

$1,000,000 Development Program

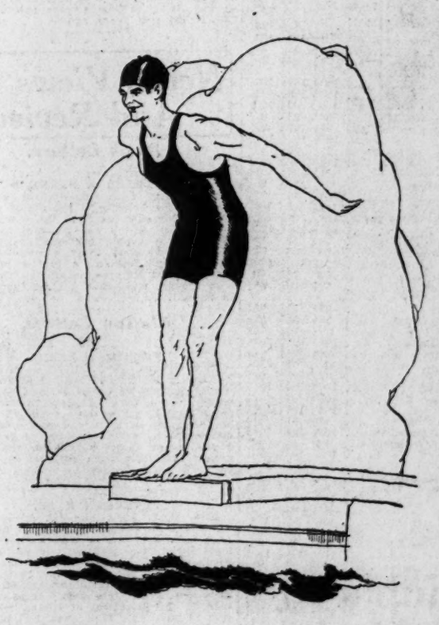

At Avondale, a $1,000,000 development program surges forward. There are scores of homes to select from—100 will be built during the year—many of them are under way.

Why continue living in a stuffy apartment, where the children have only a curbstone for a playground, when you can live in this glorious homeland and let rent pay for your home? There is a dream home for every family and a price for every pocketbook.

Don't forget this outstanding fact—every person who purchased in the first unit made from 50% to 100% on the amount actually invested.

Although on the market but two months, resales have netted purchasers as high as $1,000 profit in the second unit, now more than 50% sold out.

Get in on the ground floor, while it is possible to take advantage of the 20% pre-development discount.

Miss Elizabeth Branch Weds Wilbur King at Church Ceremony

Centering the interest of many friends was the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Simpson Branch and Wilbur King, of Wilmington, N. C., which was solemnized on Wednesday afternoon, June 16, at 5:30 o'clock at the Druid Hills Presbyterian church, Rev. James Bennett Branch, of Tillington, S. C., an uncle of the bride, performing the ceremony in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends.

The church was artistically decorated with palms and lovely foliage plants. Large baskets of Easter lilies were artistically arranged among the scenery. At the altar, before which the ceremony was performed, were two cathedral candelabra holding burning tapers. The pews for the family were marked off by garlands of filmy tulle tied with sprays of valley lilies, and lovely tracings of smilax were gracefully hung the length of the aisle.

Nuptial Music.

Mrs. A. J. Hollingsworth was in charge of the music at the piano, assisted by Mrs. Robert Boseley. Beautiful music was rendered during the seating of the guests. "O Promise Me" was played and Mrs. Boseley sang "Until" and "All for You" before the ceremony. "At Dawning" was played during the ceremony.

The bride's two sisters were the only attendants. They were the first to enter. Miss Martha Branch, the maid of honor, wore a beautiful afternoon gown of pink georgette, with wide rainbow sash of softest satin. Her hat was of pink tulle edged with pink velvet. Miss Virginia Branch, the bridesmaid, wore green georgette and hat of pink trimmed with green tulle and silver ribbons. Both the young girls carried lovely shower bouquets of pink Columbia roses showered with rainbow ribbons and tied with pink tulle.

Lovely Bride.

The bride entered with her father, Harllee Branch, who gave her in marriage, and at the altar they were joined by the groom and his best man, William H. Mahler, of Wilmington, North Carolina.

The bride was lovely in her wedding dress of powder blue georgette, made with a pointed skirt and blouse. The neckline and sleeves had embroidery of gold, blue and pastel shades. With her attractive costume, she wore a small hat of beige faille with trimmings of gold and blue and beige slippers. She carried a beautiful bouquet of pink Ophelia roses, showered with tiny ribbons on which were pale colored sweet peas.

Mrs. Harllee Branch, mother of the bride, wore a beautiful afternoon gown of black and white georgette. Her large black hat was of maline trimmed with silver, and she wore a lovely shoulder corsage.

Mrs. King, mother of the groom, wore a handsome gown of black lace with a smart hat of black and shoulder corsage of orchids.

Prominent Families.

Mrs. King is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harllee Branch, and comes from distinguished families in South Carolina. North Carolina and Virginia. She was graduated from the Girls' High school, and when a student had the honor of being president of her class, as well as being president of the Mallon society. Attending Goucher college, she was elected a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta fraternity and later attended Agnes Scott college. Mrs. King was a member of the staff of Carnegie library of Atlanta. Mr. King is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. King, of Wilmington, N. C. After graduating from the high school at Wilmington, he attended the University of Virginia, and came from there to the Georgia School of Technology, from which he was graduated in mechanical engineering in the class of 1924. He is a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and of the Kappa Sigma fraternity. At present he is connected with the Barge-Thompson company, of Atlanta, and is assigned to construction engineering work in Miami, Fla.

ATTRACTIVE WOMEN

If You Would Be Attractive You Must Be Healthy

A beautiful woman is always admired. There are many types of beauty. But no woman can be truly beautiful unless she is healthy. Radiant vitality is always attractive however plain a woman's features may be.

Many a woman has found her health improved through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Weakness, loss of weight, and a pale complexion were a few things of which Mrs. J. C. Taylor of Box 311, Tallahassee, Florida, complained before she started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. "I could not even sit down and talk to a friend for any length of time," she states. "I would forget what I was talking about and felt so blue." Mrs. Taylor is so pleased with the work of the Vegetable Compound that she keeps a bottle of it in the house at all times—and when it is empty, her husband makes sure that she has a new bottle. "I have regained my strength," Mrs. Taylor writes. "I can do all my housework now and I feel just fine."

Recent Bride and Bride-Elect Honored.

An event of Saturday afternoon was the bridge-tea given by Mrs. Leslie Blackwell at her home on Argonne drive in honor of her sister, Mrs. E. D. Thomas, a recent bride, and Miss Lucia Smith, a bride-elect of July.

Receiving with Mrs. Blackwell was her mother, Mrs. E. D. Thomas.

The guests included Mrs. Thomas, Miss Lucia Smith, Mrs. A. O. Patterson, Miss Mary Virginia Maddox, Mrs. Louise Ware, Miss Dixie Ponder, of Forsyth, Mrs. Gertrude Claud, Mrs. Norman Burke, Mrs. P. A. Freeman, Mrs. Tucker, Mrs. W. S. Smith, Miss Jessie Mack Whitworth, Mrs. P. A. Webb, Miss Carrie Lou Thomas, Mrs. DeWitt Fariss and Miss Marion Smith.

Miss Sara Swann Is Feted Bride-Elect.

Miss Sara Swann, a bride-elect of June 23, was entertained by Mrs. Jack Stephenson and Miss Billie Clarke with a matinee party at the Forsyth theater Saturday.

Miss Swann was lovely in a gown of powder blue georgette. Mrs. Stephenson's gown was of a figured French georgette. Miss Clarke wore a becoming frock of sand-colored georgette.

Among those invited were: Miss Sara Swann, Mrs. Hardin Harris, Miss Mary Pruitt, Miss Frances Grant, Miss Martha Fife, Miss Lucile Holmes, Miss Louise Fife, Miss Hazel Rutherford, Miss Billie Clarke and Mrs. Jack Stephenson.

Miss Swann has been entertained with a number of social affairs and will continue being feted until her marriage to Vernon McKinnon, of Tampa, Fla., on June 23.

Roy Ray Is Guest of Honor.

An enjoyable event of Tuesday evening was the surprise birthday party given Roy Ray by his sister, Mrs. J. A. Johnson.

Mrs. C. T. McKee asisted Mrs. Johnson in entertaining.

Miss Janette Tigner Wins Piano Medal.

An interesting event of Friday evening was the recital given by pupils from the piano and violin classes of Miss Ruth Dabney Smith at her home on The Prado, in Ansley Park.

The leading feature of the program was the presentation of the medal to the pupil who had maintained the highest average of good lessons this year. This honor was given to Miss Janette Tigner. The second prize, a bar pin, was given to Miss Emily Walker, whose average was so nearly that of Miss Tigner's. The presentations were made with an appripriate talk by Mrs. Murray Hubbard.

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers Give Bridge Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy V. Rogers celebrated their first wedding anniversary Monday evening with a bridge party. Mrs. Hudson Ashly assisted in serving.

The guests included Dr. and Mrs. Thoms G. Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. Howard B. Deuell, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Schneider, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Langston, Mrs. H. A. Agricola, Mrs. John H. Crawford, Miss Martha Crawford, Miss Ann Agricola, Miss Mary McCarson, Brannan Brewer, Mr. and Mrs. Guy V. Rogers.

Mrs. Rambo Calls Important Meeting

Mrs. R. K. Rambo, president of the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs, requests the members of the executive board and all presidents to meet her Thursday, June 17, at 10:30 o'clock, at the Atlanta Woman's club to complete arrangements for the grand ball for the week of the convention of the D. A. V.

Covers will be placed for Mrs. Edward Jones, Mrs. C. A. Warwick, Mrs. A. L. Wade, Mrs. J. W. Melton, Mrs. Mark Lively, Mrs. Virgil Moore, Mrs. Carl Hudgins, Mrs. C. H. David and Mrs. Montgomery.

Miss Porter Weds Mr. McCurry At Westminster Presbyterian

The marriage of Miss Marie Bee Porter and Asben Alpha McCurry was an event of social interest and was solemnized Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock at the Westminster Presbyterian church on Ponce de Leon avenue. The ceremony, witnessed by a large assemblage of friends and relatives, was performed by Rev. F. C. McConnell of the Druid Hills Baptist church.

Prior to the ceremony an artistic selection of wedding music was rendered by Mrs. Edward Johnson. The bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" was played as the processional and Mendelssohn's wedding march as the recessional.

Artistic Decorations.

The church was decorated with stately palms, foliage plants and cut flowers in pastel shades, arches being used on the altar, alternating with massive cathedral candelabras holding white burning tapers and tall floor baskets filled with pastel flowers. Lovely cluster pastel flowers tied with tulle bows marked the pews reserved for the families of the bride and groom. The ushers were Grady Black, Alva Walton, W. S. Boston and Robert Williamson. The bridesmaids were Miss Inez Williamham, Miss Pattie Harber, Mrs. Harry Poole, Jr., and Miss Mildred Bawsel. Enoch Benson, of Hartwell, Ga.; Richard Hull, James Thornton, Bob Adamson were groomsmen. The two matrons of honor, Mrs. Charles Sullivan and Mrs. William B. Reeves, Jr., entered with Charles Sullivan and Eugene Clarke, Jr. Miss Virginia Bake was maid of honor.

The attendants wore exquisite gowns of chiffon in the pastel shades. The closely fitted bodices were cut V in the back and the bouffant skirts were made with a foundation of chiffon trimmed with rows of lace. A bow of ribbon matching the gown was placed across the waist line at the back. They wore satin slippers and hose matching their gowns and carried arm bouquets of pastel flowers. The little flower girls were Laura Winona Powell and Katherine Sewell Gould, of Gainesville, Ga., little cousins of the bride. They wore dainty frocks of orchid and pink chiffon trimmed in rows of tiny ruffles.

Beautiful Bride.

The bride entered with her brother George Homer Porter, Jr., of Richmond, Va., and they were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, A. N. Alford, Jr., of Hartwell. The bride's beauty was enhanced by the exquisite bridal gown fashioned of chiffon elaborately beaded in crystals and pearls. The sleeveless bodice fitted closely and the full, graceful skirt had a deep flounce of real lace beaded in pearls and crystals. The court train was made of chiffon beaded and finished with a row of rose point lace. The wedding veil, falling the entire length of the court train, was of white tulle showered with orange blossoms, confined to her lovely hair by a coronet of rose point lace. Her dainty white slippers were adorned with beautiful pearl buckles. The bridal bouquet was of valley lilies and swainsona, heavily showered with valley lilies and narrow satin ribbon.

Informal Reception.

Following the ceremony a reception was given at the home of the bride's parents on St. Charles place. The home was decorated with palms and baskets and vases of pastel flowers were placed on the mantels and tables. The lights were veiled in smilax. The guests were received in the living room, the receiving line forming before the large fireplace, which was banked with ferns, palms and pedestal baskets of cut flowers. Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Porter were Mrs. A. A. McCurry, mother of the groom, and members of the bridal party. Mrs. Porter, the bride's mother, wore a handsome pink gown beaded elaborately in crystals. Her shoulder bouquet was of pink roses.

In the dining room, the exquisitely appointed table was covered with a lace cloth, and had for the centerpiece a three-tiered wedding cake, which rested on a mound of pink roses and smilax, fringed with valley lilies, and contained the wedding symbols in silver.

Punch was served from crystal bowls embossed in mounds of smilax. Lovely young girls serving punch were Misses Suzanne Springer, Ruth Mooney, Emma Frances Brotherton, Gladys McClelland and Jamie Gould. Mrs. Morgan T. Wynne kept the bride's register.

Mr. McCurry and his bride left for New York, Philadelphia and Canada. On their return they will make their home with the bride's parents. The bride traveled in a smart costume of dark blue crepe with gray accessories. A becoming French hat of gray Bangkok completed the attractive trilet.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Charles J. Jordan, of Danville, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Powell, of Gainesville, Ga.; Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Mauldin, of Gainesville; George Porter, Jr., of Richmond, Va.; Mrs. Thornton and Mrs. Jenkins, of Hartwell, Ga.

Miss Moses Weds Marion D. Alexander At St. Luke's Church

Among the lovely June weddings was that of Miss Dorothy Moses to Marion Davis Alexander, which was solemnized at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at St. Luke's Episcopal church. The Rev. N. R. High Moor read the marriage service.

The church was handsomely decorated for the occasion, the altar being banked with palms and ferns. The background was studded with Easter lilies and brass cathedral candelabra held tall white tapers.

James Alderson, organist of St. Luke's, rendered a program of appropriate nuptial music before and during the ceremony.

Bridal Party.

The ushers, Hall Taylor and Epp Kid, entered first, followed by the groomsmen, who were Burney Hardeman and Murray Weems.

The bridesmaids were Miss Frances Duke and Miss Frances Moses. They wore airy gowns of georgette, Miss Duke in pink and Miss Moses in lavender, with picture hats to match, and they carried arm bouquets of pink roses.

Mrs. Boyd Taylor, sister of the bride, acted as matron of honor. She wore a becoming model of flesh-colored georgette embroidered in pearls with a large picture hat of pale pink straw. Her flowers were pink roses showered with lavender sweet peas.

The maid of honor was Miss Willie Williams, who wore pale green georgette, with a becoming hat to match, and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses showered with lavender sweet peas.

Little Miss Laura Sale was the dainty flower girl, wearing a ruffled frock of yellow georgette. She carried a graceful basket of pink rosebuds.

The ring-bearer, Master Robert Holder, bore the ring in the heart of a lily.

Lovely Bride.

The bride entered with her brother, the Rev. William Moses, who gave her in marriage. She was radiantly lovely in her wedding gown of white duchess satin, handsomely embroidered in a graceful rose design. Her court train was fastened to her shoulders and enveloped by a tulle veil which was caught to her hair by a coronet of orange blossoms. Dainty sprays of orange blossoms were caught at intervals to the veil. The bride's flowers were a gorgeous bouquet of bride's roses, showered with lilies of the valley.

Huel Crockie acted as Mr. Alexander's best man.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride and groom left for a wedding journey to Asheville, N. C. On their return they will be at home to their friends at 72 Peachtree place.

Ex-Governor and Mrs. Slaton Honor Miss Traylor.

Former Governor and Mrs. John Slaton were hosts Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at their home "Wingfield" in compliment to Miss Frances Pardee Traylor, the guest of Mrs. Don Pardee for several weeks.

The table was beautifully appointed and held as a central decoration a bowl of vari-colored flowers.

Covers were placed for Miss Traylor, Miss Virginia Campbell, Miss Josephine Connors, of Birminghom, Miss Sarah Hurt, Miss Ida Sadler, Otey McClellan, of New York; John Grant, Jr., Smythe Gambrell, Henry Grady, Jr., John M. Slaton, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Slaton.

Miss Amy Delaplaine Is Honor Guest.

Miss Amy Delaplaine, of New Orleans, the guest of Mrs. W. J. Le Blanc, was honor guest at a luncheon given Tuesday by Mrs. Lynne Baker, at her home on Peachtree road. Handpainted Japanese maiden place cards marked the places of the guests, who included Miss Delaplaine, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. K. Youngblood, Mrs. W. L. Cain and Mrs. W. J. Le Blance and Miss Clyde Williams.

Miss Virginia Motts Is Entertained.

Miss Edith Harrison and Miss Alice Gray Harrison were hostesses at their home on Huntington road in compliment of their guest, Miss Virginia Motte, of Charlotte, N. C.

The Misses Harrison were assisted in entertaining by their mother, Mrs. Edward Harrison and their aunt, Mrs. Sam Harrison, of Fort McPherson.

Daughters of 1812 Name Mrs. Bronwell As New President

Mrs. Frances E. Bronwell, of Atlanta, who has been serving as state recording secretary of the Georgia Society of United Daughters of 1812 on account of the illness of Mrs. B. W. Martin, was yesterday elected to the office following the resignation of Mrs. Martin. Mrs. Charles Rice, state president, was in charge of today's session at which a number of reports were read.

President and Mrs. Coolidge received the following representative of the Georgia society at the recent Washington national association council: Mrs. Charles Rice, Mrs. Zenda Wise Oglesby, Miss Katherine Wootten, Mrs. Lucius W. McConnell, oll of Atlanta; Mrs. Herbert Fay Gaffney, of Columbus.

After the visit to the white house, a silver tablet on the door of a room in the Octagon house, which was occupied by Dolly Madison, was unveiled by the North Carolina society. The tablet honors Dolly Madison, a native of North Carolina. Next the members visited the Cosmos club, former home of Dolly Madison. A pilgrimage to Annapolis followed.

The registrar of the Georgia society reports that ten application blanks have been mailed to ten new members, which when filled out will be of rare historical value. The treasurer reported all dues to be paid up, and a revised roll to be ready.

Mrs. Fred S. Stewart was elected state auditor and Mrs. S. C. Gilbreath, state corresponding secretary. Both are of Atlanta.

Double Dozen Club Meets.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Double Dozen set was held at the apartment of Misses Nell Austin and Mary Asbury on North Boulevard. New officers were elected and three new members pledge. At the close of business a social hour was held and the rest of the evening spent in dancing.

Those attending were Misses Mary Asbury, Nell Austin, Elizabeth Cason, Mary Lynn Butler, Marie Gardner, Mary Parks, Laura Slater; Ben Cason, Jr., Frank Butler, Cecil Burnett, Ralph Allen, Jimmie Fincher, Lee Mooney and Douglas Stephens.

The next Double Dozen social will consist of a theater party, to be given June 28 at the Forsyth theater.

Mrs. McConnell Presides At D. A. R. Meeting.

The Atlanta chapter, D. A. R., met Tuesday afternoon, June 15, at Cragie house, Piedmont avenue, with the regent, Mrs. Lucius McConnell, presiding.

June 14, a day set apart by the national society of the D. A. R., as Flag day, was celebrated by a special program. The meeting was opened with the Lord's Prayer and the singing of "America" in unison.

While Flag day is celebrated all over the United States and in foreign countries where chapters have

Flag day is celebrated all over the United States and in foreign countries where chapters have been organized.

The flag bearers, officers of the Dolly Madison chapter, D. A. R., were, Miss Elizabeth Everette, president; Miss Mary Wyatt Scott, Miss Emily Mathews, Miss Clara Mitchell McConnell. These lovely young girls, gowned in white, stood at attention and gave the D. A. R. salute, which is as follows: "I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the republic for which it stands—one nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

The new officers were introduced and each responded with a gracious speech of aceptance. The new officers are: Regent, Mrs. Lucius McConnell; First Vice Regent, Mrs. J. D. Cromer; second vice regent, Mrs. J. W. Smith; recording secretary, Mrs. L. D. Scott; corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. H. Caldwell, Jr.; treasurer, Mrs. George Breitenbucher; registrar, Mrs. T. C. Whitner; librarian, Mrs. A. W. Hodnett; historian, Mrs. Aurelia Roach McMillan; aditor, Mrs. John M. Slaton.

Program.

The chief address was by Dr. Samuel T. Senter, on the "Magna Charta," which day is celebrated throughout the English-speaking world.

Miss Augusta Lamar Dunbar read the essay, on Benjamin Franklin—His Part in the American Revolution, which won the medal given by the D. A. R.

Tributes to Mrs. George Hope, one of the beloved members who recently passed away, were expressed by Mrs. James L. Logan and Mrs. Edward Barnes. Resolutions in memory of Mrs. Hope were read by Mrs. Francis Brown Chase. Mrs. Charles Douglas rendered several appropriate selections with Mrs. John Hurt accompanying her.

After the meeting adjourned, tea was served by the house committee, Mrs. Moreland Speer, chairman, assisted by Mrs. C. B. Walker.

New York.—Another "girl in the bathtub" scene has led to the courts. A patrolman, attending an uptown theater, dashed onto the stage when Jean Bodine slipped off a coat and poised to enter a bathtub. She was clad in tights, but he arrested her anyway, and also took the manager and two assistants for good measure.

Mrs. Cooper To Honor Mrs. Boykin at Luncheon.

Mrs. John M. Cooper will entertain a small group of friends at an informal luncheon Thursday at the Atlanta Athletic club in compliment to Mrs. B. M. Boykin, of Miami, Fla., who is being entertained at a series of social affairs.

Mrs. Boykin is visiting relatives during her stay in Atlanta, this occasion being her first trip since she moved to Miami two years ago. She was one of the most popular residents of the city, and is a past president of the Atlanta Woman's club.

Woman's Benefit Association To Sponsor Card Party.

The Woman's Benefit association will sponsor a card party Friday afternoon, June 18, in the hall in the McKenzie building. Members and friends are cordially invited to attend. Tables are $1 or 25 cents a person.

Mrs. Julian Gifford Is Complimented.

Mrs. Thomas Morgan was hostess Wednesday at tea at the Piedmont Driving club in compliment to Mrs. Julian Gifford, of Detroit, Mich., the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. L. Barnes, at her home on Piedmont avenue.

Invited to meet Mrs. Gifford were Mrs. Barnes, Mrs. David Woodward, Mrs. Howard McCall, Sr., Mrs. W. R. Hoyt, Mrs. John B. Roberts and Mrs. Edward Lewis.

Miss Fitzgerald Honors Sacred Heart Seniors.

Miss Jeannette Fitzgerald entertained the senior class of Sacred Heart school at a bridge party Wednesday afternoon at her home in West End.

After the bridge game tea was served at individual tables. Prizes were won by Miss Elizabeth Harris, Miss Mary Manley and Miss Leona Deady.

Miss Fitzpatrick was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. D. J. Fitzpatrick.

Mrs. W. M. Jones To Be Honored At Reception Monday, June 21

Mrs. W. M. Jones, a member of the First Baptist church, who has been elected president of the Baptist Woman's Missionary union of the Atlanta association, will be honored by the women of the church with a recognition service and reception to be given at the church Monday afternoon, June 21, at 3:30 o'clock in the main auditorium.

Miss Lydia Wheeler will render a special musical number. A welcome will be given all new members, followed by a response. Officers and circle chairmen who have served during Mrs. Bugg's presidency since 1924, are expected to take part in this public recognition service.

Mrs. Charles W. Daniel will introduce Mrs. Jones, who is the honor guest of the occasion, and Mrs. Jones will respond, giving plans for the denominational work. Mrs. W. J. Neel, state president, resident members of the state board and all associational officers have been invited to be guests of the afternoon.

The reception rooms will be attractively decorated with garden flowers and palms. Musical numbers will be rendered by the members of the church choir.

In the receiving line with Mrs. B. L. Bugg, president of the auxiliary, will be the women of the First Baptist church who are holding outstanding positions in the denominational work, including Mrs. W. M. Jones, president of the Atlanta association; Mrs. Charles W. Daniel, wife of the pastor; Mrs. R. B. Adair, member of the state board; Mrs. James R. Little, Mrs. James Kempton and Mrs. J. H. Coin, associational officers; Mrs. James L. Key, president of the hospital auxiliary; Miss Lucie Jesse, superintendent of nurses, Georgia Baptist hospital, and Miss Allie Lee Arrendall, superintendent of the Andrew Stewart Good Will center.

The punch tables will be presided over and refreshments will be served by the young women of the church. During the reception music will be furnished by an orchestra.

Miss Scott Honors Miss Davis And Mr. Weedon

Miss Claire Louise Scott was hostess at a reception at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Scott, on West Peachtree street Wednesday evening, as a compliment to Miss Josephine Davis, and Frederick Weedon, of Tampa, Fla., whose wedding will be an event of interest taking place this evening at 6 o'clock at the North Avenue Presbyterian church.

The home was beautifully decorated throughout, a color note of green and white being effectively used. In the dining room, the table was beautifully appointed, having the center of the table a large bowl of lilies. Soft green tapers burned in silver candle holders around this. An exquisitely iced wedding cake decorated with the bride and groom's initials, and orange blossoms, was at one end of the table, and attractive wedding favors were placed around the centerpiece.

Miss Scott received her guests wearing a lovely gown of green chiffon, beaded in crystals.

Miss Davis was gowned in pink georgette, worn over a slip of flesh satin, and elaborately beaded in crystals.

Mrs. Carter Hostess.

Miss Davis was honored on Wednesday at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel by Mrs. John C. Carter, of Birmingham, Ala.

Luncheon was served at 1:30 o'clock in the main dining room of the hotel. The table was graced in the center with a basket of pink roses and lavender sweet peas. Dainty hand painted place cards marked each guest's place. The guests included Miss Davis, Miss Claire Louise Scott, Miss Ruth Cruselle, Miss Evelyn Eagan, Miss Mary Weedon, Miss Mary Knight and Mrs. Carter.

Ga. Society U. S. Daughters 1812 Has Meeting.

The Georgia Society United States Daughters of 1812 held the June meeting Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Fred S. Stewart, on Gordon street, West End, where splendid interest was manifested. The state president, Mrs. Charles Rice, presided, opening the meeting with singing "America the Beautiful," followed by repeating in unison the 1812 pledge to the flag.

The registrar, Mrs. Tebo, reported having mailed ten application blanks to new members, and when filled out will prove of rare historical value to the future of the society. The treasurer, Miss McClellan, reported that she had revised the membership roll, and all dues paid.

On account of long illness, Mrs. B. W. Martin, state recording secretary, resigned.

Mrs. Francis E. Brownell, who has served so faithfully the past year, was unanimously elected to fill Mrs. Martin's unexpired term of office. Mrs. Brownell is a most intellectual woman, serving as vice regent of the Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R., and past president of the Peachtree Woman's club.

Mrs. Fred S. Stewart was elected state auditor.

Mrs. Zenas Wise Oglesby was elected state historian to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Knox Wood, who was transferred to another state.

Reports From State Chairmen.

Mrs. Moreland Speer, chairman of marking graves of 1812 heroes, reported having ordered five grave markers. Mrs. Brownell spoke in the interest of contributing to the national scholarship at Maryville, Tenn. Mrs. Herrman Milner, of Eastman, Ga., announced that Miss Pearl Phillips won the $5 gold piece offered for the best essay on the "Battleship Constitution," at Eastman, and of the deep interest in the essays shown by the school children.

It was voted to send $10 toward the bronze tablet to be erected in Authors' grove in Piedmont park. The Georgia Daughters of 1812 planted a tree five years ago to Miss Virginia Arnold, the first state president and founder.

Among the new members present was Mrs. Abner Horde, a Real Daughter. She will soon receive the Real Daughters' pin, which she is entitled to wear.

The chapter was represented in Washington, D. C., at the national associate council by Mrs. Charles Rice, Mrs. Zenas Wise Oglesby, Miss Katharine Wootten, Mrs. Lucius McConnell and Mrs. Herbert Fay Gaffney, of Columbus, Ga., President and Mrs. Coolidge received the Daughters of 1812 in the white house. Following the reception a silver tablet on the door of the room in the octagon house which was occupied by Dolly Madison was unveiled by the North Carolina state society. The tablet is in honor of Dolly Madison, a native of North Carolina. After these ceremonies all visited the Cosmos club, formerly the home of Dolly Madison.

The pilgrimage to the U. S. A. Naval academy, Annapolis, where all attended divine service, and to Fort McHenry, Baltimore, was inspiring. The most interesting place at Annapolis was Mahan hall, containing 40 British flags captured in the war of 1812. The governor, mayor and other notables welcomed the delegation in the statehouse.

Eight Daughters of 1812 were recently honored in the election of the D. A. R. Resolutions on the death of a beloved member, Mrs. George M. Hope, were read by Mrs. Moreland Speer. Mrs. Thad Morrison played two piano selections. Judge G. H. Howard addressed the society on "Our Flag," imparting most valuable information. He is a fluent speaker and deeply versed in the subject he presented. "A Toast to the Flag" was given by Miss McClellan. "Important June Happenings" were read by Mrs. S. G. Gilbreath. After the singing of "The Star-Spangled Banner" the meeting adjourned.

PALM BEACH BANDITS GET $7,000 JEWELS

West Palm Beach, Fla., June 16.—(AP)—Damonds valued at $7,000 and $350 in cash were taken from Leo Levy, wealthy Palm Beach resident, early today, according to information given to the police. Levy was unable to give police a detailed description of the highwaymen, who stepped on the running board of his automobile, he said, as he traversed a poorly lighted street.

DAILY CALENDAR OF WOMEN'S MEETINGS

Grant Park chapter No. 178, O. E. S., will hold the regular meeting at 8 o'clock in Grant Park Masonic temple, 132 Cherokee avenue.

The Woman's Benefit Association district rally will be held on the Ansley roof.

Lebanon chapter, O. E. S., No. 105, will hold its regular meeting at 7:30 o'clock at the Masonic temple, corner Stewart and Dill avenues.

Mrs. R. K. Rambo, president Atlanta Federation of Women's clubs, requests the members of the executive board and all presidents to meet her at 10:30 o'clock at the Atlanta Woman's club to complete arrangements for the grand ball for the week of the convention of the D. A. V.

Spectacular Water Carnival To Be Staged at Woman's Club

The junior department of the Atlanta Woman's club and the Junior Red Cross will stage a spectacular water carnival and pageant on the Atlanta Woman's club swimming pool Friday evening, June 18, at 8 o'clock.

This event will usher in a series of entertainments at the club under the affiliation policy recently inaugurated by Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith, president, whose earnest desire it is to promite comity and good will between the club and all women's organizations throughout the city. To this end she has appointed Mrs. Charles Rice, affiliation chairman, to assist her in carrying on the good work.

The purpose of the pageant is twofold: To increase membership and interest in both junior organizations, and to bring the young people of Atlanta into closer relationship with each other.

The performance on Friday evening, which promises to be both novel and entertaining, is the fulfillment of a long-felt wish on Mrs. Smith's part to exploit the beauty and advantages of the club swimming pool. Its limpid waters and its cool green setting make it particularly fitting for a summer festival.

Since we are all Peter Pans at heart, the portrayol of fairy tales will feature the pageant. A stage built at the south end of the pool will form a background for the fairy barges. Curtains pictorially decorated will conceal the performers. The pages of a huge picture book slowly turned will announce the pantomime tableaux. Flower floats, ten in number, will glide across the lake, each carrying its own representation of fairy tale folks and legends. Thus, one may see beloved Cinderella, floating on her throne, with the prince fitting to her foot the famous glass slipper. On the stage will be depicted at the same time the grand ball, with stately couples dancing the dainty minuet, as the clock on the stairs approaches the fatal hour of twelve.

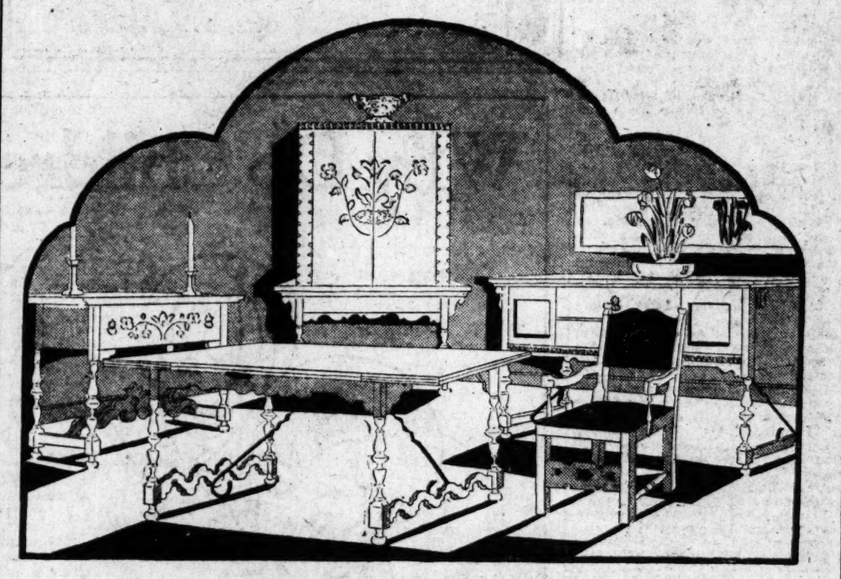

There will be dances of the elves and fairies, and the man in the moon will come down (not too soon) to ask the way to Norwich. The best talent among the boys and girls of these two fine organizations will be drafted to make the party one to remember. A stringed orchestra composed of young people will play appropriate music to accompany each tableau.

Mrs. M. D. Farnham, chairman of the junior department of the Woman's club, and Mrs. Louis Elsas, Junior Red Cross chairman, are in charge of the entertainment. Miss Rosa Hart, of Lake Charles, La., a graduate of Sophie Newcombe, who has staged most successfully many amateur performances, is in charge of arrangements. Details have been carefully planned by her. Costumes of the players, and settings for the living pictures are both exquisite and unique, and the show is one no to be missed. One dollar admission will be charged for grown-ups, and fifty cents for children. This fund will be used for the activities of both junior departments.

Beautiful Spanish Creations

10-PIECE SPANISH DESIGN DINING ROOM SUITE

June Brides will be interested in this new and Modern Trend in Home Furnishing

The bride, who prides herself in knowing the "proper thing" will be interested in this exposition of the most modern idea in Furniture. Not only is this new furniture attractive because it is "smart," but its quaintness and originality of design instantly appeal to your love of the artistic and beautiful.

Dining Room Suite as Illustrated

Suite as pictured above, in walnut. Note the carved designs in front of sideboard, china cabinet and server table are cut in the wood instead of painting. There is a slight touch of polychrome color in the decorations, hammered brass hardware; sideboard and refectory dining table carry the wrought iron sketches; the china cabinet and server carry the wood stretcher; the seats and backs of chairs are upholstered in turkey red Sol Satin. This is one of Grand Rapids' newest productions in a Spanish design.

This Magnificent Spanish Bedroom Suite Can Be Seen in Window Display Thursday

Every Atlanta woman should see this Spanish bedroom suite on display in our window Thursday only. You will instantly recognize the Spanish influence in its general design, as well as the charmig decorations. There are seven pieces: Dresser, bed, toilet table, chest of drawers, bench, rocker and table—of beautiful shaded walnut metal trimmed, with a touch of brilliant color. The suite presents an antique effect, suggesting the interior of some old Spanish castle.

$504

These pieces are available separately and are priced as follows: Dresser, $130; Bed, $100; Chest of Drawers, $115; Toilet Table, $100; Bench, $18; Rocker, $18; Table, $23.

Living Room Suite, 3 Pieces

This living room suite is truly the work of an artist. The three pieces consist of Sofa, High Back Chair and Club Chair. The Sofa has reversible down cushions, seat and back covered with linen frieze, with the Spanish red and green very prominent. The outside back of the sofa is in a two-tone green linen velour. Each piece of this suite is upholstered in a different color. The chairs are covered in a combination of silk damask and tapestry in which brown tones predominate. The frames of all are beautifully carved in antique maple and walnut.

$765

In stock to match are table, mirror and fireside bench if desired.

The Feminine Appeal of the All-White Costume

A man glanced from the window of the Capital City Club—and saw a woman pass—dressed in all white.

"It's a pleasure to see a woman dressed like that," he commented. "What's the use of women, who were made to be decorative, wearing staid, dark clothes like men?"

All white does make charming costumes, in the summer—so cool—so dainty—and so universally becoming. For street, sports, afternoon and evening wear it forms costumes that enhance the feminine appeal.

Come in and see the smart white costumes here. White silk frocks—that tub; white hats, and all accessories, from which the most simple and dainty or the most elaborate costumes may be chosen.

ABANDONED ARMY POSTS TO BE SOLD AT PUBLIC AUCTION

Washington, June 16.—(AP)—Sale at public auction at Baton Rouge, October 11, of ten unnamed, abandoned military reservations in Louisiana, Fourche, Jefferson and Plaquemines parishes, on the gulf coast, was announced today by the interior department.

The 3,464 acres in the reservations will be disposed of at not less than $4,696.56.

Civitan Club Will Present Deed To Camp Civitania

The Civitan club will present the deed to Camp Civitania, the Atlanta Girl Scout camp, at an elaborate flag raising ceremony Friday at the camp at 4 o'clock. Harry M. Root, president of Civitan, will be master of ceremonies. Chaplain Willis Memminger will make the presentation address. Mrs. Frank D. Holland, commissioner of Atlanta Girl Scouts, will accept the deed on behalf of the council. Although the flag raising will not take place until 5 o'clock, Civitans, their families and guests are invited to come at 4 o'clock to view the swimming, one of the most picturesque of camp activities. In addition to the gift of the 97 acres comprising the camp site, the Civitans have erected the large stationary flagpole which will be used in the ceremonies. Frank Neeley is chairman of the camp committee from the club who selected this camp site, raised the money and paid for it.

A picnic supper will be served and after this Girl Scouts will furnish stunts around the camp fire. Mrs. Harriet Wilkerson, executive secretary of the Civitan club, is in charge of arrangements. About 200 guests are expected for the occasion.

Follow This Rule

in skin care if safeguarding a good complexion is your aim

By NORMA TALMADGE

Copyright, 1926, by P. O. Beauty Features

It is bringing the charm of natural loveliness to thousands

BEAUTY experts throughout the world now urge skin cleansing as beauty's most important aid.

Yesterday's artificial methods are quickly passing. Youthful appearance is thus preserved. Beautiful complexions by the thousands are resulting.

FOLLOW THIS ONE WEEK—THEN NOTE YOUR COMPLEXION.

Wash your face gently with soothing Palmolive Soap, massaging it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly, first with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to be dry, apply a touch of good cold cream—that is all.

Do this regularly, and particularly in the evening. Use powder and rouge if you wish. But never leave them on over night. They clog the pores, often enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. They must be washed away.

Do not use ordinary soaps in the treatment given above. Do not think any green soap, or represented as of palm and olive oils, is the same as Palmolive.

Remember that before Palmolive came, women were told, "use no soap on your faces." Soaps then were judged too harsh. Palmolive is a beauty soap made for one purpose only: to safeguard your complexion. 60 years of soap study stand behind it. Millions of pretty skins prove its effectiveness beyond all doubt.

BE SURE TO GET THE REAL PALMOLIVE

It costs but 10c the cake!—so little that millions let it do for their bodies what it does for their faces. Obtain Palmolive today. Then note what an amazing difference one week makes. The Palmolive Company (Del. Corp.), Chicago, Illinois.

Why Do Children Like Them So?

It's the taste—that teasing, tempting, taste—that makes the youngsters ask for more and more.

Of course Heinz Rice Flakes are good for them—healthful, wholesome, nourishing rice—now made with a new flavor—by Heinz own, exclusive method.

But it's the taste—that wonderfully tempting taste—that makes these crispy, crunchy flakes so good to eat—so very, very good to eat.

Children like them. Grown-ups like them. In the morning. For lunch. For supper. They're always good, as you will know when you try your first package. It is waiting for you now at your grocer's.

HEINZ Rice Flakes

A NEW Flavor

57

ONLY HEINZ CAN DO IT—AND THIS IS WHY—In perfecting this new food Heinz spent years and years in scientific preparation. And Heinz has created an entirely new flavor—a flavor secured by a special process developed, owned and used exclusively by Heinz.

INSTALLMENT XXXIV.

A NEW MAN FROM THE YARD.

Furneaux's sailing directions were so explicit that John Panton did not deem necessary any explanation of his presence to the restaurant staff when he and Spot arrived at the Milano that evening. It was a high, narrow-fronted building, with a staircase leading straight from the street to the first floor. Entrance to the main dining room was gained through a door on the right which faced a cashier's desk. An immensely stout man in evening dress was standing there, talking to a customer; he hurried out when he saw the two vanish up the stairs, and was about to follow them until Spot faced round. Then he changed his mind.

"Dat is private," he said, civilly enough. "De restaurant is dees-away," and he waved a fat hand toward the rattle of crockery and hum of conversation on the ground floor.

"Mr. Furneaux told me—" began John, but Signor Pucci instantly waved both hands.

"Quit-a-right, sare!" he cried. "I did not understand. Vat sort of a dog is dat, may one ask?"

"A Canadian sledge dog," explained John, who had found this description more readily grasped in England than the familiar "husky" of the northwest. It was accurate enough, though Spot had never worn harness in the three years of adventurous life.

"Ah, a noble animal!" exclaimed the Italian, still clutching the side door.

"Go and shake a paw, Spot," said John, checking a smile at the stout man's instant embarrassment. Spot, however, trotted back, and held up a forepaw so engagingly that even a timid child might have been reassured.

"Certainly, signor. He's a most friendly pup."

"Ebbene! Good dog! Now, vat you vish to eat? A plate of meenced beef, I think? It veel be served wit' de roast. . . . He vill not scare de vaiter, no?"

"Mr. Furneaux told me——"

"He won't even look at the waiter once I tell him where to lie down."

"No, but de vaiter will look at heem, an' may upset a tray."

"I'll see to that," laughed John.

Furneaux, hearing the voices, came out on the landing.

"You've brightened up a lot since this morning," was his greeting.

"Well, Spot has amused me by finding a pal already. Signor Pucci has taken his order."

"Why not? Spot is the principal guest. Come in! Winter is here, and Mr. Sheldon, whom you have not met."

When every one, including Spot, had shaken hands, John was offered a cocktail, which he declined.

"I seldom drink anything but water," he said simply. "You see, I was often alone for a month at a time, and it was rather dangerous to cultivate a taste for intoxicants. One of our trappers, a decent little blighter named Mosquito Joe, used to come in occasionally and get horribly blotto until I took a strong line with him. I learnt, quite by chance, that he accounted for his orgies by telling people I shared in them."

"Ah, fancy that! You've made Sheldon open his other eye, Mr. Panton."

John had noticed already that this new member of the C. I. D. owned eyes which differed in size, the pupil of the right eye being considerably larger than that of the left. Like his companions, Sheldon bore no sort of resemblance to the standard detective. He was of average height, and seemingly rather slender. His face was that of the student. He might have been either doctor or barrister by profession.

"I don't know whether you gentlemen adopt various disguises when on duty," said John, "but I should imagine that a marked peculiarity of the kind would prove rather a hindrance. I think one gets a first and most definite impression from the eyes."

"First impressions can be most misleading," grinned Furneaux. "The worst scoundrel I know gives you as straight a look as the chief here."

"Such personal comparisons are vulgar," said Winter, who was stroking Spot.

"Let me put you to the test," smiled Sheldon.

He produced a pink eyeshield and adjusted it on one eye and then on the other. The change thus effected was almost phenomenal. Facially he became two men. John was amazed and said so.

"Try that on the dog," suggested Furneaux.

Spot was seated on his haunches on a chair. Sheldon went close up, and alternated the shade. Spot was most interested. After a brief scrutiny he tried to nose the contrivance out of the way. For some reason the men from the "yard" approved thoroughly of this display of intelligence. Half an hour later John knew why.

A somewhat startled waiter, having won Spot's tail-wagging amity by a supply of minced steak, had served an appetizing meal and left the diners to coffee and tobacco before the precise motive for John's presence was revealed.

"About this fellow Connington," began the chief. "Had he any reason to dislike you?"

"Not the slightest," said John, wondering what lay behind the question.

"You never had occasion to reprimand him?"

"Not that I can recall. Of course, tempers got a trifle raw when a strafe was on or the weather and conditions generally were particularly vile, but he figures in my mind now as a smart and capable non-commissioned officer. I don't think the men liked him, but the company sergeant-major has a difficult job. He represents discipline."

"Well, you may be surprised to hear that nowadays he has not a good word for you. He says you were always a poor soldier and a secret drinker."

John's face hardened.

"Is that so?" he said quietly. "And I am to meet him tonight!"

"Yes, and what is more, you are not to lay a finger on him. If he abashes you, you must be abashed. Please understand that clearly. The scheme is Furneaux's, not mine, but I admit it is worth trying."

"What scheme?"

"This bringing of Connington and you face to face unexpectedly. He was the accuser, you the accused. Furneaux wants to see how the man who accomplished your ruin will behave when he finds you at his elbow. We cannot guess what will come of it. The one thing that must not happen is any sort of quarrel or physical scuffle. If this criminal degenerate—for he is nothing else—insults you, you must put up with it, and get away—sneak away, is what I have really in mind."

John bit on his pipe, but luckily he was beginning to realize that Scotland Yard had espoused his cause in dead earnest, and it was not for him to boggle at difficulties.

"All right!" he said. "I'll sneak, if necessary. But how about Spot?"

"Exactly!" broke in Furneaux, excitedly. "Just what I want to know. Spot recognizes your friends. Will he sense your enemies as quickly?"

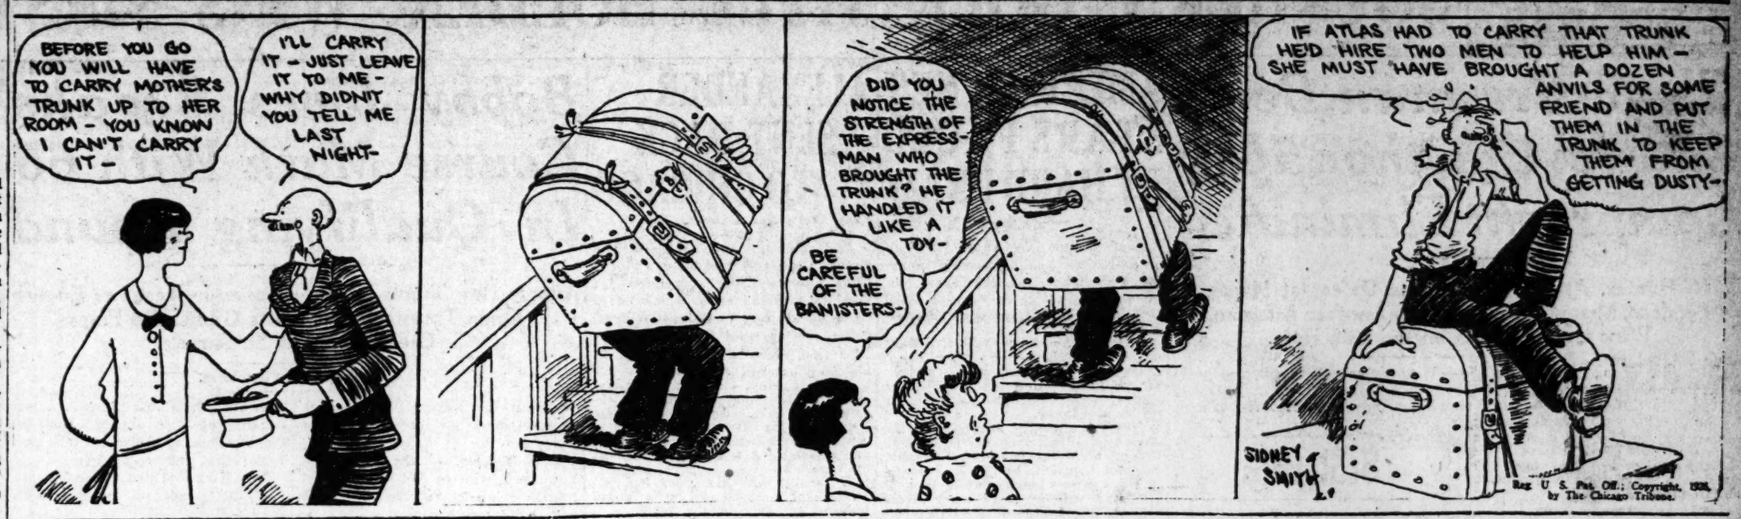

"I could almost feel sorry for Connington if the ultimate decision were left to Spot, and Connington wanted to harm me."

SOUTHERN GOLF TITLE HOLDER WINS FIRST MATCH

EDITED by H. C. HAMILTON

Glenn Crisman Beats CharleyCawthon5Up; Lamprecht Eliminated

L. R. Hunter, Atlanta Star, Meets Defeat at Hands of Giddens, Memphis Ace—Smith, Another Atlantan, Wins a Hard Match on the 19th Hole.

Memphis, Tenn., June 16.—(AP)—Through a broiling sun and hotly contested matches, 16 aspirants for the southern amateur golf title passed into the second round of match play in the annual tournament of the Southern Golf association here today.

Two players who had been favored to give Glenn Crissman, present title holder, stiff competition, were relegated into the consolation division by today's play.

Fred Lamprecht, New Orleans, Louisiana state champion and holder of the national intercollegiate title, was eliminated by Emmett Spicer, Memphis municipal champion, 3 and 2. Ewing Watkins, Chattanooga, who tied with Spicer for medal honors in the qualifying rounds yesterday, was put out by Frank Nelson, of Birmingham, in a match which ended on the last green.

Three Hard Matches.

Three matches went to the last hole and one ended at the 19th. J. T. Bybee, Knoxville, put out G. O. Waring, Memphis and F. L. Connor, Dallas, beat Lawrence Eustis, Memphis, in play which went to the 18th. Moreland Smith, Atlanta, eliminated W. S. Moughon, Birmingham, with a birdie three on the 19th.

Crissman had a comparatively easy match and beat Charles Cawthon, Memphis, 5 and 4. He played par golf on the first hole, made a birdie three on the second and finished the first nine with a medal score of 34, one under par. He slumped on the 10th, however, taking a five for the par three hole and dropping his first one to Cawthon. He made a par four on the 11th, slumped to a five on the 12th and ended the match on the 14th with two other par holes.

The Cards.

Cards for Crissman-Cawthon match were:

Crisssman:

Out ..... 435 344 344—34
In 545 44

Cawthon:

Out ..... 545 345 454—39
In 455 45

The Spicer-Lamprecht match drew the gallery of the day. After halving the first four holes, Lamprecht took the lead on the fifth green but lost it again on the eighth when he had trouble with his putting and required a five for the par four hole.

Both netted threes on the 10th and Spicer stymied Lamprecht to win the 11th with a par four. Lamprecht again experienced difficulty with his putting on the 13th and 15th, and the match ended at the 16th when Spicer holed his third shot for a par three.

Crissman tomorrow will be paired with F. J. Heath, Charlotte, who today eliminated Charles L. Dexter, of Dallas, 5 and 4.

Spicer faces W. C. Harris, Memphis. Harris beat Allan Brown, Clarksville, 4 and 2.

Gordon Gibbons, Memphis, will meet Bill Tyne, Nashville. Gibbons put out J. C. Lebourgeois, New Orleans, 4 and 3, and Tyne triumphed over Leroy Taylor, 2 and 1.

Frank Dyer, Memphis, former metropolitan champion, at the bottom of the upper bracket, beat Charles B. Collum, Miami, 2 and 1, and will compete with Vance Norfleet, Memphis, who today defeated R. C. Munger, Birmingham, 2 and 1.

Second Bracket.

At the top of the second bracket, Frank Nelson, Birmingham, will meet Nelson Giddens, Memphis. Giddens sent L. R. Hunter, Atlanta, to the consolation group today with a score of 4 and 3.

J. T. Bybee, Knoxville, meets F. L. Connor, Dallas, and Moreland Smith, Atlanta, is paired with George Strickfadden, Memphis, who defeated John Weaver, Memphis, 2 and 1.

R. G. Bush, Jr., New Orleans, tees off with L. P. Jones, Memphis. Bush eliminated F. U. Garrard, Columbus, Ga., 4 and 2, and Jones beat Robert E. McDade, Shreveport, 3 and 2.

AMERICAN NET STARS FACED BY HARD DRAW

London, June 16.—An all-American or all-French final is possible in the men's singles at the Wimbledon tennis tournament for the world's unofficial championship, owing to the seeding of players.

Although the tourney is five days off, American hopes for victory took a sharp drop Wednesday when the luck of the draw pitted the best United States representatives against the cream of Europe.

Mary K. Browne, captain of the American Wightman cup team, was drawn with the world's champion, Suzanne Lenglen, in the first round of the women's singles, while Vincent Richards will probably meet Henri Cochet, his conqueror in Paris last Thursday, in the second round.

The name of Helen Wills remained in the lists. She is in the second quarter of the drawings with Mrs. Molla Mallory, former American titleholder, and Joan Fry.

Elizabeth Ryan, of California, is expected to meet Kitty McKane Godfree, one of England's best players, in the third round. Howard Kinsey and Count Salm are expected to clash in one of the earlier rounds of the men's singles.

SENATORS NOSED OUT.

Chicago, June 16.—A squeeze play by Falk and Kamm put across the winning run today in the sixth inning, which enabled Chicago to make it three out of four from Washington by taking the final game, 3 to 2. With the score tied, Falk singled and went to third on Barrett's double. Kamm squeezed Falk across the plate on his sacrifice bunt. Both Lyons and Johnson were hit hard.

ALEXANDER SENT BACK TO CHICAGO

Philadelphia, June 16.—(AP)—Grover Cleveland Alexander, Chicago Cubs pitcher, under suspension for breaking training rules, was believed to be on his way to Chicago tonight. Sports writers said it was the first time he had been so disciplined in his long baseball career.

Joe McCarthy, Cubs' manager, declined to say how long the suspension would last. He saw Alexander today for the first time in several days, handed him a railroad ticket and ordered him to return to Chicago at 4 o'clock.

McCarthy said Alexander had not pitched for a month and recently had been of no help to the team.

"He has stayed away from the field, not appearing in uniform here or at Boston," McCarthy said. "If a man doesn't report and work out he can't keep his arm in shape.

"I am not going to stand for such stuff. I don't intend to let Alexander or any other player break up my ball club."

Alexander has been playing major league baseball for 16 years. He and Bill Killefer, his battery mate, were sold by the Phillies to the Chicago Cubs in 1918 for $50,000. His best year in the box was in 1915 when the Phillies won their only pennant. That season he won 31 games and lost 10. With Chicago in 1925 he won 15 and lost 11 games.

FLOWERS TITLE NOT AT STAKE IN FRIDAY'S GO

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Jersey City, N. J., June 16.—Tiger Flowers, newly crowned world's middleweight champion, is not putting his title on the block when he faces young Bob Fitzsimmons Friday night at Boyles' Thirty Acres, here, but the celebrated Georgia deacon stands to lose considerable prestige in the event he lets the son of the late Ruby Robert beat him to the newspaper decision.

New Jersey fans are all "het up" over the fight, as it will be the Tiger's first appearance in this state since he wrested the title from Harry Greb. Moreover, they are rooting hard for Fitz, who hails from Nutley, N. J.

Champ of Sweden Arrives in U. S.

New York, June 16.—Sweden's champion hurdler and sprinter, Sten Pettersson, arrived in the United States Wednesday to compete in the hurdle races in the national A. A. U. championships at Philadelphia in connection with the sesqui-centennial exposition. Pettersson's world record of 53 4-5 seconds for the 400 meter hurdles made at Paris last year, will be presented for acceptance at the next meeting of the International Amateur Athletic federation.

Bobby Jones Breaks Course Mark With 66 In Qualifying Round

Atlanta Boy Shoots Brilliant Round in Test For English Open Tournament—Watts Gunn Also Plays Great Game at St. Anne's.

to qualify this morning, did not look so satisfactory tonight when all the scores were in.

Silas Newton, of the Lido club, New York, with an 81; Roland MacKenzie with a 79, and Emmet French with a 78 are particularly eager to improve their cards tomorrow in order to be among the qualifiers. The other American entrants seemed safe for the championship rounds at St. Anne's next week, if they can repeat today's scores tomorrow.

Surprised by Americans.

St. Anne's was somewhat surprised when a half dozen Americans appeared among the leaders, but this was nothing to the astonishment created at Sunningdale when Jones made his amazing journey over the course. To make his 66 even more notable it was recalled that the course recently had been remodeled and a number of new tees constructed.

W. L. Hope went around Sunningdale in 70 for the old record, once hailed as remarkable, but Jones' new figure was from tees which have been set farther back and, according to the Sunningdale cracks, is likely to stand for some time to come. The British players were particularly enthusiastic after Jones had finished his round with a thrilling iron shot to the green and had holed out in two putts for a perfect four.

Jones' Card.

Out ..... 444 334 434—33
In ..... 434 343 444—33—66

Jones' card included three birdies and he was putting for a three on every green. He drove powerfully, played his irons brilliantly and putted safely and surely, without sinking a single shot which could be called lucky. Only three times during the round was Jones off the fairway. The first time was at the ninth hole, where his drive rolled short into the rough on the left of the green. He got out of this, however, by a perfect chip and sailed along until the thirteenth when his drive found a shallow bunker. He recovered well from this and then holed a two-yarder. His third difficulty was on the seventeenth, where his tee shot found the heather. Jones played a screaming iron to the green amidst a burst of applause from the gallery.

The young Atlantan played most of his long seconds with his driving iron and his beautiful rhythmic swing picked up the ball so cleanly that he always was safely on the green.

Joe Stein and Bill Mehlhorn were the first to complete the round at Sunningdale. Stein took 77 and Mehlhorn 76. Stein started weakly, particularly on the greens. Mehlhorn also was putting badly, and took gives on the first and second holes.

Joes Kirkwood had a fine 71.

Walter Hagen started well in the central section, turning in a card of 72 for his 18.

Al Watrous and Jim Barnes each had 7. Roland MacKenzie took 79.

Other Sunningdale scores were: George Kirby, of Stonehnm, 70; Josh Taylor, of Richmond Park, Surrey, 72; Ted Ray, of Oxhey, 83.

Compston Shoots 69.

Out ..... 443 344 434—33
In ..... 444 353 445—36—69

His only mistakes were on the fourteenth, where he pulled a cleek shot into the rough, and on the home hole, where he was bunkered.

Emmet French turned in a 78.

Freddie McLeod finished in 74.

George Von Elm, Los Angeles amateur, had 74.

Silas Newton, of New York, took 81.

Antonio Perez, of Argentina, took 76.

Cyril Walker took 74.

TOM ROGERS SHUTS OUT CHICKS TO WIN, 6 TO 0

EDITED by H. C. HAMILTON

Cracker Hurler Holds Milan's Crew to Only Five Scattered Hits

Atlanta Pounds Two Memphis Pitchers For 13 Hits and Gets Early Lead—Murphy, Niehoff, Haas, and Good Lead Crackers With Bat.

BY H. C. HAMILTON.

The Memphis Chicks, who have been lambasting the daylights out of the Birmingham club, paid a call at Spiller park Wednesday, met our Mr. Tom Rogers and contributed a shutout to Tom's credit, the Crackers winning the first game of the series, 6 to 0. It was the second consecutive scoreless game won by the league champions and their third straight victory.

Not all of the credit for the victory goes to Rogers, for he recived glittering support from the infield. Gilbert, Durocher and Niehoff knocked down some almost impossible shots from the bats of the Memphians, and, like the Royal Northwest Mounted, they got their man. Rogers allowed only five scattered hits and only two of these were of the solid sock variety. The Chicks were denied any safeties until the fourth inning when Jennings bounced a hard chance off Gilbert's glove. Both Taylor and Barrett contributed good old-fashioned hits to the Chick cause, but they didn't do any damage. Only two of the visitors traveled as far as second base, Barrett being one of the callers on Boss Niehoff and Jennings the other. Bonnelly also reached third once.

Murphy Starts Fireworks.

While all these proceedings were being aired about for the pleasure of about 5,000 visibly excited fans, the Crackers were methodically traveling toward the goal of victory. They broke the scoring ice first in the third with a pair of counters, counted three in the seventh and piled on one in the eighth for their sixth dent in the plate. Murphy, Niehoff, Haas and Good figured most prominently in the scoring, while Leo Durocher, whose tonsils had reverse English applied and had him in bed, was back and scored a run.

In the third inning, Murphy, who relieved Hollis McLaughlin of the job in left field and was lead-off man, cracked out a single to start the frame. He stole second when Klugman, the new Chick second baseman, failed to hold Kohlbecker's throw, although it was not one of those throws you would refer to lightly as perfect. Bert Niehoff then hit a long single to right field. It looked as though Taylor might catch the ball, so Rod waited at second until the flying sphere had almost hit the ground and then sprinted home, scoring with a slide. While the visitors were engaged in trying to head off the flying utility man, Niehoff reached second. Haas tried to sacrifice the skipper to third, but the obliging Mr. Bonnelly, who was doing the hurling for Memphis, failed to reach his bunt and fell, so Haas got credit for a hit, while Niehoff reached third, from where he counted when Wilbur Good lifted a long fly to center. Niehaus and Brock were retired to end the inning.

Bonnelly Weakens.

Bonnelly began to fail in the seventh. After Rogers had been retired Murphy singled and took second on a wild pitch. Niehoff hit over Jones' head in center field for a double, scoring Murphy, and scored himself when Haas hit the right field embankment for a triple. Niehaus drove Haas home with a single.

Durocher singled to start the eighth, Rogers sacrificed him to second, whereupon Bonnelly lost all control of the ball and passed Murphy Bonnelly, Brillheart took up the pitching and Niehoff. That was the end of Mr. Bonnelly's burden at this juncture. Haas hit a fly to Jones to start Brillheart on his matinee career and Durocher scored after the catch. Good, however, fanned.

The Chicks got two men on the paths in the sixth, but it meant nothing. Bonnelly hit safely with a looping fly which Murphy barely failed to reach and Jenkins was safe on the flukiest kind of a hit to Gilbert. Klugman forced Jenkins and Barber flied out.

With two men out in the ninth Barrett singled, but died at first when Rogers struck out Jones.

The same teams will do battle again this afternoon with Pug Cavet the probable selection for mound duty for the Crackers.

BEARS BEAT VOLS AGAIN.

Mobile, Ala., June 16.—Mobile defeated Nashville for the third straight game today, 11 to 3. The first game of a scheduled double-header was called off on account of wet grounds. The locals pounded Lindstrom hard in the second, driving him from the box. Ellis relieved him. Murray, with a big run lead behind him, had it easy. Camp, for Nashville, hit a home run in the fourth inning with no one on base.

PIRATES WIN, 6 TO 3.

Boston, June 16.—Pittsburgh pounded Genewich hard today to close their series with the Braves with a 6-to-3 win. Kiki Cuyler, who was responsible for four of his team's runs, has now hit safely in 22 consecutive games. Vic Aldridge was wild but was helped out of the hard places by two double plays.

Surprising Changes In Major League During Player Cut

Connie Mack Trades Two Players To Get Pitcher Ehmke From Boston—Yanks Obtain Services of Ray Carlyle, Also From Boston, On Waivers.

New York, June 16.—(AP)—The major league player market is closed until August 31.

In the last rush a few deals were made public, but the major transaction did not come from the New York Giants; it was engineered by none other than that slim veteran who has become a part of Philadelphia baseball benches—Connie Mack.

Mack's first move was to obtain Bill (Baby Doll) Jacobson from the St. Louis Browns for Edmund (Bing) Miller, both players being outfielders. Then he shifted Jacobson and Pitcher Bryan Harriss and Fred Heimach, right-hander and southpaw respectively, for Pitcher Howard Ehmke, of Boston, formerly of the Detroit mound staff.

At the same time, the New York Yankees gained the services of a much desired left-handed pinch hitter in Roy Carlyle through waiver from Boston.

Giants Get College Star.

Manager McGraw, of the Giants, announced the signing of the college pitcher, Al Smith, and the college outfielder, Joe Connell, both from Villa Nova. Catcher James Boyle, from St. Xavier's college, Cincinnati, also reported to the Giants. The previous day, McGraw exchanged outfielder Billy Southworth for Heinie Mueller, St. Louis Cardinal gardner.

Brooklyn has signed Jim Silver, former Notre Dame catcher and captain, who used to catch Ownie Carroll, formerly with Detroit and now with Toronto, when they were in preparatory school in Newark, N. J.

Washington announced the purchase of the Cuban left-hander, Emilo Palmero, from Columbus of the American association, while Cleveland released Pitcher Ace Weldon to Terre Haute and placed Catcher Chick Autrey and Pitcher Carl Yowell, now ill, on the retired list.

In parting with Jacobson, the Browns have dropped the second of the men who for seven years constituted on the greatest of hitting outfields. Jacobson's mates were Johnny Tobin, now with the Washington Senators, and Ken Williams, who remains with the Browns, but is said to be on the way elsewhere.

	Williams	Jacobson	Tobin
1919	.300	.323	.327
1920	.307	.355	.340
1921	.347	.352	.352
1922	.332	.317	.331
1923	.357	.309	.317
1924	.324	.318	.300
1925	.331	.341	.301

With three such sluggers in the outfield, St. Louis threatened for years, but was unable to follow through with the winning punch, despite the assistance of such a clubber as George Sisler. And now they have gone the way of the great Boston combination of a decade ago—Duffy Lewis, Tris Speaker and Harry Hooper—which, however, carried world pennants to the Bay State capital.

Howard Ehmke, who has been the ace of the Red Sox staff, is 31 years old. He appeared with Detroit first in 1916 but previous to that had served in the Federal league and Washington failed to claim him after peace came to baseball. Last year he won only nine and lost 20 for the Red Sox and who purchased him from the Tigers in 1923. He pitched a no-hit, no-run game against Philadelphia on September 7 of that year.

Harriss is 29 years old and Heimach 25. Both have been regarded as valued members of the Athletic staff.

Valdosta Slated To Win Golf Cup

Thomasville, Ga., June 16.—(Special.)—The winning by Valdosta of the golf match played with Th... ville last week makes it just about certain that the Valdosta team will be the winner of the cup this year in the Georgia-Florida league. It was the general opinion that the cup would go to that club for a permanent possession, with its winning three games, but it has been found that the rule of the club when organized was that it must be won in three consecutive seasons before it could belong permanently to a club, and as Valdosta missed winning it one season it will have to win it again next year before possessing it. If the club continues to play as it has been doing and the Oliver boys keep up their present line of play, the cup stands a good chance to be Valdosta property after all.

I'll say P.A. makes a bang-up cigarette

IF YOU have never made a cigarette with Prince Albert, I'd like to register right here that you've been missing something mighty good. You can quote me on this: a cigarette made with good old P. A. has 'em all stopped in the home-rolled line. It's the tobacco!

Prince Albert needs no paper-weight or pot-lid to keep it from blowing away when you roll it. You know what I mean . . . stays put in the papers. But that isn't the big point. It's the wonderful taste of a P. A.-rolled cigarette that bangs your smoke-spot for high score.

Cool as a parachute-jumper. Sweet as a stolen kiss. Fragrant as a pine-grove on a damp morning. I'd like to bet that you'll be rolling one right after another when you try P. A. Which will be soon, if I have made myself clear! Try rolling 'em with P. A. on my say-so.

If you're a pipe-smoker, Prince Albert will give you more pleasure that way too. I smoke it both ways—a few home-rolled cigarettes and then a pipe-load. A couple more cigarettes and then a pipe-load. And so on. Either way, P. A. is wonderful tobacco. It sure is, Men.

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins and toppy red bags. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

"Black Lady of Windsor Castle" Sought by Wales

:: PRINCE ORGANIZES GHOST HUNT ::

BY CHARLES M. M'CANN.

Ascot, England, June 16.—The Prince of Wales is reported to have organized an all-night ghost hunt as one of the diversions which will entertain the house party guests of King George and Queen Mary.

The ghost is known as the "Black Lady of Windsor Castle," said to be the spirit of Queen Elizabeth, which reappeared at the castle just about the time the guests of the king and queen arrived for Ascot week.

Initiates among the royal family generally, and attaches, and servants at the castle, are maintaining silence concerning the apparition. They do not wish to frighten unromantic or timid guests, and are also a little ashamed to confess that they believe, as many do, that the ghost really appeared.

But Wales has known of the apparition since childhood and has often wished that his distinguished ancestor would visit him during one of the prince's many visits here. As he is and developments are awaited.

a member of the house party, his wish may be gratified before the guests leave Windsor castle next Monday.

There is no bad luck legend attached to the "black lady." Most of the royal relatives, pensioners, attaches and servants who are permanent residents of the castle regard her as a friendly visitor, who sometimes makes nocturnal appearances for weeks after an absence of months or years.

The specter had been talked about for years before her first "authentic" appearance to Lieutenant Carr Glyn of the Grenadier Guards, in February, 1897. Officer of the day in charge of the castle guard, Glyn was whiling away an hour late one night in the queen's library when he saw the ghost —a veiled woman, in medieaval dress of black, walk past him and disappear into the next room. Princess Alice, Countess of Athlone, is one of the royal relatives reported to have seen the ghost.

Those at the house party are sworn to secrecy, but the story leaked out, prince's many visits here. As he is

Jay-Cees, Woman's Division Sponsor Picnic at Lakewood

Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and of the woman's division of the chamber of commerce and their guests will assemble at Lakewood amusement park at 6:30 o'clock tonight for a farewell picnic and dance to the delegation which will attend the National Junior Chamber convention in Jacksonville next week.

Final details of the entertainment will be announced at the luncheon meeting at the chamber of commerce at 12:15 o'clock today, when cards of admission to the picnic and dance will be issued.

Members of the committee include Paul Burt, Dr. H. B. Kennedy, Roy Harwell, Frank W. Harrison, W. C. Spinks, J. W. Ray, William Florence, Dr. S. L. Davis, O. C. Hathcock, R. M. Special entertainment for the evening between the time of the picnic supper and the beginning of the dance at 8 o'clock has been arranged by a committee composed of Baxter Maddox, Dr. S. L. Davis and J. H. Woody. A waltz contest and several novelty races have been included among social features, in addition to an excursion through amusement devices on the Midway.

SCHOOL FOR DRIVERS OF MOTOR CARS BEGINS

Sixty-five commercial and private automobile drivers of the city enlisted Wednesday night in the Atlanta Automobile school, in assembly hall No. 1, Chamber of Commerce building, according to George Diebert, secretary of the Atlanta Safety Council.

The school, which will consist of four lessons, one each Wednesday night at 8 o'clock, is being sponsored by the Atlanta Safety Council and diplomas will be presented by J. E. Skaggs, president of the council, at the close of the school, to drivers who successfully pass examinations.

Recorder Murphy M. Holloway, and Jesse M. Bohler, service manager for F. E. Maffett company, were principal speakers at the opening class Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

Judge Holloway spoke on Atlanta's traffic ordinances and their importance to pedestrians and motorists in curbing accidents.

Mr. Bohler spoke on the use of brakes, their care and importance. He also gave illustrations and instructions as to the proper adjustment of brakes.

The American Railway Express company had the largest representation of drivers present with 24. M. Rich and Brothers company was second with 12, Georgia Railway and Power company, Winchester-Simmons company, and General Outdoor Advertising company, each had five drivers present, the Coca-Cola company and Chamberlin-Johnson-Dubose had three drives each present and others represented various commercial and private parties.

The second safety school will be held next Wednesday night and Marcus A. Daw, past president of the company, will be principal speakers, and W. C. Rowe, safety engineer of the American Mutual Life Insurance National Safety council, of Chicago.

Rev. Bricker Favored Again as President Of Exchange Club

The Rev. L. O. Bricker, pastor of Peachtree Christian church, has been nominated for re-election as president of the Exchange club, it was announced following the regular weekly luncheon Tuesday at the Henry Grady hotel.

S. N. Griffin, of the Griffin-Hodges, construction company, first vice president, Dr. B. K. Vann, second vice president, E. N. Claughton, third vice president and L. S. Gilbert, secretary-treasurer, were other nominations announced.

Plans for a week-end outing were discussed at the luncheon following the principal talk by George P. Whitman, local attorney.

CLARKE COMMITTEE SETS PRIMARY RULES

Athens, Ga., June 16.—(Special.) Pursuant to the call made by Chairman Charles E. Martin, the meeting of the Clarke county democratic executive committee was held Monday at noon and rules and regulations governing the primary to be held on the date of the state primary, September 8, were adopted.

June 23, the same date set by the state committee, was the date set for the closing of the county entrants, members of the board of county commissioners being the only county officers to be nominated.

Entrance fees as follows were fixed: Congress, $50; superior court judge, $50; members state senate and legislature, $25; county commissioners, $10.

Candidates who have officially announced with notices in the press that they will enter the races are Congressman Charles H. Brand and Paul Brown for congress and Judge Blanton Fortson and James W. Arnold for judge of the superior court. Announcement for the senate, representative places and for the board of commissioners are expected at an early date.

Modernists Hit In Moody Sermon On 'Monkeyism'

There is nothing really modern in the so-called "modernist" efforts to upset the faith of the people in the literal truth of the Bible, it was asserted in his sermon on "Monkeyism" Wednesday night by the Rev. George Moody, evangelist, who is conducting the revival campaign in the tent tabernacle at the Whitehall-Peters-Park street intersection in West End.

"Arguments advanced by the so-called moderns are simply a rehash of those used by Voltaire, by Thomas Paine, by Ingersoll, all reciting the same unproved doubts in different language," the preacher declared.

"Evolution is being rejected by the most learned scientists of the world who have looked into it in their own laboratories and by the light of the massed knowledge of the world which they have at their finger tips, while little half-fledged country school teachers, like young Scopes, in my own home state, blatantly espouse it, blindly and without good reason of their own, because they think it sounds smart," Mr. Moody said.

The Biblical theory of creation, if taken literally, is as reasonable an explanation as the best the evolutionists can give, he said, because the complicated explanation of atheists works back finally to an unknown element, an unknown original cause that even the smartest of them has not explained, he said.

The revival campaign will continue through Sunday night of this week. The sermon at 7:30 o'clock tonight, following a prayer meeting at 7:15, will have the subject, "What Is Wrong With Atlanta?"

"I know that subject has been often preached on," said Rev. Moody, "but it is a long way from being exhausted yet."

WOMAN TREATED AFTER TAKING DOSE OF POISON

Mrs. Lois Johnson, 27, of 671 South Pryor street, was treated at Grady hospital Wednesday night as the result of swallowing poison, hospital records show. She did not tell doctors whether she took the poison by mistake or intentionally. Doctors requested that she be detained at the hospital, but upon request of her husband and herself, and after a release was signed, Mrs. Johnson was allowed to be taken to her home.

VEILED PROPHETS ELECT CLEVELAND JUDGE MONARCH

St. Louis, June 16.—(AP)—Judge Frederick P. Walther, of Cleveland, Ohio, today was elected grand monarch of the supreme council, Mystic Order, Veiled Prophets of the Enchanted Realm, in annual session here.

George A. Treadwell, of New Orleans, retiring president, in a report to the convention advised against the organization becoming "linked up in any way with the Ku Klux Klan," describing the grotto as a social organization to which any Blue Lodge Mason is eligible. He said:

"I think it far better that the M. O. V. P. E. R. should avoid anything which will lend color to the conclusion that there is any connection between Masonry and the Ku Klux Klan."

LOADING OF FREIGHT REGISTERS DECREASE

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Washington, June 16.—Loading of revenue freight for the week ended on June 5, totaled 945,964 cars, according to reports filed today by the carriers with the car service division of the American Railway association. This was a decrease of 135,200 cars under the preceding week this year, due to the observance of a holiday, decreases being reported in the total loading of all commodities.

Compared with the corresponding week last year, the total for the week of June 5 was a decrease of 52,279 cars, but an increase of 35,171 cars above the corresponding week in 1924. Figures for the week ended June 5, 1925 and 1924, do not include May 30 holiday.

Miscellaneous freight loading for the week of June 5 totaled 347,993 cars, a decrease of 58,084 cars under the week before and 19,590 cars under the same week in 1925. It was, however, an increase of 30,043 cars above the same week in 1924.

INDUSTRIAL BUREAU IS PLANNED IN ROME

Rome, Ga., June 16.—(Special)—Creation of an industrial bureau to be financed and operated independent of the chamber of commerce but in close cooperation with that organization was considered by the foreign industries group of the chamber in regular monthly session today. The executive committee of the group, composed of O. P. Willingham, chairman, M. S. Lanier, director, John M. Graham, H. F. Kelley, G. F. Nixon and Julian Cumming, was authorized to draft a plan for such a bureau to be submitted to the board of directors.

Chairman Willingham said that he believed the industrial bureau plan, which had been proposed some time ago by Mr. Lanier, was a good one and that the chamber of commerce should put it into effect. Barry Wright, past president of the chamber, outlined the plan.

Candidate for Judge.

Rome, Ga., June 16.—(Special)—Judge W. J. Nunnally, prominent Roman, has announced as a candidate for judge of Floyd city court, subject to the democratic primary September 8. The incumbent is Judge John W. Bale.

Judge Nunnally has been a citizen of Floyd county for 50 years, having moved here from Monroe, Walton county. He attended the John C. Proctor school and Mercer university where he graduated as honor law student. He was admitted to the bar in 1884. He presided as judge of the city court for two terms and has been solicitor general for the Rome circuit of superior court, holding that position seven years. He has also been a member of the general assembly.

Rush New Plant.

Rome, Ga., June 16.—(Special.)—Work is being completed on the new office of the Standard Stove & Range company on the Alabama road, and is going ahead rapidly on the construction of the new plant at that point. The Standard is the fifth stove foundry to locate in Rome and is organized entirely with local capital, the board and management being entirely composed of local men.

Formal organization was completed on March 22, with a capitalization of $100,000 of which $87,000 had been subscribed. At this time Reuben N. Towers was elected president of the new company with M. S. Lanier as vice president. W. F. Barron was chosen secretary and E. P. Grant made treasurer and general manager of the company. Members of the board are Ralph L. Wilson, Dr. George Smith, Charles R. Porter, George T. Watts and Barry Wright.

Plans have been adopted and are under execution to build a modern, fireproof building. Patterns are being made in the temporary quarters of the various types of cook stoves, ranges and heaters, which will be manufactured at this plant.

LAST SERVICES HELD FOR CRASH VICTIM

Funeral services for Harry F. Lovelace, 22, of 79 Waddell street, who died Tuesday morning at a private hospital, as the result of injuries received Tuesday morning, June 8, in an automobile crash on Ponce De Leon avenue, were held Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from Sacred Heart church. Father Hassen officiated and interment was in Hollywood cemetery.

Pallbearers were William Van Houten, Hilary Cole, Alphone Lambert, H. Amorous Dean, Burke Van Houten and William Lambert.

Mr. Lovelace is survived by his mother, Mrs. Annie F. Lovelace; a sister, Mrs. W. M. Simmons, and two brothers, J. L. Lovelace and J. P. Lovelace, of Birmingham, Ala.

Mr. Lovelace is the second victim of the crash, between an automobile and street car. Joseph Troy Harris, a companion of Lovelace, of 42 Fairhaven circle, who was hurt, dying Sunday.

PAIR FOUND GUILTY OF LIQUOR THEFTS

Indianapolis, Ind., June 16.—(AP)—Bruce Osthimer, delicatessen proprietor, and Walter Ewing, negro tailor, were found guilty by a jury in federal court of conspiracy in connection with the theft of W. P. Squibb & Co. bonded liquor. The liquor was alleged to have been removed from the basement of the federal building here where it was stored after confiscation from a distillery at Lawrenceburg, Ind. Removal of the liquor was the subject of comment in congress by Representative Laguardia, progressive socialist, of New York, several weeks ago.

Osthimer and Ewing were convicted on the testimony of three negroes, veteran federal employees, who confessed complicity in the conspiracy to remove the liquor from its storage place in the federal building.

The five men will be sentenced Saturday.

Papal Legate and Eight Cardinals Reach Chicago Today for Catholic Meet

Welcome to Prelates Will Be Non-Sectarian; Spectacular Parade to Cathedral To Be Held.

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Chicago, Ill., June 16.—With the arrival in the city tomorrow of Cardinal John Bonzano and his eight brother cardinals, Chicago begins its series of celebrations in connection with the twenty-eighth international eucharistic congress.

While the official program of the congress does not start until Sunday, there will hardly be an hour from then until June 24 when some ceremony or another will not be in progress.

When the papal legate and his companions step from the special cardinal train that brings them from New York at a specially constructed station at 11 a. m., the bells of all the Catholic churches in the city will ring out their welcome. To emphasize that the welcome to the visiting prelates is a non-denominational one, steam whistles, sirens, and the bells of locomotives will join in the noisy greeting, which will continue as the cardinals and the other prelates pass down Michigan avenue on their way to the Holy Name Cathedral, Superior and State streets, where brief services are to be held.

Buildings Decorated.

The streets through which the cardinals will pass will afford evidence that Chicagoans of all faiths are joining in the welcome which is to be given them. They will find the entire city gaily decorated with the papal gold and white and the red, white, and blue, of the "Star Spangled Banner." Practically every building along Michigan avenue and most of the big ones in the Loop were decorated today in anticipation of the arrival of the cardinals.

The parade which will escort the cardinals through the streets will itself be one of the spectacles of the congress. More than 6,000 persons will comprise the escort to Cardinal Bonzano and his companions. The parade will form in Michigan avenue, south of Eleventh street, ready to start the moment the cardinals leave the train and receive the first informal welcomes from Cardinal Mundelein and Mayor Dever at the special platform which has been constructed for that purpose.

After the short ceremonies in the cathedral, the parade will proceed to the Drake hotel, where most of the cardinals will live while they are in Chicago. Cardinal Mundelein will proceed to the archepiscopal residence at North State street and North avenue, where Cardinal Bonzano will be the guest of the archdiocese.

There will be plenty of color in the parade. The boy scouts and the delegates to the congress will wear the costumes of many nations, the cardinals in their resplendent robes will be surrounded by the uniformed Knights of Columbus in their plumed chapeaux and the purple of the monsignori who will accompany the cardinals and the brilliant uniforms of the Knights of St. Gregory who are their attendants, will make a brilliant spectacle.

Arriving with the cardinals on the special cardinal train will be a number of prelates of hardly less distinction. Among them are several members of the papal household, who are members of Cardinal Bonzano's private party.

Oriental Reunion.

One of the most important meetings of the eucharistic congress is settled for Wednesday, June 23, when the oriental section meets for a discussion on the reunion of the Roman Catholic church and the separate oriental churches. The meeting will be held at St. Nicholas church.

The separation of the two churches dates back to the ninth century, when the eastern church, now known as the orthodox Greek or Russian churches, left the jurisdiction of Rome and recognized the patriarch of Constantinople as its head. The question of papal supremacy has always been the stumbling block in the way of a reunion, and it is said that Pope Pius' one wish in life is to see the day when the difference between the two churches could be bridged over and a permanent reconciliation effected. This is regarded as one of the chief aims of the present congress.

CARDINALS GIVEN ROUSING SEND-OFF.

New York, June 16.—(AP)—New York today waved farewell to nine red-hatted cardinals who left to attend the eucharistic congress at Chicago, and greeted more than 200 foreign delegates arriving from abroad.

The cardinals, who departed on a special train of seven red Pullman cars fitted with every luxury and in charge of a crew of Catholics, were given a farewell that rivaled the ovation given them yseterday at city hall.

The concourse of Grand Central Terminal was thronged with thousands who struggled with police for the privilege of kissing the rings of the cardinals, especially that of cardinal Bonzano, the papal legate.

The cardinals' party numbered 74, of which only four were civilians. There were four archbishops, seven bishops and monsignori and lesser prelates.

The cardinals in the party were: Cardinal Bonzano, papal legate; Cardinal Hayes, archbishop of New York; Cardinal O'Donnel, archbishop of Armagh and primate of Ireland; Cardinal Reigy Casinova, archbishop of Toledo; Cardinal Charost, archbishop of Rennes; Cardinal Dubois, archbishop of Paris; Cardinal Piffl, archbishop of Vienna; Cardinal Czernoch, archbishop of Stringonia, and Cardinal Faulhaber, archbishop of Munich.

HUNDREDS TO ATTEND GARDEN HILLS 'CUE

Several hundred prominent Atlantans have accepted invitations to attend the big barbecue which directors of the Garden Hills corporation will give in honor of Fulton county commissioners next Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

One of the city's recognized specialists in the preparation of barbecued meats and brunswick stew has been engaged to prepare the big outdoor repast which will be held in Sunny Brook park at Garden Hills, it is said. There also will be a band concert.

Sunny Brook park, noted for its natural woodland beauty, provides an ideal spot for such an occasion as the directors have contemplated. It is amply shaded and is equipped with many benches and swings, and special tables and benches are being provided for this event.

NO RAINS TODAY, SAYS WEATHERMAN; SLIGHTLY COOLER

Clouds today will keep the thermometer down to an average summer level but there will be no rain, A. H. Scott, assistant meteorologist for Atlanta, predicted Wednesday night.

"The day will be only partially cloudy and there is no indications of rain," he said. "The thermometer will not go so high today and ordinary summer weather may be expected."

The minimum temperature for Wednesday was 69 degrees and the highest recorded was 92 degrees. Today high and low marks will be about 72 and 90 degrees, Mr. Scott said.

The Washington bureau forecast for the state at large is for showers today and Friday.

PEACH BELT GETS HEAVY RAINS.

Macon, Ga., June 16.—(AP)—There was heavy rain throughout the middle Georgia peach belt this afternoon, and a heavy rain in Macon and this section tonight. Although official reports from the weather bureau were not obtainable it was estimated that there was close to an inch of rainfall here in 30 minutes tonight.

TAG DAY PLANNED BY NEGRO CHURCH

Wheat Street Baptist church will hold a tag day June 19, to raise funds to help pay a $5,000 note on the church which is past due. Authority to hold the tag day was voted by city council at a recent meeting. The old Wheat street church was burned during the fire of 1917.

The pastor of the church, Rev. P. James Bryant, is making an appeal to the public to help the institution in its efforts to provide a common meeting place for negroes of Atlanta for all religious, civic and charitable movements. The pastor recently suffered a stroke of paralysis but a committee of church workers will conduct the tag day appeal.

Amusements

Coming to the Atlanta.

Lou Powers, the famous comedian of Ziegfeld's "Sally" in its two seasons here, will have a great opportunity all next week at the Atlanta theater as Colonel Popoff in "The Chocolate Soldier." It is one of the funniest roles in musical comedy and Mr. Powers' work at rehearsals promises that he will make it as famous as his role in "Sally."

"The Chocolate Soldier" will open the comic opera season next Monday night and run through the week, with performances every night and Wednesday and Saturday afternoons. The Wednesday matinee will be popular-priced, with the highest seats at $1, and they promise to sell out far in advance.

At the Forsyth.

Snappy comedy punctuated by memorable song numbers and plenty of sparkling specialties is being offered by the new Forsyth players with Don Lanning at the Forsyth theater this week in "Very Good Eddie," one of the most popular of all musical comedies. The company, larger by reason of two additions since last week, has the vim and dash that marks a high-class aggregation and those who saw the first week's play are advised by all means to return this week and see "Very Good Eddie." There is quite a difference.

Don Lanning in the part of "Eddie;" Sena Thomas, Fred Brigman, Milton Reick, Edna Jacques and Ruth Tester all have fine parts and their work adds much to the hilarious story of mishaps and tangles.

Loew's Grand.

This week's vaudeville bill is headed by "The Surprise Revue" with Fletcher and Clayton and a jazz band as the principal features. The revue includes all kinds of singing and dances and also a pleasing program of musical selections by the band. Other pleasing acts on the bill are Murry and Maddox, who present a bright little comedy skit; Wyeth and Wynn, in "Youth, Pep and Personality;" Thornton and Carlton in a comedy skit entitled "Not Now," and John Clark and company in a daring balancing and tumbling novelty. The Loew picture is "Beverly of Graustark," with Marion Davies.

The Rialto.

Rod LaRocque is seen as a down-and-out war veteran who insures his life for $100,000 in favor of a rum runner and as part of the bargain agrees to kill himself in one year, in his new picture "Red Dice," which is at the Rialto theater this week. Marguerite De La Motte is leading woman.

Supplementing the feature picture are several short but entertaining films, including the Hal Roach comedy "Dizzy Daddies" and Pathe News reel, which changes on Thursday.

The Metropolitan.

Harry Langdon can testify to the exorbitant price of shoe leather. After wearing out several dozens of shoes in his latest and first feature length picture, "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," playing at the Metropolitan theater this week, he feels that he will not be one of the contestants in the next transcontinental walking race held.

In his feature picture Harry is seen as the admirer of Betty Burton, daughter of Burton, the shoe king, who is sponsoring a walking race from coast to coast and Harry is prevailed upon by Betty to enter the race.

In the course of the race, Harry encounters practically every obstacle which could afflict a walker and he emerges from the contest in the lead. He is also leading contestant for the girl's hand. On the stage this week George McNulty, tenor, sings "So Is Your Old Lady," with a novely reel and comedy completing the program.

The Howard.

"Oh! What a Nurse!" which is playing at the Howard theater all this week, was written by Robert E. Sherwood, the motion picture critic and editor of "Life," in collaboration with Bertram, Bloch. They have evolved a gorgeous, gay and rollicking story, with Syd Chaplin always in the thick of the ridiculous mixups with bootleggers, a runaway heiress and a scheming match-maker.

Jacques Cartier, who appears in a sensational Indian dance in John Murray Anderson's revue, "The Fountain of Gold," this week's stage presentation, decided at the outset of his professional career to lay its foundations on authentic information concerning the native dances which he chose to interpret for his audiences. His Indian dance reveals a thorough study of the religious superstitions, together with their bodily interpretations, of the aboriginal American.

Tudor Theater.

Bill Cody, who stars in "The Galloping Cowboy," which opens for a three-day run at the Tudor today, literally rode a bucking horse right into motion pictures, for it was while doubling for a star in a horse bucking scene that his remarkable horsemanship first came to light.

In "The Galloping Cowboy" he portrays the role of a carefree nephew of a rich ranch owner who gets into trouble through celebrating in town when he should have been out on the range, busts into a band of outlaws and has a mighty scrap to save himself and the girl he had met and had fallen in love with.

In addition to the action in the picture, there is the tremendous cattle stampede which is one of the greatest ever shown on the silver sheet.

West End Theater.

When you sit fascinated by the grandeur of the Colorado mountains, thrilled by the exciting plot of a picture, made tender with the lovers in the story and joyous with the comedy, then you're thoroughly enjoying a photoplay.

And all this is what will happen to the audiences at the West End theater today and tomorrow, where "The Limited Mail," a picturization of Elmer Vance's melodrama, is playing. It is one of the most satisfying pictures of the year. Monte Blue, Vera Reynolds and Willard Louis have the principal roles.

5 PERSONS PERISH AS SLEEPER BURNS

Los Angeles, June 16.—(AP)—Five persons were burned to death and upwards of 30 others escaped unhurt early today when fire of undetermined origin turned a cross country tourist sleeper into an inferno of flame at Crystal Siding, Nev.

Mrs. J. G. King, of Drummond, Mont., a bride of nine days, who was on a honeymoon trip with her husband, a railroad clerk, was the only victim identified tonight. King escaped by leaping through a window.

The unidentified bodies were those of two women, one man and a child. All have been removed to Las Vegas, Nev., where a coroner's inquest will be held Thursday.

Passengers aboard the car said they were aroused from sleep by the flames which spread so quickly that they could not reach the doors and had to jump out of windows to safety.

The destroyed tourist sleeper was part of the Continental Limited, which left Los Angeles last night for Salt Lake City.

MERCHANT SLAIN BY DRUNKEN MAN, WHO KILLS SELF

Kingsport, Tenn., June 16.—(AP)—John Hartsock, 25, merchant at Albert, Tenn., 18 miles east of this city, was shot and almost instantly killed there at 4 o'clock this afternoon by Robert Adams who then turned his gun on himself and ended his own life.

Adams, a victim of tuberculosis, was said to have been under the influence of liquor at the time of the tragedy. Barring a reprimand he had received at the hands of Hartsock more than a year ago when he raised a disturbance in his store Adams had had no other altercation or communication with his victim of today.
